Chicago Grain and Provisions. Chicago, Sept. 14 .-- Corn eased down today

Chicago. Sept. 14.—Corn eased down today as a result of better weather and favorable war news. Liberal receipts were also of assistance to the bears. On the decline, however, commission houses became active buyers. Opening prices, which ranged from the down to to up, with October at $1.54% to $1.54%, were followed by a moderate rally and then a fresh setback.

Outs developed strength owing to reports of government buying. It was said also of government buying. It was said also that the south was outbidding Chicago at some Illinois points. After opening unchanged to %c higher, with October at 72%c to 72%c, the market continued to Higher quotations on hogs strengthened provisions. The best demand was for lard.

New York Stocks.

New York, Sept. 14.—A firmer tendency in the stock market at the opening today apparently confirmed opinion expressed in many quarters that the recent liquidation by many quarters that the recent liquidation by holders of speculative stocks had about run its course. Standard issues, including United States Steel, Canadian Pacific, Southern Pacific and Reading, were higher by substantial fractions. Numerous specialities made large fractional gains, including Mexican Petrolem, Alcohol, Baldwin and Distiliers, on moderate short covering. American Sumatra Tobacco was a notable exception, falling, several points, and Wilson Packing company suffered in response to the president's pany suffered in response to the president's proclamation making operations of packers in live stock markets subject to federal con-

COUNTRY NEEDS STRONG MEN FOR PUBLIC PLACES

Independent Voters See in Jefferis Ideal Man to Do the Great Work Ahead in Congress.

The personality and ability of Albert W. Jefferis appeals to the independent voters of the district, who see in him an ideal man for the great work that is to be done in congress. Edward P. Boyer, manager of the Boyer-Van Kuren Lumber and Coal company, fairly represents this class of voters, and his opinions are worth listening to. He says:

"I am an independent in politics. I endeavor to pick the best men for public office and support them. I am a great admirer and supporter of President Wilson and Colonel Roosevelt. They typify my ideal of statesmanship. I believe in America's cause in this war and I want a congress that is able to properly support President Wilson in bringing it to a successful conclusion. This is no time for partisan politics. This war is not a democratic or republican war. It is America's fight for righteousness. Great sacrifices have been and must be made to win the war and we who are at home must support the boys in the trenches. That can be best done by electing a strong American congress. "Jefferis, to my mind, is the most capable man in this district for congress. He is a true American with a broad vision. He comes from a Quaker ancestry and loves his fellowmen. He hates no one and in the halls of congress he would represent our people without discrimination or partiality. He has no fads or fancies. but believes in the government of the fathers. He is in every sense a representative man. "He is so big and strong, so clean minded and tolerant, that he would soon take first place in congress. The nation has called her men to service and it is our duty and obligation to respond with Jefferis as our congressman. I predict his election by an overwhelming vote, and regardless of partisanship he is truly the man of the hour."

Dr. Abby V. Holmes to Give Talks on Social Morality as War Aid

Dr. Abby Virginia Holmes is disposing of her practice to devote her full time to lecturing on social morality under the direction of Dr. Anna L. Brown, who has charge of the woman's section of the giene department of the War department. Dr. Holmes will be didectly under the War Work council of the national board of the Y. W.

Dr. Holmes' work will consist of delivering lectures on sex education to colleges and universities and also to communities adjacent to training

"Dr. Brown received a request from the government asking for women physicians to do this lecture work because of the need of more scientific knowledge to be given to the youth of our country on the subject of sex which is so important because young men must be kept fighting and health preserved in every way. And the young women as well are greatly in need of such education," said Dr. Holmes, Monster War Exhibit For Ak-Sar-Ben Called Off to Aid Loan Drive

The great allied war exhibit which was to have been here during Ak-Sar-Ben week will not appear until next winter. It is needed in more important work, namely, helping the Fourth Liberty loan to success.
