Red Cross

First Methodist auxiliary will meet Wednesday at 10 a. m. in Masonic temple, third floor. There is special work to do.

Baptist church auxiliary No. 2 will meet for work Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in Masonic temple.

Numerous applicants have applied at the State Red Cross for overseas service since the call for 100 workers was issued a week ago.

Miss Elsie Logan, who has been accepted for stenographic work, has received her overseas orders and will leave Wednesday for an eastern port.

Dr. J. H. Vance has been appointed chairman for first aid classes at Omaha chapter.

Omaha chapter acknowledges appreciation to the Jewish Welfare board for the use of its club rooms in the Lyric building, free of rent, for Mrs. Leigh Leslie's instruction classes.

Miss Mary Maher is chairman of a new auxiliary formed by the Patriotic club to meet Monday evenings at Sacred Heart school, Twenty-second and Binney.

The salvage department's refreshment booth on the carnival grounds netted the Red Cross $834.14.

Mrs. J. P. Jantzen, chairman of Edward Rosewater community unit No. 15, is one of the tireless Red Cross workers. Besides leading the surgical dressings and knitting departments of her unit, Mrs. Jantzen crocheted a lovely pillow cover which sold for $10. The money was used to buy oilcloth and other necessities for equipping the work room.

New Patriotic Club. Young women of St. Patrick's parish have organized a patriotic club, the object of which is to be useful during the war. A course in first aid will be taken, followed by a course in home nursing. Officers were elected as follows: Katherine Connell, president; Cordula Haverly, secretary, and Margaret Danahey, treasurer.

For Visiting Girls. Miss Pauline Hayward of Chicago, the charming guest of Miss Marian Weller, has as yet found no time for social affairs, for she has been working industriously for the Liberty loan. The latter part of the week, however, some parties will

BEAUTIFUL HAIR, THICK, WAVY, FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Draw a moist cloth through hair and double its beauty at once.

Save your hair! Dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Immediate!—Yes! Certain?—That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after an application of Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected and is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few months' use when you see new hair—fine and downy at first, then growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

Dandruffy Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do for all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It doesn't expense and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how long your hair is. This simple remedy will never fail.—Adv.

Buy Bread Instead of Baking Without Substitutes.

"Women of the United States are not doing all they can in the matter of using cereal substitutes," says Ida C. B. Allen, lecturer for the Federal Food administration. "From widely separated points I learn that floors of grains other than wheat are being fed to chickens or hogs and not baked into bread as Mr. Hoover contemplates. If you can not make good bread with the substitutes you owe it to yourself, your country and our allies to buy your bread, for the baker must use the substitutes and experience has shown that he can make a fine palatable loaf with them."

"I have reports of cities where as much as 80 per cent of the substitutes were being wasted. But sup-

The Lunch Box.

What to put in the lunch box is a question which confronts some housewives morning after morning. The problem has always been difficult because of the danger of monotony and nowadays there is the extra complication of sugarless sweets. No one can spend much time in the morning preparation, so the lunch things must either be very simple or be prepared the day before. If the lunch box is such that liquids, or semi-liquids may be carried the problem of variety is easier solved, and if the lunch box be of the thermos kind, it is easier still to plan an attractive lunch, differing from day to day. But since most of us still use the straight cold lunch that can be carried in any kind of a box, my suggestions are for that type of lunch.

The Sandwichee. The standby of the lunch from home has always been the sandwich and don't you wonder sometimes what to put into it? To help out in variety, the kind of bread may be different once or twice a week; or if the lunch is for a girl, the shape pose only half of the women misapply them, we still have the appalling figure of 500 millions of pounds of flour wasted, enough to supply bread to an army of 2,000,000 men for almost a year.

"This wastage operates to increase the cost of mill feeds, which is one of the reasons why milk is higher all over the United States than it ever has been before. If you can't bake properly, buy it is more patriotic."

Pending Dates. Chapter E of P. E. O. Sisterhood will be entertained at luncheon, Thursday, at 1 p. m. by Mrs. N. B. Uplike and Mrs. Robert Reasoner, at the home of Mrs. Uplike. This is conditional on the quarantine being lifted.

Up to Monday night subscriptions of Union Pacific officials and employees to the Fourth Liberty loan aggregated $1,000,000. This is in excess of the total subscriptions to the third loan and includes only about one-half of the subscriptions that are expected.

Miss Gross will be very glad to receive suggestions for the home economics column or to answer, as far as she is able, any questions that her readers may ask.

of the sandwich may be changed. A boy probably will care very little if his sandwiches merely look different! If you have been in the habit of cutting the sandwiches into triangles, cut them into finger lengths some day, or merely into straight halves, or into square fourths. Twenty-five kinds of sandwiches easily prepared are given below. If the filling is such that it requires some time in preparation it may be made the day before and kept in a cool place. Such made fillings may be kept for a considerable time in cool weather.

- Different kinds of bread. 1—Victory. 2—Rye. 3—Graham. 4—Raisin. 5—Brown Bread. 6—Baking powder biscuit. 7—Muffins. Different fillings. 8—Cream cheese. 9—American cheese. 10—Cottage cheese. 11—Pimento cheese. 12—Egg, sliced or minced and mixed with salad dressing. 13—Lettuce and salad dressing. 14—Lettuce and sliced radish. Prepared fillings. 15—Datinut butter. 16—Peanut butter. 17—Olive butter. 18—Fruit filling (chopped or ground dates, figs, raisins, nuts, etc. in lemon or orange juice). 19—Jam. 20—Jelly. 21—Marmalade. 22—Sliced or ground meat. 23—Salmon. 24—Sardines. 25—Beans. Innumerable combinations of fillings are possible, for instance egg and cheese, meat and olive, etc.

Fruit a Necessity. No lunch can be complete from the standpoint of attractiveness or healthfulness unless it contains fruit. We are apt to overlook the dried fruits and they help out so well in the winter when the fresh fruits are limited to a few kinds. Plain dates, figs, raisins or even prunes supply the need for fruit and also the desire for a sweet.

The Something Extra. It is the unexpected thing in the lunch which makes it interesting. Cake and cookies are used much more sparingly in the average American household since the war; and we are limiting ourselves more to the few kinds that are least expensive and most in accord with food conservation, hence the something different cannot come with the sweet always. A few nuts, plain or salted, some crisp celery, a few radishes or olives are excellent additions to a lunch and may be successfully carried in oil paper. The olives and nuts add considerable food value as well as variety. There is no reason why candy should not be a part of a lunch, especially now when we are not eating candy between meals. Sweet chocolate fruit or nut candies, molasses and seven candies, and popcorn balls are legitimate as well as delicious sweets to include.

Liberty Loan Notes. The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York wired a $50,000 subscription to Mrs. Walter Souler, chairman of the women's organization committee. Every man, woman, child, maid and chauffeur in the 2100 block on California street owns a bond. It was expected that this would be 100 per cent block, as there are five Liberty loan workers residing there. T. C. Byrne, state chairman; Mrs. Samuel Nathan, captain of the precinct; Mrs. James Paxton and Miss Rose Appelsbaum, block lieutenants. When Mrs. F. A. Bonni, captain of the 12th precinct, Third ward, called on Mrs. G. T. Kulp at the Coronado apartment house, she not only bought a bond but went out to help Mrs. Belmont and sold $2,000 worth of bonds the first day.

Miss Mary Taylor is assistant to Mrs. W. J. Hyne. Hands will play and girls will sell bonds at Fifteenth and Farnam streets every day during the campaign at 12:30 noon. 5 p. m. and 7:40 p. m. Girls will also sell bonds at Sixteenth and Douglas in front of the Brandeis war map, at the same hours.

ADVICE TO THE LOVE-LORN

Worried Soldier's Wife. Since you ask me not to publish your letter, I will not, though you did not give your name and address, so I will have to answer through these columns. You say you are 15 years old and have been married a year and have asked my advice many times. Dear child, you are far too young to be married. No wonder you find it necessary to ask advice, and you may be sure I am glad if I have been of any help to you. In regard to the insurance, very likely your husband has had it placed in his father's name, feeling that if anything should happen to him you would not be able to administer it wisely. It is most unfortunate that you are not on good terms with his family, and I fear that this fact is at the base of all your troubles.
