6-B

THE OMAHA BEE DAILY (MORNING)-EVENING-SUNDAY FOUNDED BY EDWARD ROSEWATER VICTOR ROSEWATER, EDITOR THE BEE PUBLISHING COMPANY, PROPRIETOR

MEMBERS OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS modiated Press, of which The Bee is a member, is exclusively d to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited w not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news hed herein. All rights of publication of our special dispatches to reserved. to it or

OFFICES: hisseo-People's Gas Building. Tort-136 Fifth Ava. L Lecis-New B's of Commerce. Council Biuffs-14 N. Main St. Council Biuffs-14 N. Main St. Lincoin-1411 St. AUGUST CIRCULATION Daily 67,135-Sunday 59,036

Average circulation for the month, subscribed and sworn to by Dwight Williams, Circulation Manager. Subscribers leaving the city should have The Bee mailed to them. Address changed as often as requested.

THE BEE'S SERVICE FLAG

Put the good old U. S. A. behind the punch.

"T. N. T." has a nasty habit of going off on slight provocation, and is no respecter of per-8008.

You have the best excuse you ever had for not going to church today, but it will not last forever.

The "Spanish flu" germ avoids the interned Germans, proving that the bug has some sense, after all.

Things are reported to be "moving" in Turkey. The same is true of several places on the map in Europe.

Not many people will quarrel with an edict that drives them outdoors into Nebraska's wonderful Indian summer.

Nothing in the quarantine order will prevent people from going into the parks or visiting the country as far as they like today.

Foch has materially assisted the new German chancellor in coming to the conclusion that it will be well to restore Belgium.

While indoor Liberty loan meetings are abandoned, nothing in the situation should operate to prevent your buying a bond.

"The United States is no boarding house," says "T. R.," and he thereby states a great truth which all the world is coming to recognize.

Over 10.000 men a day landed in France for the American army during the month of August. Some feat, no matter how it is viewed.

The kaiser was right when he told his people last March that the hour had struck, but he was not well prepared for the recoil. In fact, the hour struck him.

OH, WHAT A FLOP!

Oh, what a beautiful flop our amiable hy phenated contemporary is now performing to cover over another black spot in its record of pro-Germanism, though being a flop in the right direction, it perhaps calls for approval in spite of its doubtful sincerity.

We refer to latest pronouncement of the World-Herald unequivocally and unconditionally in favor of the pending constitutional amendment decreeing "no votes for aliens," when scarcely six months ago it was trying to save the right of subjects of the kaiser to continue to vote in Nebraska until after the next presidential election.

To keep the record straight, we quote from the documents in the case.

In his address to the Nebraska legislature, convened in special session March 26, last, Governor Neville, now heading the democratic state ticket for re-election, treated this subject as follows:

"The time has come when steps should be taken to make citizenship the qualification of an elector. I have no patience or disposition to temporize with the man of foreign birth who has enjoyed every advantage of citizenship, and who now, in the hour of our country's peril, is in sympathy with our enemies and covertly lending aid and comfort to them. With the aid of federal and state laws they should be placed where they will no longer be a menace. On the other hand, no good end can be accomplished by disfranchising a considerable number of friendly aliens, many of them natives of our allied nations, others the subjects of neutral countries, and some of them, whose loyalty to our country cannot be questioned, the subjects of countries with which we are at war. We gain nothing if in disfranchising the alien enemy we disfranchise a greater number of alien friends who will, at the earliest posisble moment, become desirable and patroitic citizens. With these considerations in mind, I recommend that an amendment be submitted for the consideration of the voters of the next regular election, making citizenship the qualification of ah elector, and allowing those declarants who are voting at the time of its enactment a reasonable period in which to complete their citizenship.

The source of the governor's inspiration was quickly disclosed by the hyphenated World-Herald promptly trumping his play. This is what that organ of pro-Germanism said editorially the next morning:

"The governor's recommendations are, this newspaper believes, uniformly good and worthy of adoption. He takes a strong stand for confining the right of franchise to fullfledged citizens. But he would not take away that right from those who now and for long have been exercising it without giving them a reasonable time in which to complete their citizenship. These recommendations of Governor Neville will, we believe, meet with the hearty approval of Nebraska, and no less hearty approval of the legislature."

This particular recommendation, however, did not meet with the approval of Nebraska, nor with the approval of the legislature, but, on the contrary, evoked an immediate and indignant protest, with the consequence that the lawmakers submitted the amendment without the saving clause for Hun voters demanded by the governor of Nebraska and the World-Herald. And now the hyphenated sheet slyly backtracks with this declaration:

"Every man and woman who hereafter helps by the ballot to decide what shall be our dealings and relations with foreign nations

Britsh renewed artillery attacks in Flanders. Peru severed diplomatic relations with Germany. The special war session of the United States congress ended.

In Omaha 30 Years Ago.

Mrs. Dr. Mercer has returned from New Haven, whither she accompanied her son, who will enter Yale college. R. S. Berlin entertained the Omaha guards at his residence, the evening being enjoyed with music, reci tations, etc.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. M. Horwich on Pierce street was the scene of a festive gathering, the occasion being the engagement of their son, Kaspar, to Miss Fannie Trajinsky.

The Ladies' Musical Society of Omaha and Council Bluffs has elected the following officers for the vear: President, Miss Poppleton; vice-president, Miss Officer; secretary, Mrs. Martin Cahn; treasurer. Mrs. R. S. Whitmore; secretary and treasurer for Council Bluffs, Mrs. J. M. Treynor. J. S. Tebbitts has returned from his long vacation in Maine. Joe Henshaw, one of the old time hotel clerks of Omaha, is at the Millard.

The Day We Celebrate.

John L. McCague, president Mc-Cague Investment company, born 1856.

Fred F. Paffenrath, local manager for Nicoll the Tailor, born 1866. County Judge Bryce Crawford, born 1869.

Robert F. Gilder, artist and archacologist born 1856. Ernest E. Beale, vice-president of the Central Coke & Coal company, born 1869.

William A. Kelly, veteran in the Omaha postoffice, born 1854. Major General Joseph T. Dick-man, U. S. A., born in Ohio, 61 years

Albert J, Beveridge, former United States senator from Indiana, born in Adams county, Ohio, 56 years ago. Sir Thomas G. Shaughnessy, head of the executive committee of the Canadian Railways War board, born in Milwaukee, 65 years ago. Rt. Rev. Mathias C. Lenihan, Catholic bishop of Great Falls, Mont., born at Dubuque, Iowa, 64 years ago. Joseph W. Bailey, former United States senator from Texas, born in Copish county, Miss., 55 years ago.

This Day in History.

Around the Cities Views and Reviews Comparison of Spanish "Flu"

Excitement Here and Abroad

THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE: OCTOBER 6, 1918.

Over in Chicago for two days this week, although the people there were greatly excited $40,000. over the influenza epidemic, they did not seem quite so panicky as I found Omaha 1, be on my fers is making progress in New York return. True, the Great Lakes naval training station and the Camp Grant cantonment had been quarantined, and there was a noticeable absence of uniforms on the streets ordinarily so much in evidence. Visitors who had come long distances to see relatives in training were deeply disappointed in not being able to have their expectations met, but the theaters and movies were going and the schools were running and the several conventions and downtown | routes until after 7 a. m. meetings in progress were uninterrupted. The newspapers, however, were full of "flu" stories and free advice what to do to keep from getting that certain restaurants in the city the "flu" or to keep others from getting it from those who already had it, but if anyone was working in "flu" masks they must have kept themselves in out-of-way places. The most reassuring bit of information was the assertion by one of the recognized medical authorities that time in his own shop, contrary to not 1 per cent of the cases prove fatal.

spoke at the Omaha Chamber of Commerce last merged into sunflower tones. spring on the work of the National Security league and the need of reinforcing the demand for thorough-going war legislation will grasp the same vein of earnestness running through his new book, which is entitled "Federal Power —Its Growth and Necessity." In this volume Mr. West, who used to be a Washington news-bility of using trust funds to absorb paper man, as also one of the commissioners the indebtedness. for the District of Columbia, corresponding for the City of Washington to what a city commissiofler is for Omaha, goes historically into the September 30. This is one-third of growth of centralized power in this country and the exercise by the federal government of more and more authority formerly supposed to belong to the states alone. He shows that the doctrine The state loses $4,000,000 in license of states rights has become not only obsolete, money and the city a much higher but cannot possibly be revivified. He drives sum. home his conclusion that "we must honestly recognize the fact that the states have been eliminated as national factors and that we have established a federal government with supreme functions," and that our next task and business is to make that centralized government elastic and keep the federal power under control of the people free from the perils of autocracy.

Such an interesting chapter of forgotten history has been dug up by Al Sorenson that I take the liberty of appropriating it (with this due credit) for Bee readers:

In looking over my library the other day I ran across a booklet entitled "Ins and Outs; or the True Inwardness of Political Reform." It was published in 1877, and the author was Willis Sweet, who for a brief period was an editorial writer on The Bee staff. Mr. Sweet married the daughter of Rev. Mr. Copeland, a Unitarian minister, and soon after moved to Idaho, where a few years later he was elected congressman. His political observations in Nebraska had taught him how to turn a trick or two in Idaho. His booklet is dedicated "to the ward politician, self-appointed officeseeker, defamer of character, and to all who owe success to pledges made and ruthlessly broken." In his preface Mr. Sweet says: The word reform has been used as a subject for more orations, sermons and editorials than any other word or topic in the English language. Church reform, social reform, dress reform, temperance reform and political reform are the great reforms of today. There is a certain degree of earnestness on the part of few interested in each of these reform movements; but combine all the sincerity and demagogism embarked in all the various movements and then place demagogism between sincerity and the searcher after truth, and sincirity would be hidden out of sight. The battle which has been raging between the Ins and Outs since political history began has ever been fought under the reform banner, and the close observer must conclude that political reform in this century is the most stupendous fraud of the age. This little book is simply a condensed history of a great

Over There and Here In the last five months the Chris-

New York will dismiss all alien tian Scientists among themselves have raised over $1,000,000 for war achers from its schools. The city of Montreal bought a lot relief work.

of steel several years ago to enlarge the city waterworks, but the under-taking was postponed. Recently the city sold the steel at a profit of Horse stealing has developed into a big business in Vienna. A report quotes $1,000 to $1,500 as the price of a horse for slaughtering for food. Slaughtering makes discovery im-

City. Two parcels of land totaling $172,000 changed ownership at a fee tures, urging the internment of al enemy aliens in Great Britain has cost of $426.37, said to be a material reduction of transfer fees. been presented to the government. Fresh cream for the breakfast cof-The petition is the work of the Na tional party, an organization whose fee bids farewell to the early risers at Minneapolis. The milk wagon drivers' union served an ultimatum object is "to eradicate all German influence" in the United Kingdom. on all concerned that henceforth One of the largest refrigerating there will be nothing doing on milk plants in the world has been built f

A Philadelphia investigator, as the result of an extended search, finds squeeze patrons to the screaming limit. Nothing new about that. Most any diner-out knows the feeling from home experience. Over in Cedar Rapids, Ia., a barber who persisted in working overunion rules, one morning found his shop front smeared with vellow Those who heard Henry L. West when he paint, and the stripes of his pole

Chicago authorities are wrestling Dast. with a deficit of sarge proportions. Already some $1,750,000 has been advanced by the banks to meet the city's payrolls, and the latter keep on coming. As a means of relief,

A total of 2,447 saloons went out of business in Greater New York on the whole number, most of them owned by the brewers, who visioned the end of beer production Decemher 1, and allowed licenses to lapse.

EDITORIAL SHRAPNEL

St. Louis Globe Democrat: The Hapsburgs and the Hohenzollerns are now fighting for their jobs. Minneapolis Tribune: Thirteen million men in the new draft age!

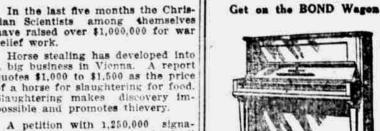

Bulgaria asking an armistice on Friday! A black cat crossing the kaiser's path. What's the answer? Kansas City Star: Of course, Germany cannot be expected to think much of the allied triumph over Bulgaria. It was accomplished with out treachery or lying propaganda. New York Herald: No doubt if all the Germans at the front surrendered the chancellor would get up in the Reichstag and announce that it was a triumphant plece of strategy on the part of that great genius

Baltimore American: The cotton planter is human, just like the rest of us who are not Huns or hyenas in disguise, and that is the reason why he wants the sky to be the only limit for the price of cotton. But-all the same-there is just as much reason why a fair limit should be fixed for the price of cotton as for

New York World: The Bank of Germany's gold reserves have never recovered from the $25,000,000 sen to Russia to bribe the Trotzkys and Lenines. Creeping up a little week by week, as new coins are squeezed from children's toy banks and other sources, these reserves are still $5,000,000 below those of 1916. And in Holland, Saturday, the German

ODD BITS OF LIFE

'lf you want your CANNON booming at the front you must keep your BUSINESS booming at home."

Boomers"

$275

France by Uncle Sam's hustlers. The plant is the main one of the army located "in a field six miles long and as level as a billiard table," and Among MONDAY'S and comprises a score of buildings connected by railroad tracks.

"Business It is an open secret now that during the first two years of the war British naval and military authorities would have been badly off had it not been for German lenses obtained through neutral markets. At present a rapidly growing glass industry has been established and the old dependence on Jena is a thing of the

We Mention: Reciprocal treatles favorably re-ported to the United States senate will render 100,000 subjects of France and Greece residing in the A handsome Knabe Piane, beau-United States subject to military service in their native land. Unless tiful tone, responsive action, not entirely they accept service under the Amer-can flag or elect to go into the service of the home countries they must eave the United States.

vates, noncoms as well as high officials, to enter swell restaurants and sit down to a war-time feast. These obster palaces rarely see a French

TAKE HAIR OUT

A Schmoller & Mueller Plane, genuine mahogany, good Paris caterers thought they knew new, and the $175 American spenders pretty well, from peace time observation. The comprice is ..... ing of the American army brought new revelations. It is now a com-mon occurrence for American pri-A Splendid Player Piano (used), full 88-note; no better $295 value obtainable.....

private. Modest pay forbids. But Brand New Upright Pianos. $250 he well-to-do American private, of whom there are thousands overseas, "Apartment" Grands.....$525 takes in all Paris has to offer when Player Pianos .....$475 The World Famed Pianola. $575

> Schmoller & Mueller Piano Co. 1311-13 Farnam St. Estab. 1859.

DR. BENA F BAILES SANATORIU Linaster nes

This institution is the only one in the central west with separate buildings situated in their own ample grounds, yet entirely dis-The hoarded wealth of Croesus tinct, and rendering it possible to could not purchase a modicum of classify cases. The one building dingity for his memorable funeral. being fitted for and devoted to We will furnish you a service the treatment of non-contagious whose modest yet impressive dig-nity appeals to the sensible person being admitted; the other Rest of moderate means. We pay strict Cottage being designed for and attention to all details and will devoted to the exclusive treatserve you in an efficient manner. ment of select mental cases requiring for a time watchful care Funeral Parlor. (Established 1888.) and special nursing. 17th and Cuming Sts. Tel. Douglas 1060.

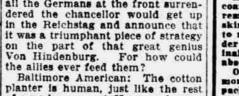

New York.

duty permits.

Dignified.yet. inexpensive mark was at 47.1 per cent. discount!

the price of wheat.

King Ferdinand of Bulgaria has done one act in connection with the war that becomes him-he has abdicated. Sets a good example for the kaiser, too.

Still, you'll have to admit that "Charley" Pool was both thrifty and enterprising when he enclosed his campaign literature with the official mail going out from his office.

Americans are credited with having borne the big end of the hardest fighting around Cambrai, as well as along the Meuse, and they are winning all the way, just as the home folks knew they would.

Formation of an American foreign legion is proceeding apace, but no faster than the Czechs, Slave and others of the oppressed and submerged races in Europe would like to see it. These are really fighting for liberty, and well they know why.

German newspapers are now giving extra credit to Hun regiments that stand up and fight the oncoming Americans. Some change in view from the early days of the summer, when these same papers insisted that the Yanks couldn't get across and wouldn't fight if they did.

The Hun has given another reason for the exclusion of Wagnerian music from American programs by naming his "lines" after the heroes and heroines of the great Richard's noisy operas. As some of our readers may recall, these characters behaved in a way the present-day German admires and tries to imitate.

"Colossal Cheek"

The German announcement that any captured American who has a shotgun in his hands will be executed at once and that if America continues to furnish shotguns to its troops "other reprisals" will be carried out, is based on the statement that the use of such weapons is rbidden by The Hague conventions." This is a curious proposition worth a bit of analysis. Article II, section 23, of The Hague convention of 1899, and the same numbered section and article of the convention of 1907, in identical language, prohibit the use in land warfare of arms, projectiles or materials "propres a causer naux superflus." The record copy is, of course. in French. How vagueness appears in this may be noted from the fact that the same French words are differently translated in the official text of the two conventions. The English text of 1899 makes the phrase read "of a nature to cause superfluous injury." The text of 1907 makes it "calculated to cause unnecessary suf-That is the nearest thing to any mention of shotguns.

No military man will say that such injury as is necessary to stop an enemy soldier from further fighting is "superfluous injury." The shotgun does stop such a soldier with less risk to his life than a rifle involves, but perhaps with more "suffering." The average man would rather be stopped with buckshot than with a rifie bullet. Pain may be greater, but life is the "mportant thing. But it is a superb illustration of the colossal "cheek" of Berlin, when the inventor of the poison gas classes anything else as against in-ternational law because it inflicts "maux supers." Germany, the barbarous, cannot come ato court with clean hands to plead on any

As to the murder of prisoners, counter reation is the easiest thing in the world for the s. We may well regard the German threat a bluff. If it turns out to be anything more altuation will be dealt with sternly and justly the entents commanders.—Brooklyn Eagle.

must be an American citizen first, last and all the time-an American citizen exclusively and only. He cannot be permitted to claim exemption from a citizen's duties while enjoying the citizens' proudest privilege and most sacred right.

"This is elemental and fundamental. We are not arguing the question-there is no question to argue. We are merely stating a self-evident proposition-an axiom."

If this is fundamental and an axiom now, how could it have been less fundamental and less an axiom six months ago? The democratic governor and the hyphenated World-Herald stand self-convicted of an attempt to maintain intact the chief prop of the kaiser's propaganda in this country. An overwhelming vote in favor of the adoption of the full citizenship amendment at the coming election will be our best answer to the cunning emissaries of "kultur."

Insincerity of Austrian Overtures.

Again Austria invites belligerents to a discussion of peace terms, but in such fashion as to plainly show a lack of sincerity. In the list of delegates assembled at Vienna to storm the world with the newest proposal we find Wekerle, Tisza, Apponyi and Andrassy, all pastmasters in the gentle Austrian art of doublecrossing. Prince Maximilian, "pacifist" chancellor of the German empire, is collecting a cabinet of political misfits and nondescripts, pretending to be a coalition of all Germany's interests, but really a makeshift gathered in hope of fooling somebody.

Each of the Hungarian statesmen named is reactionary to the limit; the Jugo-Slavs have groaned under the Magyar oppression for generations, and now the incarnate heads of that tyranny are set up as evangels of a just and lasting peace. In Germany we find Schiedemann, socialist, who connived with Erzberger to overturn von Bethmann-Holweg and then accepted Michaelis and later von Hertling, filling a place in the cabinet; von Hintze changing parties that he may retain the portfolio of foreign minister, Groeber, defender of the Brest-Litovsk farce, and finally Prince Maximilian declaring his support of the Reichstag resolution of July, 1917.

Where can any hope for peace founded on impartial justice for all nations spring from such a group? Representatives of a system of international politics that has been sent to the discard, they inspire no confidence in a world grown both wary and weary of their machina-

When the tricksters who have manipulated the destiny of central Europe for so long, heritors of ages of intrigue, deception and perfidy, come with open hands, willing to accept a peace not made in Germany, they will find that unconditional surrender is intended for Germany and Austria, as well as for Bulgaria and Turkey.

William Allen White's khaki pants have gone to war again, but this time Private Bill White is wearing them instead of his father, who makes light of his/loss, but descants lengthily on the young man's aptitude for loot. It comes natural to a Jayhawker.

One comforting thing about the "flu" is that one is not required to take all the advice that is given. Just follow common sense rules of life and you will stand as good a chance of missing it as any

and the particular of 1762-The British took Manila and demanded a ransom of $4,000,-1806-Prussia joined the allies of England against. France. 1818-Shadrach Bond was inaugurated first state governor of Illinois at Kaskaskia. 1848-Vienna fell into the hands of the revolutionists.

1886-John B. Gordon was elected governor of Georgia without oppo-

1891-Charles Stewart Parnell, Irish political leader, died at Brighton, Eng. Born in County Wicklow. June 27, 1846. 1914-Japanese captured Jaluit Island in the Marshall group.

1915-Austro-Germans began the invasion of Serbia. 1916-Berlin claimed all Russian attacks in Galicia had been repulsed.

Timely Jottings and Reminders. 1.528th dy of the great war.

Centennial anniversary of the inauguration of Shadrach Bond as first state governor of Illinois. Liberty Loan Sunday will be observed throughout the United States today with church sermons appropriating the occasion.

The Ancient Order of United Workmen, a pioneer of American fraternal societies, today begins a celebration of the semi-centennial of its founding.

Storyette of the Day.

Charles Belmont Davis was talking at the Philadelphia club about his recent official visit to England. "England isn't starving," he said, "but she is hard pressed. "One of my companions, on our arrival in London, entered a restaurant, and without noticing the tiny portions of dried fish and liquid Chinese eggs and salt porpoise and suchlike substances that were being served all round him my companion rubbed his hands gleefully and said to the waiter: Waiter. I'd like to have a large, juicy sirloin off the grill, three inches thick, underdone, and with a lump of fresh butter on the top." 'Ha, ha, ha! I don't blame you, sir,' the waiter said."-Detroit Free Press.

SIGN POSTS OF PROGRESS

A portable rack has been patented that converts the corner of any room into a wardrobe.

To aid a carver a Denver man has invented a clamp which holds a roast of meat firmly and permits it to be turned over easily.

New York longshoremen struck for $8 a day, of eight hours, and $2 an hour for overtime. They'll av erage $60 a week on that scheme. Machinery for ships in which a steam turbine and an oil engine are coupled to each propeiler, per-mitting either kind of fuel to be used, has been patented by a Swiss inventor. A horse-drawn cranberry-picking machine is a novelty recently tried on the canberry bogs of Plymouth. Those who know harvesting condi-tions think the machine is too high and topheavy and the horse and the wheels crush a lot of cranberries. James Lord, a farmer living in Goshen, Ind., has just received a check for $1,200 for potatoes dug from a three-acre tract. The seed potatoes cost him enly the labor of hauling last spring, and he harvested 560 sucks of potatoes, averag-ing 115 pounds to the sack, for which he received $1.75 per 100 pounds. political reform movement in Aksarben," etc. The reader will observe that Mr. Sweet was probably the first person to spell the name of Nebraska backward. He also disguises Omaha as Ahomo. It will be remembered that when the now famous order of the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben was organized the promoters offered a prize for the most appropriate name. Ak-Sar-Ben was chosen from a large number of names presented. Did the winner of the prize ever read "Ins and Outs," or was it a coincidence that the said winner, thought of the name and believed it to be entirely original? It was Solomon who said there is nothing new under the sun. But there is an exception to every rule, and Solomon is a back number, anyway, and some of his sayings are ditto. The world "do move," as Brother Jasper declared. 'Ins and Outs" is a semi-comic yet truthful story of the famous Hitchcock-Saunders senatorial campaign, resulting in the defeat of P. W. Hitchcock for a second term. The principal characters in that political drama are thinly concealed under fictitious names, easily recognizable. Hitchcock appears as Hickox; Saunders as Sanderson; Briggs as Triggs; Dr. Miller as Dr. Pipifax; Datus C. Brooks as Potatus Baggs, editor of the Go-for, alias Republican; Theron Nye as Nigh; W. E. Dorsey as Alphabet Dorsen; Ashby Ashbert; Governor Butler as Governor Butterby; Silas A. Garber as Garter; C. E. Yost as J. O. East; T. M. Marquette as Marquis; Kountze as Kounse; C. E. Perkins as E. C Kirpens; Major Paddock as Major Dockpad; Billy Irving as Girvin, and Edward Rosewater as Rosebud, editor of The Wasp. Much space is devoted to Rosebud, who, with his peppery paper, cut a big chunk of ice in that memorable red hot campaign. For further information it may be added that Mr. Sweet was afterwards appointed to a federal judgship in Porto Rico, but died nearly ten years ago.

Cietor Rosewater

People and Events

People and Livenis Cheer up, fellers. Profiteers can't keep all ngs up in the clouds. The mercury is com-up in the clouds. The mercury is com-son's Weekly. things up in the clouds. The mercury is coming down, also the elevator and Hun pride.

A New York man recently filed a petition in bankruptcy, owing $700,000 and no assets. Still the Knickerbocker town flatters itself that only but the country is easy.

The lot of the millionaire is not a happy one around Chicago. Drafting chauffeurs to essential war work puts the former up against the duty of driving their own cars.

The only Chauncy Depew last week enjoyed urba -- Cincinnati Enquirer. the rare experience of making a speech at the dedication of his own monument, reared by the people of Peekskill, his home town. "As a rule," Mr. Depew explained, "statues are made, after a man is dead, from photographs and reminiscences-the reminiscences being all different. This was made after careful sittings, and my friends say it is like me." The statue, life size, represents Mr. Depew in an easy oratorical pose-the uplifted right hand and index inger straight up as if challenging the lightning of the clouds. A notable change from artistic canons is the absence of Napoleonic shelter of the left hand under the buttoned ministerial coat. Chauncey's coat is unbuttoned, but the left hand has a thumb clutch on his trouser's waistband, whether in the safety pocket or the suspender is not clear in the print. Most likely the hand safeguards suspender buttons against the convulsions of one or more of Chauncey's celebrated stories. Omaha people who recall Mr. Depew's New York day address at the Transmississippi exposition may readily draw a mental picture of the Peekskill bronze figure.

A person in a Maine village who had posed for 23 years as a girl created a sensation by donning male attire, confessing that he was a man, N. P. SWANSON and marrying a school teacher. A Brattleboro, Vt., man who, boarding out, was found to have a sugar card, and when the food administrator demanded the card the man protested that he couldn't drink cider without sugar. N. J. Laughton, of Old Orchard.

picked four Wolf River apples that together weighed six pounds. One of them weighed two and one-half pounds. Another apple picked from the same tree made a pie. Among the latest articles received at the salvage headquarters of the American Red Cross in Washington, are a mimeograph machine, several discarded bell-hop uniforms, three soup containers, seven trunks and a batch of 70,000 post cards. A young man in Atlanta at a mov ing picture show, watching the docking of an American transport at a port in France recognized the first officer to step from the transport as his father, Maj. O. T. Kenan, and so got his first intimation of his father's whereabouts.

A well-to-do Brussels woman writes in a letter: "I have a cloak made out of the hood of my husband's service cape, a waist made of his foot ball tunic and a dress made out of a sheet; mamma has managed a dress out of the diningroom tablecloth, my sisters have cloaks made out of woolen blankets."

SMILING LINES.

"What's in the mail from your husband today 7

"A couple of needles. He wants me to thread 'em and mail 'em back to him. Got to do some sewing, he says."-Louis-ville Courier-Journal.

"What in the world makes Cranksmith so peculiar?"

"Ol. some years ago he flew all to places over something, and the doctor put him together wrong."-Judge.

"My good woman, do you believe in castigating children by way of disci-

"I don't believe in none of these yere new-fangled ways of bringing up chil-dren. I believe in a good lickin."-Bal-timore American.

Officer-How is this, Murphy? The bergeant complains that you called him names. Private Murphy .-- Plaze, surr, I never

"It must be awful to be married to poet

"It has its disadvantages, I'll admit in war times no one can accuse him being a profiteer."-Detroit Free Press.

Lawyer-Now tell me the truth. Doesn't your master live in continual trepida

Witness-No. sir: he lives in the sub-

NEBRASKA.

Cross the old Missouri River Through the gateway of the west Where the sunsets are the brightest And where everything is best-'Cross the old Missouri River, O, that's where I would be, Where the plains of fair Nebraska Hold the heart and soul of me

When the golden sunset's fading. And the dusky twilight falls, Then my heart goes out in answer As the voice of Helmweh calls From the home in wide Nebraska Where they're missing me today. And the time when J'll go back the Seems a million years away.

Take me back, then, to my homeland. To the State of Goldenrod, Where the fertile fields and meadows Bloom beneath the smile of God. 'Cross the old Missouri River, For that's where I would be, Where the plains of fair Nebraska Hold the heart and soul for me! -REGINA MART OLSON. Washington, D. G.

October Sale PIANOS AND PLAYERS

We Include Our Entire Stock! Contracted Purchases before the Rise in PRICES

Now is the opportunity, make your selection for the holidays. Leave the Piano with us until wanted.

TERMS

convenient and to suit your purse.

Fine line of

Mason & Hamlin Brambach Bush & Lane Cable-Nelson

Kranich & Bach Vose & Sons Kimball -Hospe

Player Pianos

Apollo Electric Apollophone Melville Clark Players Gulbransen Players Kranich & Bach Players Hospe Players

We Have Pianos from $150 Up Player-Pianos from $375 Up

and they are positively guaranteed.

Your long evenings, your gasless Sundays require music, and music which can be produced artistically without practice or study. If you don't believe it. come to our warerooms and be shown.

Chicago Opera Co., Nov. 1-2. "The Victor Store."

and the second