THE BEE: OMAHA, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1911.

tendent of the Board of Public Welfare and now a welfare worker for the Tribe of Ben Hur, says the ques-

Matron Clayton of the county jail," said Mrs. Ohaus. "If this is the case Matron Clayton will be able to convince her of the necessity of cure of the disease with which she is afflicted. If she refuses to go to the Detention home perhaps Mrs. Claytoh can persuade her to be treated at the county hospital. Then I am at the county hospital. Then I am sure a place could be found for her, preferably in the country, where she could work. The great trouble with so many people who have the han-ding of such cases is that they regard the women not as human beings, but as a menace to society. If she could be convinced that it was her good they had in view they could do more for her."

Railroads Show Increase

During the month of September. the railroads comprising the central western region, loaded 47,186 cars of grain and grain products, an increase of 7,859 cars over the corresponding month last year, or 20 per cent. During the month of September the lines comprising this region loaded 164,342 cars of coal and coke. an increase of 22,043 cars over the same period last year, or 15.5 per cent.

During the same period, 60,691 cars of livestock were loaded, an increase of 9,706 cars, or 19 per cent over the same month last year.

Funeral of Carl Schwarz

George L. German, special agent of the Burlington, is home from Aurora, Ill., where he went to attend the funeral of his nephew, Corporal Carl E. Schwarz, who died at Camp Upton of Spanish flu, after an illness of four days.

He was 26 years old and was in the engineering department of the government service. At the time of con-tracting the disease, his clothes were packed and, according to a letter written to his mother, he was to have sailed for overseas service within a few days.

Russell Eberstein Goes to

Russell Eberstein, acting head of the local department of justice, left Thursday evening for Climax, Mich., to attend the funeral of his brother, Clyde Eberstein, whose death occurred at Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich. Eberstein's sumably following an attack of the Spanish flu. Chief of Police Eberstein and Mrs. Eberstein, parents of the young soldier, left several days ago to be at his bedside but failed to reach their son before his death

Pioneer Nebraskan Dies

Nicholas Rix of Fort Calhoun, died at his home Thursday at the age of 88 years. Mr. Rix was one of the oldest settlers in the state. He came to this country from Ger-many in 1852, and later settled at Commanche, Ia., where he was mar-ried to Marie Hagedorf in 1856. In 1857 he came to Council Bluffs and per settled in Omaha. He was a rpenter by trade and worked at trade here for many years. He survived by five children. The meral will be held Sunday.

