

TWO HUSBANDS CLAIM LUCILLE; IS UP TO POLICE

Pretty Divorcee, Actor and Auto Man in Love Triangle; the Woman Gone.

Police were called upon last night to solve an eternal triangle problem and after wrestling with it for an hour or so threw up their hands and announced they were baffled.

A pretty divorcee, Lucille McCormick, formerly Lucille Bryant, who lived with her mother, Mrs. Curtis Arms, 3108 South Eighteenth street, L. McCormick, an automobile mechanic, 1916 South Sixteenth street, and LeRoy Pomeroy, an actor, who goes under the headline of "Daring Dick, the Fearless Daredevil of the Air," at a local theater this week, are the principals in a three-cornered affair, that would puzzle a Philadelphia lawyer.

Both men claim to be the husband of the pretty and vivacious Lucille. Pomeroy says he married her in St. Louis, May 18, 1916, and lived with her until within a few months ago when a little family jar took place and he sent her to Omaha. Then McCormick appeared on the scene, gave Lucille the once over, decided she would make him a good helpmeet and proposed marriage. They were married in Omaha, June 8, 1918. She left him July 28, after less than two months of connubial bliss.

Meets First Love.

Last Sunday "Daring Dick, the Fearless Daredevil of the Air" arrived in Omaha, met Lucille, and patched up their little difficulty. They made their home for the time being at the Dodge hotel, 107 South Thirtieth street, registering as husband and wife. A brother of McCormick found them in each other's company on the street and trouble started. Lucille, evidently finding herself in bad with her late husband, and fearing his wrath, rushed to the hotel and registered as Lucille McCormick.

Last night the husbands came together. Both were wrathful but no blood was shed and after arguing the matter over between themselves finally agreed to leave it to the police for adjudication. In the meantime a search was made for Lucille, but she had departed for parts unknown, and until she is found the problem will remain unsolved.

McCormick, some time ago filed suit for divorce. Pomeroy declared that he thought Lucille had procured a divorce from him. He had a photograph of the marriage certificate services in St. Louis. Neither McCormick nor Pomeroy appeared to want Lucille as a mate and both were apparently anxious to get rid of her. The only advice they could get at the police station was to put the matter in the hands of County Attorney Magney.

Registered Men May Enlist in School of Aviation Mechanics

There is now an opportunity for registered men not in class one to train as aviation mechanics. In the Army building there will be for about two weeks, or until they obtain 250 men, a board of examiners from the Aviation Mechanics school at St. Paul, Lt. George P. Ames is in charge.

Navy Lads Nearly Lost Out on That Pie Feast

The old adage, "Don't put off till tomorrow what you can do today," is much in vogue at the navy recruiting station and with good reason. The day yielded a rich harvest to the recruiting office. There were 20 splendid pies delivered Wednesday afternoon to Ensign Condit for his sailor boys. Mouths fairly watered at the sight of them. But it was late in the afternoon and after a council of war it was decided to save the feast till the next day.

Omaha Scout Leader Goes to Pittsburgh As Playground Head

C. H. English, executive of the boy scouts of Omaha, will leave within a week to take the position of superintendent of public playgrounds in Pittsburgh, Pa. He came to Omaha a few years ago to be superintendent of playgrounds under J. B. Hummel, former city commissioner. He quit the service of the city to take charge of the local boy scouts.

America Must Supply Great Amounts of Foodstuffs

For the year beginning September 1, the allies must have 500,000,000 bushels of cereals for human consumption, 4,000,000,000 pounds of fats and fat products, 1,500,000 tons of sugar and 900,000,000 pounds of beef. The United States must furnish the greater part of this; then with an estimated army of nearly 3,000,000 by June, the task of the United States becomes infinitely greater.

"It is the greatest call for foods the United States has ever undertaken," says Hoover. "But we can do it if we have the will to live with every economy and to waste nothing. By so doing it will work no hardships on us."

CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

Heal Itching Burning Pimples and Blisters.

"Itching and burning affected my hands, on my fingers and between them, and then they broke out in pimples and blisters. My hands were red and inflamed and swelled up, and were worse when in water. The eruption itched and burned and caused disfigurement for the time being. I could not do my regular work.

"They bothered about four or five weeks when I tried a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. It seemed to help so I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and now my hands are healed." (Signed) Edward Rivers, Burt, Mich.

Use these super-creamy emollients for every-day toilet purposes and prevent distressing troubles.

Name Best Free Trial. Address post-card: "Cuticura, Dept. N. Boston." Sold everywhere. Soap 2c. Ointment 25c and 50c. Talcom 10c.

a. m. to 9 p. m. The library will be closed all day Monday on account of Labor day and will be closed on Sundays during September. A brisk demand for good books has kept up during the summer and many busy readers prefer to borrow the current magazines, twenty-five or the high-priced monthlies being loaned for home use.

The library hall has been thoroughly house-cleaned. The ceiling, walls, woodwork, windows and floors have been scrubbed this week and the whole room made immaculate for the Red Cross workers, who expect to return to their work early in September.
