CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Corn Prices Advance, Influenced by Scarcity of Contract Supplies in Store.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Corn developed notable strength today, influenced more or less by scarcity of contract supplies in store here. The market closed firm, ¾@1¼c net higher, with October, $1.58⅛@1.58¾ and November $1.56⅝@1.56⅞. Oats gained a shade to ⅛c. In provisions there was a loss of 25c to $1.00.

Reports showing that the stock of corn in Chicago elevators contained only 184,000 bushels of contract goods put the bears at a disadvantage from the outset. In addition, country consignment notices remained light, and receipts here were small. Frosts last night in lower Michigan and western Nebraska tended also to stimulate demand, as heavy rains of late and the unseasonably cool weather were said to have hindered the new crop from maturing and to have increased the likelihood of damage.

Oats were upheld by the strength of corn. Most of the trade was local.

Slowness of cash demand led to sharp liquidation in pork and ribs. Both staples underwent a maximum setback. Lard displayed relative firmness owing to a moderate call for spot.

72¾ the market continued to harden.

Provisions lacked support. Ribs especially were weak.

New York Coffee.

New York, Sept. 6.—The action of the market for coffee futures here today seemed to be chiefly influenced by fluctuations in Brazil. The opening was unchanged to five points higher on a rally in the Santos futures market, trade buying of the near months, and a scattering demand for later deliveries. There was no aggressive or general support, however, and later cables reporting a decline in Santos was followed by reactions here, with July selling off from 9.69 to 9.60c and with the market closing net unchanged to five points her, 8.65c; December, 8.95c; January, 9.05c; March, 9.27c; May, 9.47c; July, 9.60c.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Damper Put on Speculation by Scrutiny of Exchange Members' Loans and Market Slumps.

New York, Sept. 6.—Another important step towards the conservation of credits for all but essential and productive purposes was taken today when the stock exchange adopted a resolution authorizing daily investigation of its members' loans.

This action, it is generally believed, will result in a further pronounced curtailment of speculative activity, if not a gradual reduction of brokers' loans to nominal dimensions.

U. S. Steel bore the brunt of the onslaught as usual, suffering an extreme setback of four points to 110⅛, from which it rallied a point. Other industrials, equipments and numerous specialties forfeited 2 to 4 points, but rails recovered moderately at the end. Total sales amounted to 820,000 shares, to which the last hour's outpourings contributed almost 40 per cent.

The bond market developed a reactionary tone as stocks yielded, but losses in that division were relatively light.
