

JEFFERIS IS MAN COUNTRY NEEDS IN CONGRESS NOW

Julian A. Abbott, Democrat, Tells Why He Favors Election of Republican Candidate.

Notwithstanding the plea put up by the democratic machine bosses, Julian A. Abbott, in the real estate business in the Patterson block, is one democrat who believes A. W. Jeffers should be elected to congress. "I am a democrat," says Mr. Abbott, "and have lived in Omaha most of my life. I have seen this city grow from a mere village to a metropolitan city. It has been a great place in which to live and transact business, but it has a greater future and it is incumbent upon us, who have made the fight for its development, to see that it continues to grow and prosper. I believe that it is very important that we have a representative in congress, who is able to properly represent our people and to bring to the attention of the country our great resources.

One of the Strongest. "I consider Jeffers one of the strongest men that could be sent to congress from this district. He is representative of our people and our city. He possesses the talent that is essential to make a record in congress and to bring to this district its just rewards. I have been acquainted with Jeffers for a great many years and he has been a consistent booster and friend of this city and state. He is a big hearted fellow and in close touch with various elements of our people. I predict his election by a large vote, and he will soon take his place in congress as a leader and I feel sure that we will all be proud of him as our congressman. He is a true blue American and patriotic. He will grow with our city and state and bring to the nation strong support in the days that are to come after the war is won.

No Time for Weakings. "It is no time to elect inferior men. The life of the country is at stake and we must draft our real big men for public service. Jeffers is the man. He will help win the war and help save the nation."

Sandstorm Division Royally Welcomed on Trip to Eastern Camp

Sergt. W. S. Timberlake, with the headquarters company of the "Sandstorm Division," in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Timberlake, 2723 Meredith avenue, writes in glowing terms of the rousing welcome accorded them on their trip from Camp Cody to Camp Dix, N. J. He was employed by the F. F. Martin Coal company as traffic manager before enlisting in the Sixth Nebraska National Guard regiment. After the regiment was reassigned he was appointed corporal of the military police and later advanced to sergeant of the division headquarters.

"I would not take $1,000 for the trip," he wrote. "We made many stops at the principal cities on the eastern seaboard, nearly all of which we passed through in daylight. We are quartered in barracks with a beautiful lawn, and we have shade trees right outside of the office door. "Prior to our arrival here the newspapers gave our division a great reputation and everyone thought we would appear wearing two guns on each hip and chaps. They now say that the 34th is the best of the three or four divisions that preceded us and we are welcomed with open arms. "People in the east and south sure were out in numbers to welcome us. After we left Baltimore the engineer kept his whistle tooting, and everyone was out with flags, yelling and waving. This was something we did not see in the west and southwest. Some towns we pulled through had the factory whistles blowing and you never saw such a demonstration in your life. "The Red Cross met us at every stop with cold drinks, hot drinks, cookies, sandwiches and cigars. At Roanoke, Va., they took us to the lawn of the Monticello hotel, where they served us sandwiches, ice tea and peaches and cake. We marched up the streets of Memphis and Nashville and the people hollered and clapped every foot of the way."

Saunders Resigns as Local Secretary of Red Cross

C. D. Saunders, secretary of the Omaha chapter of the Red Cross, has sent to Gould Dietz, chairman, his official resignation, owing to the fact that he received the nomination for state senator at the recent primary. "I am fully in accord," writes Mr. Saunders, "with the wise provisions of the American Red Cross that no political candidate may hold an executive position in the service."

PRIVATE HARRIS FAILS TO SPEAK AS CROWD WAITS

Soldier Claiming Membership in Rainbow Division Disappoints Audience After Arousing Suspicions.

"Private Harris," Company G, 168th Infantry, and part of the Rainbow division, did not speak in Eagle hall, Council Bluffs, last night, after all arrangements had been made for him to tell a big audience some of his thrilling experiences fighting the Huns when all of the members of Company G but himself and three others were put out of action.

It would have been a thrilling story, for it was believed that Private Harris had the ability to tell it. He said he could talk 15 minutes or 5 hours, for he had a plain story of actual experiences to tell and nothing to "make up."

But for some reason Private Harris did not appear. He went from Omaha and took dinner with Mayor Zurmuehlen, who had arranged for the public speaking, and during the after-dinner hour was presented to numerous influential men. He was questioned very sharply by several men versed in military affairs.

Soon afterwards he told Mayor Zurmuehlen that it would be necessary for him to go to the Loyal hotel in Omaha, where he is staying, to get his trench clothes. He failed to return to Council Bluffs and a big audience waited until 9 o'clock for him. The hotel was called up later and it was said that he was registered there with two others, but had not returned since leaving in the early afternoon.

Private Harris was driving an automobile without a license and when questioned said that "government cars did not require licenses." At 5 o'clock he said that his companions, John Frank and Thomas Fardland, would leave for Kansas City early in the evening, driving the car, and that he would follow today on the train.

Up until 1 o'clock Wednesday morning "Private" Harris failed to appear at the Hotel Loyal to get his baggage. The hotel management says he came to the hotel September 7 and had not checked out.

HIGH SCHOOL HEAD TAKES DRAFT COUNT

Government Aid for Military Training Purpose of Principal Masters in Taking Census of Youths.

A census of all boys in Central high school who will have to register Thursday under the new draft law is being taken by Principal Masters. The census was begun yesterday when all boys over 18 years of age were asked to state their name and age upon a slip of paper. The object is to make a report to the government which may make possible some extra arrangement for military training at the school. Under the present regulations high schools are not included among the schools which may receive government aid, but a committee in Washington is discussing the question.

The Federal Bureau of Education has issued a circular asking assistance "in maintaining at normal efficiency, at least, all schools of all kinds and grades during the war." The government has asked all students in schools to continue their education and has provided the Students' Army Training Corps in colleges to enable older students to do so. No provisions have yet been made to exempt high school boys subject to the draft.

"Parents should be encouraged to make all sacrifice necessary to keep their sons and daughters in school," states P. P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education. "Because of the increased cost of living this will not always be easy. Teachers should be encouraged to remain at their posts despite temptations of larger pay elsewhere. Men and women who have had successful experience as teachers and are not now in the schools should, wherever possible, be induced to take the places made vacant by teachers who have been drafted into the army, or who have for other reasons left the schools. The people should be shown the necessity of increasing their appropriations for the support of the schools to meet, to some extent at least, the great decrease in the purchasing power of money. We must see to it that no boy or girl shall have less opportunity for education because of the war."

Millers Must Take Toll in Money and not Wheat

On advices from Washington, Food Administrator Wattles has ordered that hereafter when farmers or others take wheat to Nebraska mills to be ground into flour, the millers shall exact a cash toll of 35 cents for each sack of flour. Heretofore millers have been permitted to take their toll in wheat. From now on, in order to conserve wheat all tolls are to be on a cash basis.
