HUGE VIGILANCE COMMITTEE WILL PURSUE BANDITS

Commercial and Professional Men Form Organization to Break Up Gang of Omaha Automobile Thieves.

A huge vigilance committee, made up of representatives of the various civic organizations of Omaha, with leaders in all of the different commercial, industrial and professional activities of the city as members, is being formed for the purpose of putting a stop to automobile stealing in Omaha.

Work in perfecting the new vigi-lance committee has been in progress for weeks and it is believed a meeting of the men proposed for member-ship will be called within the next 2 hours for the purpose of outlining a program and mapping out a plan of campaign that will result in permanently breaking up the gang of orautomobile thieves and "fences" which has had its headquarters here, and which, during the three years it has been operating has confiscated automobile property belonging to Omaha citizens and residents of Nebraska and Iowa towns to the value of hundreds of thousands

Through the activity of the police department, resulting from pitile... publicity given to conditions here, automobile thefts in Omaha have decreased from an average of 8 per day to comparatively nothing. There has not been a report of a stolen car made In the meantime the department of the month.

Police Are Capable. This proves to the persons interested in the organization of the new vigilance committee that the police can intelligently cope with the situation if they are permitted to do so without hindrance to their efficiency and it is to secure this efficiency and procure permanent results that the new organization is being brought

The new organization will co-oper ate with the police and with all other agencies that are designed to cope with the problem of wholesale auto mobile stealing and the promoters feel confident of obtaining such permanent results as will make it hazardous and dangerous for riminals or their abettors to engage in the business in the future.

It is understood that one of the purposes of the new civic organization is to vigorously aid in the prosecution of this class of criminals, of every shade and degree of turpitude, and let none who are guilty escape

The organization is being perfected through the civic branches of Chamber of Commerce and related

W. B. Lano says, in his petition for divorce, filed Friday in district court, that his wife, Helen, refused to come from Chicago and live with him in Omaha when he secured a position here in June, 1917. In July, 1918, he alleges, she came here, took a room at a hotel, telephoned to him and when he appeared, beat him and heaped unsayory epithets upon him. He is willing to give her alimony but wants a divorce.

Charge Food Violation to

Election Tour of Manager Representatives of the Columbus Bottling works entered a plea of guilty to charges of violating the food administration's sugar rules Friday. The infraction was explained as either a clerical error or ignorance of the regulations on the part of the office

The manager of the company, busily engaged in a campaign for state representative, knew nothing of the infraction until summoned before the food administration,

The company was ordered to use no more sugar for the balance of the month and the allowance was decreased 20 per cent for the next month. They voluntarily contributed $250 to the Red Cross.

Council Refuses Contract

City council voted against awarding to an Evansville, Ind., firm a three-year contract to permit placing 50 trash receptacles at down town corners. The proposed terms were that the company would place the receptacles without cost to the city and would collect revenue for advertising space,

Garbage Issue Still Daily Subject With Omaha City Council

Like a certain ghost of dramatic renown, the garbage question will not down, wherefore the city commissioners are lugubrious.

Two weeks ago the council awarded James Whalen a contract for buying at $2.55 per ton all gar-bage hauled by the city. Mr. Wha-len has advised the city that he will not enter into a contract.

Commissioner Ringer, who has charge of the garbage department, submitted to the council a resolution in which he proposed that the city shall establish a hog-feeding yard and use the garbage hauled by the city. He proposed that the yard should hold 5,000 hogs and that the city planning board draw the plans. The resolution was voted down.

Commissioner Butler renewed his proposal that the city vote bonds for incinerators. Mayor Smith suggested that new bids shall be advertised for.

The garbage question will not men in military service will be promoted by Miss Tobit, public librarian. She believes that this is an opportune time for such a drive, as many are moving from their summer to their winter homes and do not wish to be burdened by extra books.

Miss Tobit wishes to emphasize that only interesting books are desired. War books such as Gerard's "Four Years in Germany," and other recent publications are much in demand among the soldiers.

"A better class of books are being offered for our soldiers," said Miss Tobit, "but at first we received some very funny volumes. ALLEGED "KING" OF AUTO THIEVES FOUND GUILTY

Children Identify Izze Firsche as the Man Who Stole Brunning Auto from Street.

Izze Firsche, alleged "king" of auto bandits, was arraigned in police court Friday morning on a charge of grand larceny, in connection with the theft of an automobile belonging to Julius I. Brunning, a farmer, living on rural route No. 4, South Side. This was the fourth time within two weeks that Firsche has been arraigned in connection with auto thefts in Oowetch Brunning, 13-year-old daughter of Brunning, testified that on August 2 she was sitting in her father's automobile, which was parked at Seventeenth and Dodge streets, when a man answering Firsche's description came to the car and told her to go and help her mother, who was shopping in Hayden's store, carry some bundles. She said she was he Standard Oil company of Indiana afraid of the man and went into the store to find her mother. When she and her mother returned a few minutes later the car was missing. It has not been recovered. Her brother. Francis, 10 years old, also testified that he had seen the same man loitering about the machine shortly before it was stolen. Firsche was bound to the district court on a $2,000 bond.

On August 13 Firsche was bound over to the district court on two charges of grand larceny for the alleged theft of automobiles. The bond was fixed at $1,000 on each count On August 13 he was arraigned on a charge of receiving stolen property, after testimony showed a stolen car had been recovered by detectives in a garage which Firsche had rented.
