

Russia's Downfall Directed By The Kaiser's Staff

REVOLT STARTED ON ORDERS FROM BERLIN, PROVED

Authentic Documents Show Whole Bolshevik Movement Was Directed From Berlin—Soviet Leaders Double Cross Their Supporters to Obey Germany—Huns Planned to Bar Allied Capital from Russia.

pie's commissars was dominated by the president, Vladimir Ulianov (Lenine); the then foreign minister; Leon Trotsky, now war minister; and the ambassador to Germany, A. Joffe. The marginal indorsement in writing is in the fashion in which Lenin is accustomed to initial himself. The English equivalent would be V. U. for Vladimir Ulianov. So, even if there existed no further record of German Imperial bank order No. 7433 here would be proof of its contents, and heretis the link connecting Lenin directly with his action and his guilt. The content matter of the circular exists, however, and herewith follows:

Order of the 2nd of March, 1917, of the Imperial bank for the representatives of all German banks in Sweden:

Orders to Banks.
Notice is hereby given that requisition for money for the purpose of peace propaganda in Russia will be received through England. These requisitions will emanate from the following: Lenin, Zinovieff, Kameneff, Trotsky, Sumensson, Kozlovsky, Kollontai, Sivens and Merkalin, accounts for whom have been opened in accordance with our order No. 2754 in the agencies of private German businesses in Sweden, Norway and Switzerland. All these requests should bear one of the two following signatures: Dithaus or Milkenberg.

With either of these signatures the requests of the above mentioned persons should be complied with without delay.
7433, Imperial Bank.
I have not a copy of this circular nor a photograph of it, but document No. 2, next in order, proves its authenticity at once curiously and absolutely. Particular interest attaches to this circular because of Bolshevik public denial of its existence. It was one of several German circulars published in Paris in the Petit Parisien last winter. The Petrograd Bolshevik papers proclaimed it a falsehood. Zalkinda, whose signature appears not only here but on the protocol was an assistant foreign minister. He was sent in February on a mission outside of Russia. He was in Christiania in April when I was there.

Have photograph of the letter.
Document Number Two.
No. 6451, Secret.
(G. G. S., Nachrichten Bureau, section R)

February 12.
The secret service department has the honor to inform you that there were found on the arrested Captain Konshin two German documents with notations and stamps of the Petersburg secret police (Okrana), which show themselves to be the original orders of the Imperial bank, No. 7433, March 2, 1917, concerning the opening of accounts for Messrs. Lenine, Sumensson, Kozlovsky, Trotsky, and other active workers of the peace propaganda, by order No. 2754, of the Imperial bank.
These discoveries show that at the proper time steps were not taken to destroy the above mentioned documents.

For the head of the department—R. Bauer, Adj. Bukholm.
Note—Observe the thoughtfulness with which Bauer, a careful man, set mediately all destruction agents and observers in those commercial and military ports in Canada and America where munitions are being loaded on ships going to Russia, France and England. Where there are storehouses of such munitions, and where fighting units are stationed, it is necessary to hire through third parties who stand in no relation to the official representatives of Germany agents for arranging explosions on ships bound for enemy countries, and for arranging delays, embroilments and difficulties during the loading, dispatching and unloading of ships. For this purpose we are especially recommending to your attention leaders gangs, among whom there are many anarchists and escaped criminals, and that you get in touch with German and neutral shipping offices as a means of observing agents in enemy countries who are receiving and shipping the munitions.

Money required for the hiring and bribing of persons necessary for the designated purpose will be placed at your disposal at your request.
Nachrichten bureau of the General staff of the High Sea Fleet.

Koenig.
Note—Both the circulars bear the penciled notation that the German secret service bureau at Petrograd has received them, signed Agaster, the cipher signature of Major Lubert, head of the bureau, as will be shown in document No. 5. The German intent here was to remove from the records of the old Russian government the evidence, first, that Germany was beginning in June 1914, its active preparation for the war that surprised the world in August, 1914, and second, to remove the evidence of its responsibility for incendiary and explosions in the United States, a country with which Germany was then at peace. The result was to give new evidence of the truth of the charges.

Have original of the protocol and have the printed circulars.
Document Number Four.
(G. G. S., Nachrichten)
Bureau section R 35, January 17, 1918.

To the Commissar of foreign affairs:
The section has received exact information that the leaders of the socialist party now ruling in Russia, through Messrs. Fuerstenberg and Radek, are in correspondence with Messrs. Scheidemann and Parvus regarding the destruction of the traces of the business relations of the party with the imperial government. We also know that this demand was caused by the demand of leading groups of German socialists, who saw in the said communications a danger to the cause of world socialism. By order of the staff, I have the honor to request the submitting of this question to special discussion in the presence of our staff and Mr. von Schoenemann.
For the head of the department: M. Waal.
Note—The word penalty, therefore, was appert to some German.
Of the personalities named in the letter, Scheidemann, the leader of the German government supporting wing of the socialist party, is the most notable. Once before he has been named in relation to the "business relations" of the Russian Bolsheviks with the imperial government, writing a letter from Berlin August 25, 1917, to "Mr. Olberg," in which he stated that 150,000 kroner had been placed at Olberg's disposal at Fuerstenberg's office through the Nia bank (document No. 18). Now, Fuerstenberg by this time, January, in Petrograd at Smolny, is trying to help Scheidemann in covering up old trails. Radek is a clever Polish-Austrian Jew, who came from Switzerland with Lenin. Von Schoenemann was the accredited German representative to the Bolshevik foreign office. He is named in document No. 5. Parvus is a handler of German propaganda money with his headquarters at Copenhagen, and is credited with being the directing force behind Joffe.

(GR Great general staff, central Abtheilung) Division—section M, October, 1917, Berlin.
Secret department No. 31.
To the Council of People's commissars: In accordance with the agreement which took place in Kronstadt, in July of the present year, between officials of our general staff and leaders of the Russian revolutionary army and democracy, Messrs. Lenin, Trotsky, Raskolnikov and Dybenko, the Russian division of our general staff operating in Finland is ordering to Petrograd officers for the disposal of the information department of the staff. At the head of the Petrograd division will be the following officers, who use the Russian language perfectly, and who are acquainted with Russian conditions:

Major Lubert, cipher signature Agaster.
Major Von Boelke, cipher signature Schroot.
Major Bayermeister, cipher signature Ber.
Lieut. Hartwig, cipher signature Henrich.
The espionage department in accordance with the agreement with Messrs. Lenin, Trotsky and Zenoieff will have the surveillance of the foreign embassies and military missions, and on the counter-revolutionary movement and also will perform the espionage and counter-espionage work on the internal fronts, for which purpose agents will be assigned to the espionage cities. Coincidentally, it is announced, that at the disposal of the government of People's commissars are assigned consultants to the ministry of foreign affairs, Mr. von Schoenemann, and to the ministry of finance, Mr. von Toll, chief of the Russian division German general staff; O. Rausch, Adjutant U. Wolff. (and below on the same letter)—to the commissariat for foreign affairs. The officers indicated in this paper have been before the military revolutionary committee and have agreed on conditions with Muraviov, Bouk and Danishvich with regard to their mutual activities.
They have all come under the direction of their committee. The consultants will appear as called for.

Chairman military revolutionary committee, council of workers and soldiers deputies, A. Joffe, secretary; P. Krushavitch.

Note—Here is the working compact. If Rausch was then in Berlin he presumably came immediately afterward to Petrograd. It is more probable that the letter was written in Finland than Berlin. In some other letterheads on which Berlin is printed the word is run through with a pen. Stationery was hard to get in Petrograd. Major Lubert became the head of the information or intelligence bureau (Nachrichten bureau). Kronstadt was the midsummer headquarters of Lenin. Raskolnikov will be referred to in connection with the project to sell the Russian fleet to Germany. Dybenko was the commissar of the fleet, the naval minister, a driving man and keen witted. Zinovieff is the president of the Petrograd soviet, during the winter the most powerful of the local bodies of the Russian soviets. He is Jewish and well educated. Joffe, in the letter of Bolshevik acceptance of the German compact, again stands forth for what he is, the spokesman, after Lenin, in all matters of supreme importance to Germany.

(GR. General staff, central division No. 813, November 19)
To the council of People's commissars: This is to advise you that the following persons have been put at the disposal of the Russian government as military advisers: Major Erich, Major Bode, Major Sass, Major Zimmermann, Major Anders, Lieutenant Haese, Lieut. Klein, Lieut. Breitz.

These officers will choose a cadre of the most suitable officers from the list of our prisoners, who will likewise be at the disposal of the Russian government, as was agreed at the conference in Stockholm, when Lenin, Zinovieff and others were traveling through to Russia. Head of the Russian section, German general staff, O. Rausch, Adjutant O. Wolff.

Note—Major Anders took the Russian name Rubakov and Major Erich and Russian name Egorov. Lenin and Zinovieff passed through Germany and Stockholm together. Have photograph of letter.
Document Number Seven.
(G. G. S., Nachrichten Bureau, Section R, Jan 12, 1918.)
Confidential.

To the commissar of foreign affairs: By the order of the Local department of the German general staff, the intelligence section has informed us of the names and the characteristics of the main candidates for the re-election of the central executive committee. The general staff orders us to insist on the election of the following people: Lenin, Trotsky, Zinovieff, Kameneff, Joffe, Sverdlov, Lunacharski, Kollontai, Fabrizius, Martev, Stekolov, Golman, Frunze, Lander, Milk, Preobrazjenski, Sollers, Studer, Golberg, Avanesov, Volodarski, Raskolnikov, Stuchka, Peters and Neubut. Please inform the president of the council of the general staff's wish.
Note—The indorsements are "copy handed to Chairman Council workmen and soldiers' deputies N. 956."
"Deliver to Comrade Zinovieff and to secret department," signature illegible. January 12, Russian calendar, fell in the early part of the week of the all-Russian soviet convention in Petrograd the week after the forcible dissolution of the constituent assembly. The election came at the end of the week and was a perfunctory re-election of practically the whole former executive committee of commissars. Lacking the exact list I nevertheless can state that the present executive committee was drafted from this group. The name there surprising to me is that of Martov, the leader of the Mensheviks, though it is my recollection that this party of opposition was allowed representation. Martov is an able writer, was associated with Trotsky in his Paris journalistic venture, but was supposed to have split with him in Russia. The evidence that he is still agreeable to Germany is pertinent. Madame Kollontai, the only woman on this list, was the commissar of public welfare. She was sent abroad for foreign propaganda in February, but did not get beyond Scandinavia and later returned to Russia. Kameneff, who went out of Russia with Kollontai, also sought to return, but was arrested by the Finnish White Guards (not the Germans), on the Aland Islands, and his release was subject of negotiations. He is Trotsky's brother-in-law. Sverdlov was temporary chairman of the all-Russian soviet. Lunacharski is commissar of education.

Steklov is editor of the official paper Ivestia. Volodarsky, who has lived in the United States, was in close confidence with Lenin. He was killed in Moscow the last week in June. Agaster, who delivered the order in behalf of Rausch, is Major Luberts. Have photograph of letter: Leigh Riley.
