Conducted by Ella Fleishman

COUNCIL BLUFFS

On account of sickness the Morning chapter of St. Paul's guild postponed its meeting planned for Tuesday.

Miss Rosa M. Raabe, returned missionary from Corea, was the guest of Mr and Mrs F. W. Van Druff Monday. Miss Raabe has been spending her furlough at her former home in Oakland and is now en route to a convention at St. Louis.

Monday Unit K auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. McCrae and made their plans for the winter's activities.

The members of the musical department of the Council Bluffs Woman's club met Monday at the home of Mrs. R. S. Pater. The club took up the development of Italian music and its composers. Mrs. Ray Clark reviewed the foundation of musical art, noting the works of Palestrina, whose compositions are still used in the churches of Rome. She was followed by Mrs. Carl Taylor, who sang "Send Me a Rose From Home," by J. F. Cook, and "You Better Bide a Wee." The development of the art of music, which for a thousand years was under the control of the church provided the theme of a very interesting paper by Mrs. Alice Sipherd. Mrs. I. N. Day played the piano solo, "The Brook" by Willie Pope and a Norwegian dance by Greig. Mrs. A. C. Bullock discussed the life and works of Monte Verde, who produced some of the forerunners of modern music, though he was considered a musical revolutionist in his own day. Mrs. J. E. Wallace made a report on current events in the musical world and the meeting was closed by community singing.

Mrs. E. C. Worthington wife of the major of the 168th infantry, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. H. Rother, of the Shugart apartments.

Tuesday Mrs. Thomas Metcalf, jr., and Mrs. J. H. Kintz gave a 1 o'clock buffet luncheon to members of the Garden club in honor of Mrs. Metcalf's house guest, Mrs. F. E. Cox. The luncheon was followed by a business meeting for the election of officers for the coming year. Mrs. Henry Cutler was elected president, Mrs. Thomas Officer, vice president, and Mrs. Lonis Squires secretary-treasurer. A committee will be appointed to arrange the program.

Announcement has been made here of the marriage of Miss Cecil Langmade of Jersey City, N. J., to John J. Kehoe of Jersey City, N. J. The wedding occurred at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament, Chicago, last Monday. The young couple were attended by Miss Mary Kehoe of Springfield, O., Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Marshall, uncle and aunt of the bride, were hosts at the wedding breakfast, served after the ceremony at the LaSalle hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Kehoe will make their home in Detroit for the present. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Langmade of this city, who went on to Chicago to attend the ceremony.

Bluffs chapter of St. Paul's guild has indefinitely postponed the picnic planned for last Friday, on account of the death of George Davis, jr. The Girls Friendly society held a business meeting at the home of Miss Caroline Pfeiffer on Wednesday evening. A social hour followed the transaction of the routine business. The club has planned to sell picture post cards of the interior of the church and of the rectory for the benefit of their funds.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Rich entertained the members of the Home Economics department of the Council Bluffs Woman's club on Wednesday. The members met at the auditorium and were taken by auto to the scene of the afternoon's activities. At roll call each guest responded with some suggestion of thrift, gleaned from personal experience, which tradition says is the best of all teachers. The organization has planned to emphasize this thought all through the year and each program has been arranged with this as its basic principle. Mrs. G. W. Turner, Mrs. Martin Hughes, Mrs. F. J. Duerr, Mrs. Pettibone and Mrs. Sidney Smith were assistant hostesses and provided hot chicken pie, escalloped potatoes, baked beans and coffee and each guest brought some contribution to the menu. While it is said that every rule of thrift was observed, no mere reporter could discover the lack of any of the pre-war dainties so prized on such gala occasions.

Mrs. H. C. Rusch will entertain on October 23 with Mrs. W. J. Levey, Mrs. J. E. Wallace, Mrs. W. P. Hughes and Mrs. Page Morrison as assistants.

Announcements have been received here of the marriage of Lt. Thomas Harvey, formerly of this city, and Miss Dorothy Prentice of Tenaha, N. J. The ceremony was performed at Camp McClellan, Aniston, Ala. Lieutenant Harvey was in the Rainbow division, but has been ordered back to this country as an instructor in the cantonments.

The first study program of the history and literature department of the Council Bluffs Woman's club was held on Thursday at the library. The club has taken up French history and the subjects discussed included the conflict between the king and the assembly, the capture of the Bastille and the final flight of the royal family. A very interesting program was given. Those taking part were Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Hollenbeck, Mrs. Mayne and Mrs. Clark.

The Tuesday History club held the first meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. A. W. Tyler. Mrs. Shirley was chosen as the delegate to the district convention. Next Tuesday the club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. O. J. McManus by a 1 o'clock war luncheon, which will be followed by a discussion of our national parks. The hostess will be assisted in serving by Mrs. Killpack, Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. Snyder.

Lieut. Donald Mayne is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Empeck on Oakland avenue. He is a staff officer of the Small Arms Training school, now located at Camp Perry, A. S., but about to be moved to Columbia, Ga., for the winter. He expects to spend about 10 days there.

Omaha Boy Writes of First Days Spent on French Soil

Becoming accustomed to a "pup" tent—which American soldiers use when they get to France—is several kinds of an interesting and not altogether amusing experience, according to W. O. Johnson, son of George C. Johnson, president of the Iowa Elevator company, Omaha.

In a letter to his father, Johnson, who is serving in France, gives an excellent impression of the first days of a Yankee soldier spent overseas.

"The first day on French soil is one which I will never forget," he wrote. "Instead of finding everything rainy and muddy, as one is led to believe when in the United States, we were met with a beautiful clear day, and on marching through the quaint old town at which we landed it seemed just like stepping into a fairy book. Had it not been for the stern reality of a heavy pack I would have expected to be able to pinch myself and wake up."

Lands in Old Town.
"The town looked as if it were built about 1 A. D. and had merely been kept in decent repair, for the buildings were all old stone structures with windowless doors which had evidently seen much service."

"The inhabitants seemed to be simple, old-fashioned folks and they were dressed in peculiar style. The men dressed as we imagine artists to dress and the women wore plain black dresses. The women, too, all seemed to have white caps on their heads."

"The French are said to be very thrifty and it was certainly indicated by the clothes on some of the young kids. One little cuss wore a pair of pants built like a cubist picture. I guess that the original pattern merely served as a pattern to start his trousers career and that the patches took care of all wear of clothes and change of size of boy. Wooden shoes are very common and the leather shoes look much the worse for wear. For the first time my untanned, hobnailed field shoes felt real dressy. Sailors say that before American troops brought wealth to this town, even such poor leather shoes as the people have now were a very rare luxury. I think this is a little exaggerated."

Two in Each Tent.
"We marched several miles to a camp ground where we pitched our 'pup' tents and laid out on the ground to rest. These pup tents are a great thing. You and another fellow each carry a half and on pitching camp the two halves are put together to make a tent. Officially these little dwellings are known as shelter tents, but the nickname 'pup' tent is far more appropriate, as when entering it is necessary to crawl in on all fours like a pet poodle. The kennel idea is pretty well carried out in the camp, for whenever we are wanted for anything a whistle is blown and we scramble out."

"My tent mate is a man named Riblett, from Denver. He is a fine fellow and we get along famously. The first night we laid on the ground sleep didn't come very easily, as rocks, roots and hollows did osteopathic work with our anatomy. By the second night, though, we slept fine and are now getting to be seasoned campaigners, able to sleep comfortably in any place. We go to bed in horse style, wearing shoes and all with an overcoat put on for good measure. This dressing instead of undressing for bed has it all over the methods of civil life, for there is no fuss on getting up in the morning. All we have to do is get up and shake ourselves like pups and there we are."

Bath at 2 A. M.
Shortly after arrival here our company was treated to a rather rare and interesting experience. We took a (deleted by censor) at 2:30 a. m. we got up and very quietly sneaked through the inky blackness of the night to the (deleted). Ostensibly the silence was to keep from waking the camp, but really I think it was to avoid scaring away the water, for to judge from the looks of the natives, water over here is a rare bird, with a shy and retiring disposition. The showers were not very forceful, but they were very cold and the wash we took under the icy drizzle made us feel fine afterwards."

"The rest of my acquaintance with water has been largely at night, when we usually have showers, although short showers are common during the day. One night it rained quite a bit and on rolling over in my sleep I woke up with a splash to find my face in a pool of water. While we will have to get used to sleeping in mud up to our ears, Riblett and I have decided to postpone the mud as long as possible, so I got up and went to make a ditch around the tent. After going a ways to get a shovel we came back and in about 20 minutes of wet work had dug a fine trench very worthy of a former embryo engineer. I then yelled to Rib and asked if the water was still coming in the tent. He crawled out and sure had a good laugh on me, for I had dug the ditch around someone else's tent."

Works at Night.
"This was said to be a 'rest' camp, but since arriving I have had a day's K. P. and have done several night's labor in the line of unloading and piling lumber, flour, etc. We work nights, when the trucks are free, and sleep daytimes. One day I slept so hard that I not only failed to wake up my tent, but also failed to wake up for our inspection. Am not yet a well enough trained terrier to hear a whistle in my sleep, but hope to become better able to recognize 'my master's voice.' As it is now raining, I guess I should say water spail instead of terrier."

"The work we have had to do has really been welcome, as we need exercise after the inactivity of our long trip. As there is always a big gang on every job we don't work so terribly hard and we always have a good time."

"The boys are all trying to pick up a little French by talking with the women who come to the edge of the camp to get washing. Our attempts are pitiful and give the wash women much amusement. Now I am sorry that I only exposed myself to French for a year, as the calculus, etc., that I spent so much time on is not very handy in telling some Frenchman that you want something to eat."

"This life is just beginning to savor of the real thing and although there are some little inconveniences it is great experience and I am enjoying it."

A club market, recently organized by the women of Miami, Fla., has proved so successful that the city council has taken it over as a municipal enterprise.

Woman May Get Second Place On G. O. P. Committee

Mrs. John Francis Yawger, chairman of the women's division of the New York state republican committee, may be named vice chairman of the republican state committee for the coming gubernatorial election.

One of the most indefatigable women war workers in Washington is Mrs. Josephus Daniels, wife of the Secretary of the Navy. Since her son enlisted in the "First to Fight" branch of the service, Mrs. Daniels has become known to marines as the "Mother of the Thirteenth Marines."

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation.—Adv.

SKIP STOP

At the request of the United States Fuel Administrator and with the approval of the City of Omaha, as well as the approval of the State Railway Commission, this Company will inaugurate the practice known as the SKIP STOP.

Under this plan cars will Not stop at Every corner as now, but will skip many of them. All stops will be designated by a sign painted on the street poles, reading in black letters on yellow ground

Northbound and Southbound stops are indicated by signs on north and south side of poles; eastbound and westbound stops by signs on the east and west side of poles.

Remember fewer stops will save coal, and more coal means more steel for guns and ammunition—a shorter war and Fewer Casualties. Fewer stops will also mean more rapid transportation.

The Skip Stop will be in effect on and after Sunday, October 13, on the Farnam, Dodge and Harney Lines. On other lines soon.
