

HOUSE ADOPTS LUXURY SERIES OF NEW BILL

Other Sections Raising Many Millions of Dollars Passed Without Objection or Even Discussion.

Washington, Sept. 18.—All of the principal provisions of the new war revenue bill were approved by the house today almost as fast as two clerks working in relays could read them. With only a few minor provisions and amendments now to be considered, leaders believe a final vote will be reached Friday with a possibility that it may come tomorrow.

After adopting within an hour the war excess profits provisions without change, the house passed important sections raising many millions of dollars without a word of objection or even discussion. Every amendment proposed either was rejected summarily or passed over so that the ways and means committee can consider them before final action is taken.

Beside the war excess-profits provisions, which yield the greatest returns to come from the bill, provisions adopted today were taxes on estates, estimated to raise $110,000,000; transportation $187,000,000; amusement admissions $100,000,000; excise taxes, including automobiles, jewelry, luxuries and semi-luxuries $818,000,000; beverages $1,137,000,000; tobacco $341,000,000; capital stock $70,000,000; the federal automobile license provision $72,930,000 and stamp taxes $32,000,000.

The luxury taxes caused some discussion, some members contending the bill's rate are too low, and others that they are too high. An amendment by Representative Platt of New York to reduce the luxuries rate from 20 to 10 per cent was defeated.

The most important matters remaining to be disposed of are the proposal to tax cotton $3 a bale and to impose a 5 per cent tax on products of child labor. The cotton tax was formally proposed today by Representative Moore of Pennsylvania and the amendment met spirited and instant opposition. The leaders predicted tonight that the proposal would be rejected.

Representative Green of Iowa gave notice that tomorrow he will offer his child labor amendment with predictions general that it also would be rejected.

Dr. Martin Here to Address Medical Society Meeting

Enrollment of every legally qualified physician, not already in government service, is the object of the Volunteer Medical Service Corps, which will be represented in Omaha Thursday evening by Dr. Fred Martin, of Kansas City.

Dr. Martin is one of the seven civilians who comprise the advisory commission of the Council of National Defense. Each of the seven was chosen by President Wilson and represents one specialized field. Dr. Martin represents medicine and surgery, including general sanitation.

Dr. Martin also will meet the state executive committee of the Volunteer Medical corps at a meeting on Friday morning. Another meeting with the executive committee of Iowa will be held Friday afternoon.

Dismiss Constable Case On Error of Prosecution

Constable R. W. Bryant, of the Florence district, arrested Tuesday on a warrant from Judge J. H. S. Sackett, which charged him with attempting a judicial act outside the territory in which he had jurisdiction, was given his freedom Wednesday by Judge Redick in district court.

Judge Redick held that the warrant upon which Bryant was arrested and made to stand trial did not present sufficient evidence of Bryant's guilt.

"It was a technical error on the part of the prosecution, which did not include the necessary information that Bryant was a constable," said City Prosecutor Murray, "but Bryant will be rearrested in a very short time on a like charge."

Beer Gardens Mark "Permanent" Home of Huns in St. Mihiel

With the American Army on the Lorraine front, Sept. 18.—(By Associated Press.)—The Germans apparently never expected to be ousted from the St. Mihiel salient. They had done much work in building shelters and beer gardens, and about the Souleuvre farm the country had been made to look like a prosperous German neighborhood with resorts, where townspeople might spend their holidays.

Little club houses were built and equipped not wholly in keeping with front line operations. The dugouts and shelters of the officers were fitted almost luxuriously, some of the larger ones being filled with bath tubs and running water and lighted by electricity. The officers' messes, of them were little summer houses, where the occupants were accustomed to sit and drink beer.

WRECK PROBE INSTITUTED BY GOVERNMENT

Collision of Trains May Have Been Caused by Tampering With Block Signal System.

Springfield, Mo., Sept. 18.—A federal investigation to place responsibility for the head-on collision of a freight train and a troop train on the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad near Marshfield last night was begun today by the Department of Justice and representatives of the railroad administration. A coroner's jury viewed the bodies of the dead and an inquest will be held tomorrow.

The total number of dead, according to unofficial sources, now is placed at 14, including 11 soldiers and three trainmen. No list of the dead, however, was available, army officials in charge observing the strictest secrecy even as to the exact number killed. A revised list of 45 injured was given out by railroad officials. Nine of the injured were taken to the hospitals.

Among the injured were W. R. Benson, Lincoln, Neb., and Denny Welsh, Madrid, La.

Cause of Wreck Puzzle.

The cause of the wreck continues a puzzle to railroad and government officials, inasmuch as the track where the collision occurred is protected by the block signal system, whether either of the two trains failed to observe signals and ran into the block as a result of carelessness, or whether some one had tampered with the block signal, clearing both trains on the same block, probably will not be known until after the official investigation.

A report persisted that both trains had no orders which would permit of a misunderstanding and that both trains apparently had been cleared by a block system which had been tampered with so as to clear both trains, but there was no official investigation to verify it, the belief prevailing in railroad circles that one or the other of the train crews had confused their orders.

Five Killed, Official Report.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Five soldiers were killed and at least 24 injured in the wreck last night of a troop train near Marshfield, Mo. This was announced tonight by the War department.

Friends and relatives are asked to send the names of former high school boys in the service to Miss Shields, with rank, present accurate address, number of years in the school, and name, address, and telephone number of relatives.

Nebraska Registration Falls Below the Estimate

Washington, Sept. 18.—Complete returns from last Thursday's registration in 31 states and the District of Columbia, received at the provost marshal general's office, show that 7,651,222 men enrolled for military service against the official estimate of 7,653,350. On the basis of these returns officials now believe that the total registration will not vary appreciably from the original estimate of 12,778,758. Nebraska registered 153,630 against an estimate of 157,665.

SOUTH SIDE NEW HIGH MARK HIT BY PRICE OF HOGS THIS WEEK

Charles Bryan of Lincoln Paid $20.40 a Hundred and Three Boosts Made in Day.

A new top was made on hogs this week at the Omaha stock yards when the price climbed to $20.30, $20.35, and $20.40 in one day.

Charles Bryan, a farmer and feeder of Overton, thought he had hit the high spot when he sold a carload averaging 241 pounds at $20.30. But A. J. Meyers of Burwell, also a farmer and feeder, brought in two carloads of choice pork on the hoof, for which he received $8,399.91, which is $20.35 a hundred for 42,310 pounds, or $4,199.95 per car.

The top price, however, was paid Charles W. Bryan of Lincoln, who sold a carload of Hampshires, averaging 210 pounds, at $20.40 a hundred.

The following table shows the increase in the number of cattle, hogs, and sheep received in the Omaha market this year as compared with that of a year ago:

	1918	1917	Increase
Cattle	1,115,710	1,018,104	297,606
Hogs	2,449,057	2,104,221	344,836
Sheep	2,034,997	1,776,821	258,176

This shows the increase for a year, up to date, including Wednesday.

He reports the sale of more than 1,000 head of horses, the majority going to southern buyers. One load of broke horses was shipped to Montana.

Sergeant George White, Company L boy, arrived here yesterday on a brief furlough to visit his young wife, and is the guest of Mrs. White's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Rasmussen, of Council Bluffs, Iowa. Sergeant White has been returned to this country by order of the government to act as instructor at some of the training camps. His arrival at an Atlantic port was reported in The Bee a fortnight or more ago, and the announcement was then made that he would probably be given a furlough for a brief visit to his home here before beginning his work as an instructor.

Sergeant White brought news of the death in action of Robert Gress, son of Herman Gress, widely known market gardener on the Lincoln highway. Robert was one of four of the Gress boys in military service. Mr. and Mrs. Gress have had no intimation of the death of their son, and the young man's name has not appeared in any of the casualty lists nor has the War department sent any word to the parents.

Information imparted by Sergeant White came as a crushing blow to them.

NEGRO SOLDIERS GIVEN PRAISE IN PATRIOTIC TALK

Opening of A. M. E. Conference Marked by Addresses Eulogizing Their Services to Country.

Led by a choir of 30 voices, 500 negroes, waving American flags and handkerchiefs, stood and sang "Star Spangled Banner" at the opening of the patriotic session of the Kansas-Nebraska annual conference of the African Methodist Episcopal church last night in St. John's A. M. E. church, Eighteenth and Chicago streets.

"This is truly the 'home of the free' and the land of the brave," said Bishop H. Blanton Parks, "and an insult to that flag is a personal insult to me. The blood of our people has helped to make this country what it is—in fact the first blood shed for Old Glory, for the independence of this country was the blood of a negro, Crispus Attucks, on the streets of Boston, and we have been giving our blood for it ever since. It is an honor to die for your country, and the women of this race of ours are freely giving up their sons, their brothers, and their husbands to the world which will be free."

Rev. Dr. W. C. Williams, president at the patriotic meeting. Special music was given by the choir of St. John A. M. E. church under the direction of J. C. Parker. Dr. Griffin G. Logan, representing the colored ministerial alliance of Omaha, delivered an address of welcome. He spoke in words of praise of the work accomplished by Pastor Williams.

Dr. Lowe told about his visit to the boys and France, and spoke in words of praise of the negro soldier and their heroic work over there.

John Smith represented the African Methodist Episcopal church in an address of welcome and the women of the church, representing all the organizations, extended welcome by Mrs. Louise McCullough, one of the best-trained and educated young colored women in the city.

AT THE THEATERS

ONE little lady with the "Sight-seers," at the Gaiety this week, is surely doing her bit. Not content with portraying Columbia in the patriotic finale of the first act, Kathryn Dickay carries the entire audience to rise to its feet while she administers the oath of allegiance. Miss Dickay's voice is a powerful soprano and it is heard to advantage frequently during the performance.

Late in October the famous musical comedy star, Marie Cahill, who is at the Orpheum this week, is to open her New York engagement in her new offering, "Just Around the Corner." During the current four weeks she is in vaudeville. Other acts of admirable show this week include the one-act comedy, "Honey-moon," the amusing skit offered by Wellington Cross, and the song and dance duo, Benesse and Baird.

Next week comes the musical comedy favorite, Christie Macdonald, in "Cupid's Mirror." She was last seen here in "The Spring Maid."

The Beatrice Morelle Sextette, a group of six charming women who are all musicians, head the new bill at the Empress theater which opens today. Suzanne Saville, the mezzo-soprano, is well known in grand opera circles, having had a few seasons' experience with the Metros.

Given at the Boyd theater today at a matinee performance. The picture is slated for a run of three days at that playhouse, and will be shown twice daily. The presentation is particularly timely, inasmuch as part of the story is located in Russia. Ivan Abramson, the author and producer of the picture, was himself at one time an important operative director and producer in Russia, and the atmosphere of the production may safely be assumed to be correct in every detail.

When Secretary Baker returned from a tour of inspection of our war preparations in France to meet the vast army which was being made ready on this side, he revealed in his interview a great many interesting facts which the public learned for the first time. In "America's politan Grand Opera company. Phyllis Davies, the contralto, was a member of the Carl Rose Grand opera company of England.
