OMAHA'AIR MAIL SERVICE COMES AFTER THE WAR

Scarcity of Airplanes Now for Purpose Makes Chicago Western End of Route.

Washington Bureau of Omaha Bee. Washington, Sept. 20,-(Special) Telegram.)-Second Assistant Postmaster General Praege, in charge of air mail service, said today relative to extension of the service to Omaha that it would not be possible to put released to the Postoffice department district court on a $1,000 bond.

the necessary aeroplanes. "When Congressman Lobeck and Mr. Gamble of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce called on me with reference to Omaha as an air mail terwe were handicapped for flying machines and that the War department was willing to have Chicago linked up with the eastern service, but they could not see their way clear to going beyond Chicago during the war. "Of course, if we could secure the planes, Omaha would undoubtedly be an aerial mail city. I told the Omaha representatives that a flying field would be needed and that they should get things in shape to meet conditions after the war."

Call for Cost Marks. Telegrams were received today by members of the Nebraska delegation from J. L. Brandeis & Co., Haya rumored intention on the part of the war industries board compelling retailers to mark the cost price of articles on all merchandise. Inquiry disclosed this rumor to be unwarrented. Congressman Lobeck, in his telegram to the firms, stated: "That he council is considering having the selling price appear on the outside of the article sold." Sheldon Would Go Abroad. A. E. Sheldon of Lincoln, director of the Legislative Reference Bureau of Nebraska, is in Washington endeavoring to go abroad in the interest of the State Historical society of which he is secretary. Guy Furay, secretary of the Foye Lumber company, Omaha, is in the capital on government business.

main and support Hindenburg line and is the most difficult obstacle which the British have encountered anywhere in the defensive system. The enemy regards it as the key to the position north of Havrincourt. Few prisoners were taken. In addition to the guns already reported captured, the British have taken two 4-inch howitzers abandoned by the Germans Thursday and two field guns left behind yesterday after-

Stiff Resistance Overcome.

The occupation of the series of redoubts around the Malaissise farm was accomplished in the face of stiff resistance. This throws the British line nearer the St. Quentin German hands on this side of the Hindenburg system. These villages the Villers-Guislain, Pontruet and Fayet. The enemy is still defending some small copses and farms which welded into the outlying portions of his main line of resistance,

The English troops which took Ronssoy, with more than 600 prisoners, completed the clearance of Lempiree, a neighboring village a mile to the north. The Germans, wedged in ravines and fragments of old ditches and quarries between Lempire and Villers- Guislain, still hold fairly strong positions beyond the limits set for the British advance, but they have not attempted any elaborate counter-attack since the complete breakdown of their big assault Thursday night,

"The British line covering Gauche wood was completely restored after a local attempt to regain the eastern face of the wood.

Enemy Losses Heavy.

Fresh prisoners taken during the night state that the German losses since Thursday have been extremely heavy, especially between Gouzeaucourt and Moeuvres, the dead lying in masses in some places. Three hundred bodies were counted in one small section of trenches taken by the English infantry.

The enemy's troubles are intensi fied by the necessity of moving nearly all his troops across the canal on bridges. He is restricting these movements to certain bridges he is naintaining, but which are kept un- c der constant artillery fire. The back areas of the canal are being ranged to a dealy accuracy, as for the first time complete observation is secured over a wide stretch of country between the canal and St. Quentin The high roads and the railway lines now can be shelled without de pending upon the airplanes for reg istration

The German batteries were unusually quiet today, after maintaining a vigorous bombardment through the earlier part of the bat-According to prisoners, the guns were shifted back when it be came clear to the high command that the three ridges west of the Hindenburg main defense had been lost. The loss of 60 guns, the majority of which had been pushed forward west of the canal with unusual daring, undoubtedly accelerated this precautionary movement.

French Carry Essigny. Paris, Sept. 20 .- In the enveloping of St. Quentin from the south the French have carried Essigny le Grand, says the war office statement

The Germans during the night made strong attacks against the new French positions north of Allemant, between the Ailette and the Aisne. The enemy was repulsed with very heavy losses.

The French have gained further ground northeast of Vailly, in the direction of Chemin des Dames. A German attempt to cross the Vesle, where American troops are n the line, was repulsed.

With the French Army France. Sept. 20 .- (Reuter's.) -- With logged tenacity and unflagging devotion the French troops are fighting their way, foot by foot, across the Malmaison plateau, which is the key to the Chemin-Des-Dames, Laon and the St. Gobain massif.
