Pronounced sentiment favoring the bulls showed itself in corn as soon as trading began. The reduced movement of the crop was plainly evident and there seemed to be no immediate prospect that the ban would be lifted which had stopped the issuance of permits for rural shipments. On the contrary, some dealers who had grain already loaded were said to be unable to get permits. Besides, wet weather over the west and northwest appeared to be retarding somewhat the curing of the crop. Corn Prices Unchanged to 3 Upward Tendency Checked by Professional Selling; Money Restriction Is Still the Paramount Factor.

Omaha, September 25, 1918.

Receipts of grain today were excedingly light, with 16 cars of wheat, 38 cars of corn, 14 cars of oats, 1 car of rye and 2 cars of barley. New York, Sept. 25 .- Resumption of professional selling on a broader scale in the stock market today checked the upward tendency which had been in evidence dur-ing the past week. Conviction is stil-strong in some quarters that, aside from Corn prices ranged from unchanged to any special influences which may inject themselves as levers to raise prices, money restriction is still the paramount factor. Oats were unchanged to \u00e4c up.
There was virtually no market for wheat from the traders and the offerings Disposition has been shown, also, toward retrenchment in purchasing with a view to investing in the fourth Liberty loan.

After the somewhat confused opening, there were sharp declines when generous offerings in many stocks, notably United States Steel, were not absorbed except at marked concessions. The general weakness in steels was attributed to prospect of smaller rains. pect of smaller earnings as a result of the decision to operate under an eight-hour day, this plan foreshadowing largely increased prices for labor.

Tobaccos, distillery shares, oils, motors and coppers suffered depressions in sympathy. Marine preferred's gain, amounting to 3% points for the day, developed after published reports that an announcement would soon be made that the British tonnage would be sold under a plan assuring higher valuation for both classes of its stock.

An interesting feature of the operations was acute weakness in Angio-French 5s, which declined & of a point, in contrast with the establishment of high prices for the year in the various municipal issues.

Liberty bonds were affected early after announcement of the terms of the new issue, but strengthened later. The general bond list was variable. Total sales, par

Pesek to Give Exhibition at Fort Omaha for Soldiers Thursday Night: Meets Ray and Ecklund.

Wrestling fans will see the farewell exhibition of that sport for the duration of the war between high class heavyweights when John Pesek, the Shelton grappler, and Charlie Peters, the Papillion carpenter, mix at the auditorium Friday night. Both men are in the prime of condition, with a grudge to sets assured.

The war game has proved too fascinating to remain away from, and both men will enlist in war work after their battle here. Pesek leaves to join the army and his future battles will be staged by the boys in khaki. Peters leaves October 15 for the Pacific coast where he will enserve his country and family in that
