Buzzing with life and merriment, the Ak-Sar-Ben carnival went on yesterday and last night with crowds that were out to have a good time. It was a big day and a big night, with perfect "circus" weather to help along.

These gentlemen, having been duly elected to the positions of mayor and police commissioner, respectively, have put the kibosh on the "paddle wheels" and the numerous booths on the carnival grounds where from time immemorial it has been possible to win a box of candy, a kewpie doll, a ham, a pocket knife, dream book, nearly good watch and various other useful articles for a nickel or a dime.

Four of the towns were carried by storm by Pennsylvania, Kansas and Missouri troops of Major General Liggett's corps, General Pershing said in his official statement on the battle, received tonight at the War department. The enemy offered stubborn resistance.

Troops of the other corps forced their way across the Forges brook, took the Bois De Forges and wrested from the enemy the towns of Malancourt, Bethincourt, Montfaucon, Cuisy, Nantilles, Zeptzarges, Danneux and Gercourt-Et-Drillancourt.
