STATE SPEAKERS' INSTITUTE NOW IN SESSION HERE

Mrs. Emma Byers, Chicago, Addresses First Meeting; Discuss New Fund Drive for Y. W. C. A.

The Nebraska Speakers' institute held a special session Tuesday afternoon at the Hotel Fontenelle under the leadership of Mrs. Emma the War department. Byers of the central division of the Young Women's Christian association scheduled to preside but resigned the chair to Mrs. Byers.

The budget items into which the Women's Christian association drive will be divided formed the basis of the will be divided formed the basis of and discussion. "It is easy," explained Mrs. Byers, "for the business man law was a newspaper reporter. much money as we are asking for the various branches of the work, but a study of the needs in each branch will convince them of the necessity of the money.'

It was the aim of the meeting to acquaint the speakers thoroughly in the work being done in each branch, so that they may show the public just what the Young Women's Christian association is doing. Mrs. W. J. Calkins of Decatur, Neb., spoke of the work among the girls engaged in war industries. Proper living conditions, recreation and chaperonage are the things the association is supplying and which the government depends on them for, according to Mrs. Calkins.

Mrs. Bowman Speaks.

Mrs. W. A. Bowman discussed the Cross. work among the foreign born women. She explained that the association had been able to accomplish an enormous amount of good through people who spoke the language of the foreign born, explaining to them the aims of the government and what the war is about. "I suggest that, when more of these foreign speaking workers are secured, we request one for Omaha," she said in closing, and the suggestion elicited great applause.

Mrs. C. E. Johannes told of her experiences as a hostess house worker at Camp Pike.

The use of a stomach pump Tues- Hill cemetery. day afternoon to dislodge a nickel from the throat of Margaret Sorensen, five-year-oid girl, living at 2854 Lake street, was unsuccessful and an operation may be necessary.

Margaret swallowed the nickel two weeks ago. An X-ray picture was taken to show the location of the coin.

The little girl will be placed on a five-day diet and, at the end of that time, Dr. J. R. Dwyer, who has charge of the case, will perform an operation on her throat. Cutting into the throat, he says, is a serious undertaking and will be used only in case all other means of dislodging the coin fail.
