Dundee Women Raising Money for Ambulance

Ambitions of the Dundee Woman's Patriotic club knows no bounds for one project is no sooner launched than these ingenious women plan some different way to serve their country. Three young women, Miss Frances Nieman, Miss Dorothy Ringwalt and Miss Helen Cornell now represent the club in France for it was through the efforts of this coterie of women that the Omaha girls could take their places in the canteens behind the lines.

It is now the hope of the club to buy an ambulance and with this goal in view a benefit affair is being planned which will exceed all the others previously given. The affair will be given some time in November at the auditorium. It has not been definitely decided just what the nature of the entertainment will be, but in all probability there will be

Third Soup Kitchen for Flu Victims.

Women of the First Central Congregational church today opened a soup kitchen in the church for the benefit of victims of Spanish influenza. The food will be prepared in the church kitchens and taken to the needy families. Mrs. E. G. Metcalf has charge of the work.

Patriotic Girls Help.

Girls of the Patriotic league have responded to the call for aid in the influenza epidemic and hundreds of them have offered their services. At the call of the Visiting Nurse association these girls are going out to help with housework, run errands and make themselves generally useful in afflicted homes. Nearly all of the girls are business women, and this work comes on top of full day's work in offices and stores in many cases. No job is too menial for them, as their motto is "service to others."

Drama Lecture Off.

Miss Kate McHugh received word Friday that Stewart Walker of the Portmanteau theater has been called to New York and will not be able to speak before the Drama League during the appearance of "Seventeen" by the Portmanteau players, next week. Mr. Walker expressed regret at not being able to meet those who had made his work last year so successful.

First Aid Books Needed.

Very slight response has been made to the call for first aid books by the War Camp Community service. As soon as classes can be started these books will be needed. Anyone who has a first aid book not in use may be of real service by loaning it. The books will be well cared for and returned at the end of the season. Telephone Tyler 1908.

RED CROSS

Mrs. F. W. Carmichael is asking each Red Cross auxiliary to furnish two women to volunteer their services in assisting Visiting Nurses in the care of influenza patients. The women are to assist in the management of households where families are stricken.

Omaha's sock quota was increased by 887 pairs during the past week. Omaha women have already knitted 13,887 of the November quota.

Clear soup, soup stock, custards, jellies and fruits are needed by the Red Cross soup kitchen, which is furnishing food for influenza victims. Donations should be sent to All Saints' church parish house.

High school girls are driving for the Red Cross motor corps. Frances Howell, a senior, has driven her car every morning for the Visiting Nurses. The motor corps provides four cars each morning and afternoon. High school boys are also helping, giving three hours each morning. Anyone who has a car to spare may telephone Tyler 2721 and offer it.

SOCIETY

For University Set.

With the great doors of the colleges shut and barred owing to the "flu" epidemic, we find many of the college students with us again very unexpectedly. Affairs are being planned for them daily and many parties make the days fly fast until school opens. The guests included Misses Winifred Brandt, Isabelle Persall and Frances Patton and Messrs. Ralph Campbell, Louis Metz, Robert Ingversen and James Holmquist.

He is a graduate of the University of Missouri and pledged to the Phi Psi fraternity. The wedding will take place after the war.

Omaha Teacher Weds.

An out-of-town wedding of interest to Omahans was that of Miss Grace Miner and Mr. Harry M. Hammond, which took place in Yankton, S. D., Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Hammond will make their home in Yankton. The bride was formerly a teacher in the Omaha schools and a very active member of the Omaha Story Tellers' league.

Velvet is Women's Best Background

By GERTRUDE BERESFORD.

Surely there is no fabric in the world like black velvet for bringing out the light in a woman's eyes and hair and for softening every line of the face. Youngsters look well in velvet with deep white collars and cuffs, such as Van Dyke loved to paint. Youth seems to radiate against its folds, and old age is brought into exquisite softness by its lovely lines. This gown of black velvet will suffice for so many wartime functions. The vest of white georgette crepe is in sharp relief against three bands of seakink. The deep, tight cuffs of white georgette are also banded with the soft fur. For the rest there is just the swish of lovely line, and the fabric drapes itself to perfection. This black velvet has deserved the name of "Picture" and looks worthy of this gown.

Fine Point in Cookery

To most people an egg beater is an egg beater and one's choice of kind of egg beater is based largely on habit. Some experienced housewives cling to the silver fork still, some like the flat wire beater, many of us favor the Dover egg beater, and still others prefer some special patent beater. In this day and age, when eggs are so very precious and time and energy are valuable also, it is worth while to know the different results obtainable. I have some unpublished work on the beating of eggs which brings out these differences.

Principle of Beating Eggs.

When egg white is beaten, the albumen expands and air is caught within the cells. The more air that is incorporated, the larger is the bulk of the beaten egg. Usually this imprisoned air is desired to lighten or lighten the mixture to which it is added. For example, in sponge cake, the entire leavening depends upon the air in the beaten egg whites. Thus in general the larger the bulk of the beaten egg the more successful we are.

Comparison of Beaters.

The old-fashioned fork has much in its favor as far as bulk of eggs goes, but it takes far more time and energy than the wire beater and does not give quite such good results. A fork is heavy in relation to its size and therefore tires a person using it. The flat wire beater really excels any other type unless one must take time into special consideration. The Dover egg beater is slightly better. Personally I find a flat beater just as easy to handle number, close upon a couple of hundred new schemes having been submitted for approval recently—From the British Bureau of Information, as a Dover beater, but I know everyone would not agree with me. Every once in a while I find a person who is very well satisfied with a special egg beater she has discovered, but I have never found such special nearly as good as the two common types.

The Use of Salt.

The pinch of salt that we are always taught to use really is an aid in beating egg whites. It helps to harden the albumen and makes the egg stiffer. More than a generous pinch of salt makes the texture of the egg flatter and the amount smaller. Too large a pinch will of course give a salty flavor.

In the last few years, when eggs have been so high, there have appeared several so-called egg substitutes under various commercial names. They are egg substitute in one respect only; namely, in leavening power. They are merely a glorified form of baking powder. From my limited observation I would say that they seem to improve the texture of cakes, muffins, etc., and if one wishes to buy them for that purpose I think there is no reason for not doing so. But the housewife should remember she is not buying real egg substitute, for eggs are a very valuable food, while the egg savers have no food value at all, as far as their labels would indicate.

Mrs. R. Beecher Howell, president of the Tuesday Musical club, will return next week from New London, Conn., to remain until after the opening concert of the season, which will be given November 19.

Community Kitchens

One million portions of food are sold each day in the 623 national kitchens and restaurants which have been established in London and the country. All these institutions are of recent development, the communal kitchen being unknown before the war, and British housewives are greatly appreciative of the saving of labor and economy of fuel which results when meals are purchased at the state kitchens. The coming winter, it is surmised, will see a large increase in their
