

REED COMES UP READY TO BOOST FOR OTHER MAN

Attorney General Admits Morehead Won and Is Entitled to Full Support; Taylor Likes Result

From a Staff Correspondent.
Lincoln, Aug. 23.—(Special.)—Attorney General Willis E. Reed is back on the job. "I did the best I could under the circumstances," he said, "but Governor Morehead proved to be the best runner and the only thing to do is to come up smiling and help elect him." The attorney general sent the following telegram to the ex-governor this morning: "The big vote you have received must be very pleasing indeed. You are clearly the democratic choice and under all rules of the game entitled to full support. I congratulate you."

Ex-Governor Morehead was at the state house a short time today and paid his respects to Governor Neville. Governor Morehead said he had not seen Mr. Metcalfe's swan song appearing in the papers today. State Auditor W. H. Smith made little canvass of the Fourth congressional district, but his vote for the democratic nomination for congress indicates that he is well known. H. G. Taylor of the railway commission is another runner who ran wisely and well, although his election was contested by a strong man. He is, of course, pleased with his majority.

Deputy Secretary of State Hugh Cooper is in the happy condition of not knowing whether he is nominated or not. Mr. Gatewood, his nearest opponent, is pushing him close and it may need the entire count to disclose the winner.

Deputy Auditor Fred Ayres is probably defeated by E. P. Mumford.

Big Wyoming Ranchmen on Visit to Omaha Stock Yards

Tim Kinney, central figure in the above picture, is the sheep king of Wyoming, and at one time had a flock of 200,000 on the immense ranges he controlled.

Kinney's life story is stranger than fiction. He came to this country an emigrant from Ireland, with only a few English pounds in his pockets for a financial start. Like most of the Irishmen of that period, he engaged in railroad work and came to Omaha in pioneer days.

He was at one time offered the place of local agent for the Union Pacific road, but the amount of cash he would have to handle in a day frightened him. He was afraid of the responsibility of accounting for a few thousand dollars. Now he owns and handles millions.

Mr. Kinney is over three-score years of age and has retired from active business life, his interests being looked after by his son, Joseph. The aged man finds as much zest in life as he did in his youth. He is a practical philanthropist and delights in starting young men out in life and assisting them in gaining success.

FOURTH DISTRICT RACE IS TIGHTEST YET UNDECIDED

Neck-and-Neck Contest Between McLaughlin and McMullen, Republicans, for Congress

Belated election returns from Tuesday's primary election indicated that M. O. McLaughlin of York was slightly in the lead of Adam McMullen of Wymore as republican candidate in the Fourth congressional district. United States Senator George W. Norris, who was renominated republican candidate for the United States senate, late returns show a lead of about 5,600 over Congressman Charles H. Sloan and Ross L. Hammond of Fremont.

Hammond is now second, having a plurality over Sloan in 1,478 precincts of 108 votes. Out of 1,478 precincts heard from Sloan has 14,639 and Hammond has 14,747 to 20,253 for Norris.

Will S. Jay, republican, has lost his lead over Amsberry for secretary of state. Jay has 21,560 votes and Amsberry, 21,901 in 56 counties. Hugh L. Cooper, democrat, for secretary of state, has 9,922, and Gatewood, his nearest competitor, has 9,306.

Confirm Death Report of Lt. Manderson "Bud" Lehr

Official notification of the death of Lt. Manderson "Bud" Lehr has been received from the War department by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Lehr of Albion. He was killed in action July 15.

Lt. Lehr was born in Petersburg, Neb., in 1895, later moving to Albion, where he graduated from the high school. He was a student at Beloit college at the time he enlisted in the French ambulance corps in 1917. Ambulance driving failed to provide sufficient thrill for this red blooded American boy and he asked for and was granted a transfer to the Lafayette Escadrille. He was advanced to the rank of corporal in the French army, and decorated with the Croix de Guerre, when the United States entered the war and he transferred to the forces of his native land. He ranked as a lieutenant in the American aviation section at the time of his death and had engaged in many thrilling raids over the German lines before he was killed. He gave his all that the allies should reign supreme in the air.

Germans May Melt Statue of General Von Steuben

Amsterdam, Aug. 23.—There is much discussion among the people of Potsdam whether the bronze statue of General von Steuben of American revolutionary fame, which stands in the Kommandantur gardens in Potsdam, shall go to the melting pot as a reprisal for the Americans having melted Emperor William's gift to them of the statue of Frederick the Great. It will be recalled that the Steuben statue, which bears a dedication from the United States congress, was a return gift made in 1911 for the Frederick the Great statue.

DUNN LACKS FIVE VOTES OF ENOUGH TO WIN PRIMARY

Soldier Vote Gives Former Police Chief Twenty Votes, but He Needed Twenty-Five to Beat.

Canvass of the soldier vote for Douglas county in the First commissioner district yesterday gave the republican nomination to Henry S. McDonald over Henry W. Dunn by a vote of 630 to 626.

The soldiers did their best for Dunn, increasing his unofficial total by 20 votes and giving McDonald only four additional. The vote before stood Dunn, 606; McDonald, 626, and Dunn will have to receive five more votes on the official count to win.

No soldier votes were cast for commissioner in the second district in the contest between Fred Bruning and Charles F. Kuncl. Kuncl, therefore, on the unofficial count wins the republican nomination by four votes.

O'Hara in Lead.

In the democratic county attorney race Abbott gained eight votes over O'Hara in the soldier vote as reported by the secretary of state, making O'Hara five in the lead for the nomination, according to the unofficial count.

On Thursday O'Hara stood 1,938 against 1,925 for Abbott. Adding 38 soldier votes for Abbott and 30 votes for O'Hara, the vote now is 1,968 for O'Hara and 1,963 for Abbott. The official canvass will be necessary to determine the nominee in this race.
