Dealings were the isrgest and most varied of any session since the inception of the recent rise, many leaders making high rec-ords of the year and a few others ex-ceeding all previous maximums. War news over the week-end furnished the chief incentive, this being augmented during the day by bulletins which em-phasized the szient of the German reireat. Washington's recognition of the Czecho-Slovak faction was accepted as a further clarification of military and political con-ditions in cestern Europe. AT LIBERTY BAZAAR Peasant Cap of Great Age, Beautiful Foreign Embroideries and Ancient Books Are Displayed.

One of the interesting things on sale at the Czecho-Slovak bazaar in the Auditorium is the headdress of a Bohemian peasant woman. This is more than 125 years old and a piece of needlework of great beauty. The linen shows little signs of age. This cap is the property of Rose Rositzky. There are beautiful lace caps, handmade aprons and embroidered dresses among the articles for sale which were all made by the Bohemian women of Omaha.

HMelen Stenicka, 16 years old, and her sister, May, 11 years old, made 200 doll hats which they were selling at a booth at the bazaar. Their mother, Mrs. Charles Stenicka, keeps a millinery shop, and it was there that the sisters learned how to fashion the hats. At first the girls made the hats to earn money to buy Christmas gifts and during the holidays their mother gave them a corner of the window to make their display. The girls spent their spare moments for three weeks making the hats. Each one is made with great care. The designs were copied from papers and magazines and some were originated by the girls. The Rev. V. Cejnar has a priceless collection of Bohemian books on display. Among the most interesting is a book of sermons published in 1586 by the Bohemian Brethren church. It was buried in the ground during the persecutions. Later, when it was dug up) a portion of it was stolen. A number of books are bound in silk and some of them have embroidered If the enemy intended to fall back covers. Most of the illustrations are made from wood engravings. Thanks to Wilson. The following resolution was of fered by Vac Buresh and was unanimously adopted at a mass meeting of American citizens of Czech descent at the Omaha Municipal auditorium, Tuesday evening, September 3, 1918: Whereas, The president of the United States has this day officially recognized the Czecho-Slovak peoples as a co-belliger-ent nation in the war against our enemy, Germany and Austria-Rungary, and, Whereas, He has further recognized the Czecho-Slovak national council as a de-facto belligerent government, clothed with proper authority to direct the military and political affairs of the Czecho-Slovaks; therefore: Be it Resolved, By the American citizens of Czech descent, assembled at the Om-aha Municipal auditorium, on the occasion of the Liberty bazaar, that we hereby express our deepest thanks to President Wil-son and assure him of our highest apprecia-tion of his action in behalf of the Czecho-Slovak peoples, tyrannically oppressed for centuries by the Hapsburgs and Hohenzol-lerns; and be it further Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to President Woodrow Wil-son through the department of state. RHINE THIS YEAR Growing Disorganization in German Ranks Shown by Losses Sustained in Precipitate Withdrawal.

ENEMY MAY BE

Washington, Sept. 3 .- Reports from the British front today indicated to officers here that the German retirement, heretofore conducted with # skill, was getting out of hand. Under the pressure of the British and French.

all along the line from Ypres to Soissons, the enemy is being forced to a more precipitate withdrawal, particularly on the old Drocourt-Queant front where Marshal Haig's men hammered forward irresistibly again today.

The official announcement from Londos that more than 10,000 prisoners have been taken in two days of fighting on this front in itself indicates, it is said, that there is growing disorganization in the German ranks. It was evident, observers believe, the time is fast approaching when General Pershing's first field army will participate in the battle, on the theory that General Foch has been withholding this new and vigorous force for a decisive blow when the time was ripe. Gap Made in Old Line.

The British have broken a decided gap in the old German fortified line and the fall of Cambrai, Douai, St. Quentin, and several other rail and road centers upon which the Hindenburg line depended seems imminent upon this line when he was forced into a general withdrawal along his whole front from Rheims to Ypres, his chances are rapidly dwindling as the British lines surge forward at the very center of the great battle front.

Marshal Haig's forces are moving on Cambrai, the key to a large section of the old line, and if that place is taken it appears the enemy will be forced to evacute the salient in which he is rapidly being pocketed by the French and American advance on the Oise-Ailette lines in the south and the British thrust eastward from Peronne to the north.

So evident is the growing disorganization among the Germans, some officers think it possible the enemy may be forced to a withdrawal to the Rhine this year. Others feel the skill the German leaders have displayed does not warrant any anticipation of an early collapse.
