Mae Engler to Wed Captain

HEIN PHOTO

Miss Mae Engler

Another charming Omaha girl whose heart is in the service is Miss Mae Marguerite Engler, for today Mrs. Mary M. Engler announces the engagement of her daughter to Captain Morton Francis Engleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Engleman. The wedding date is indefinite. Miss Engler, who is one of the prettiest girls in the younger set, has kept her secret well, for only a few intimate friends knew of the romance with the young officer. Miss Engler, after completing her high school course, attended a school in southern California. The land of sunshine has endeared itself to this young woman, for she leaves Saturday, accompanied by her mother and sister, Miss Mabel Engler, to spend the winter there. Captain Engleman was also a Central High school student, later attending the Western Military academy. He received his first lieutenantcy at the first officers' training camp at Fort Snelling and has been stationed at Camp Dodge for some time. Captain Engleman is a member of the 88th infantry, with temporary assignment in the 19th division. He will spend the week-end visiting his fiancée in Omaha.

IMPORTANCE of continuing club work in spite of pressing war duties looms large on the club women's horizon as the opening of the season draws near. Whether departmental work should be carried on as heretofore is indeed a problem, and as war work fills the days of a large majority of the members, many are loath to spare any time for club work. Mrs. A. E. Sheldon of Lincoln, state president of the federated clubs, who passed a day in Omaha last week, brings a reassuring answer to this question. At the last biennial meeting recently held at Hot Springs, Ark., a message was brought from the government urging the women's club of the country to continue work as heretofore. The need of organization among women in war time is even more necessary than in peace times. Governmental authorities urge the members to do their Red Cross work, but to do further war work through the medium of the clubs. Mrs. Sheldon feels that the departmental work is most important, as much of the training received is essential to success in war activities. For instance, the three-minute speakers who do much to make the drives a success receive their training at meetings of the public speaking departments. Art and music must be maintained, even though nations are at war and each can do war work along its own line. "Music hath charms" to win the war by stimulating patriotism, arousing recruiting, inspiring fighters, maintaining good cheer, raising war millions, entertaining our men and comforting the wounded. William E. Gladstone said "Music is one of the most forcible instruments for training, arousing and governing the mind and spirit of man." Community singing of patriotic songs, therefore, is to be the principal undertaking of this department.

Child Welfare to Be in Home Economics Course

The General Federation of Women's clubs has requested the National Home Economics association, the National Education association, and the Federal Vocational Board to use their influence in introducing child welfare as an integral part of all home economics courses of study offered in secondary schools, colleges, and universities of the United States. This action is taken in view of the fact that, because of social, industrial, and economic conditions brought on by the war, the child life of the country will be in unusual danger.

The wife of Prince Frederick Charles of Hesse, who is said to be slated for the throne of the new kingdom of Finland, is a sister of the German emperor, and according to popular gossip, is the only one of the emperor's relatives who has steadfastly refused to recognize the right of the All-Highest to run and regulate the personal affairs of the whole imperial family.

This Has Helped Others!

Make sure you are not paying war profits for wearing apparel.

Visit the splendid Beno store in Council Bluffs and you'll be able to dress better at less cost.

This ought to set you thinking as it has scores of others

DOESN'T it seem queer to have a fall season without an Ak-Sar-Ben ball? No new gowns being planned, jewels safely tucked away in safety deposit vaults and the narrow path of stern duty straight ahead? At first it was thought that there might be a coronation but no dancing, but the powers that be have decided against any such merry making and, of course, everyone is willing to bow to royal decree.

A guest or two have lifted our knockers. Miss Linda Hall, a charming girl from El Paso, Tex., is a guest at the E. H. Howland home. Affairs there have been for her, but very informal, just a few friends in for a dainty luncheon, or perhaps a bit of knitting and a cup of tea. Miss Marjorie Howland entertained at an "at home" Monday afternoon and Tuesday her sister, Mrs. W. K. Wood, was hostess at a delightful affair for the visitor from Texas. Mrs. Frank Selby entertained at luncheon Thursday in Miss Hall's honor, when the guests included the intimate friends of Miss Howland.

Miss Harriet Scott of Brookline, Mass., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Adams. Mrs. Adams was hostess at a very pretty luncheon at the Field club Saturday in honor of her guest. Late fall flowers formed a most attractive centerpiece and the guests numbered several.

With many Omahans planning a winter in the east, their friends are giving numerous farewell affairs. Mrs. William Sears Poppleton, who left several days ago, was honoree at a number of luncheons and dinners, when the guests included little coteries of friends who have enjoyed so many delightful affairs together in the past. Mrs. E. M. Fairfield is planning to leave very soon, and Mrs. E. W. Dixon will entertain at dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Fairfield Tuesday at the Omaha club.

The school girls are waving goodbye to us, for the broad campus and school room call them. The boys' schools will be sadly depleted this year, so many of the erstwhile students having chosen to complete their educations in the college of war with Uncle Sam as prexy.

Dinner at Fontenelle. Miss Mary Ida Moore will be the honor guest at a dinner party at the Fontenelle on Sunday, followed by a theater party at the Boyd. Those present will be: Misses—Mary Ida Moore, Maude Malloy Rowe, Gertrude Kennedy, Mary C. Hanley, Marjorie Corrigan, Margaret Brown.

Card Party. A card party will be given Tuesday evening by members of Holy Name Parish at their hall, Forty-fifth and Bardette streets. Twenty prizes will be given.

Kosher Restaurant Approved Efforts of the Jewish Welfare board to provide Kosher food in army camps for visitors of soldiers have met with the approval of the military morale section of the War department, which is lending its cooperation to the plan. A Kosher restaurant has been recommended and will probably be established shortly at Camp Upton, which has the largest Jewish military population of any camp.

Lts. Sidney Stocking and George Stocking have arrived safely overseas.

One $500 bond will provide two machine guns or 300 steel helmets (Carnegie district).

Dermatologist Gives Complexion Secret

"The great secret of keeping the face young is to keep off the dead cuticle," says Dr. J. Mortimer Mitchell. "It is well known that the surface skin is constantly drying, falling off in imperceptible particles, except in some diseased conditions, when the same appear like dandruff. But the particles do not all drop off immediately they die, being kept for a while by the live skin. To have the dermatological surgeon peel off the entire outer skin at one time is a painful and expensive operation. The same result is obtained by applying ordinary mercuric wax, as you would sold cream, allowing this to remain on over night, then taking it off with warm water. One ounce usually suffices. The process is both painless and inexpensive. The wax, which is absorbable at your drug store, hastens the natural shedding process. It gradually absorbs the dead and dried skin, revealing the new, healthy, youthful-looking skin underneath."—Adv.
