

"KICK IN!" SAY DEMO OFFICERS TO EMPLOYEES

Campaign Hat is Feverishly Passed in Court House as Politicians Fear Defeat.

However politics may or may not be adjourned elsewhere, democratic politicians have not been adjourned in the court house.

In addition to passing the hat in the treasurer's office, the shake-down of shagbells has been extended to the entire personnel of those who may owe allegiance to democratic favor.

The schedule of assessment which is being imposed even down to the humblest employe, is this: Those who receive less than $100 per month, $5; those receiving $100 per month, $10; and all who are being paid more than $100 per month, an increasing assessment as high as $50 for the top-notchers. The only exceptions are the scrub wren.

Hard Times for Demos. Those in charge of this drive for the campaign dollars explain that these are perilous times for democrats hereabouts; that if any democratic nominees expect to win on November 5, they must have ammunition in the form of money, and that it is up to the employes to "back those at the front" by contributing their quotas of coin.

Naturally resentment is rife against this scheme, as many of the clerks, janitors and laborers have been doing their best in supporting war activities and otherwise meeting the exigencies of these war days.

Election Commissioner Moorhead is conducting a school for election officials who will serve on November 5. The school will be open until Saturday.

Albert W. Jefferis is making his rounds in Sarpy county. He will close the day in Papillion at 7:30 o'clock. "Left" has been making a splendid impression everywhere he has appeared and there are indications that Sarpy county will come in with a fine majority for him.

Grain Men Discuss Official Standards for Graduating Oats

The United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Grain and Markets, held a hearing at the Fontanelle hotel Friday morning at which the proposed official standards of the U. S. Department of Agriculture for the graduation of oats were discussed.

George Livingston, who has charge of the federal grain supervision presided at the meeting. Others of his party who were present were E. G. Boerner, G. L. Barton, Chester Morrill.

The proposed schedule for graduation met with the approval of those present, but in one or two points there was considerable dissent.

OMAHA ITALIANS TO GO HOME FOR SERVICE IN ARMY

Those Who Fight in Italy with Countrymen Will Get but Two Cents Daily in Pay.

More than 100 Italians from Omaha will return to Italy to fight in the Italian army. Most of the men already have applied for transportation and will leave in a few weeks.

A new treaty between the United States and Italy provides that Italians who are registered for service in the United States army and who claim exemption because of their nationality, may be reclassified from class 5, F, to class No. 1. This new ruling will go into effect early in November and many Italians, with wives and families in the old country, are returning to fight in the Italian army.

This emigration will make still further inroads on the laborers of Omaha. The men have been working at the Union Pacific shops, the smelter, and for the street railway company.

If these men are drafted into the United States army they will be paid a dollar a day; in the Italian army the pay is something like two cents a day.

Among the local parties who participated in the discussions were Geo. B. Powell, chief inspector and weighmaster of the Omaha Grain Exchange, J. W. Holmquist of the Holmquist Elevator company, S. P. Mason of the Nye-Schneider-Fowler Grain company and Walter Fowler, local representative of the U. S. Agricultural Department.

Married on Thirteenth, Woman Asks Divorce, Alleging Cruelty

November 13, 1913, appears to have boded ill for Barbara and Charles Slafar, who were married in New York City on that date. The wife, in a petition for divorce filed in district court, asks for an absolute divorce, custody of two children, 5 and 3 years old, and alimony. She alleged that Slafar struck her, used abusive language, and otherwise expressed his anger by breaking articles of furniture. She claims that they separated 16 months ago and that since then Slafar has contributed only $10 toward maintenance of the children. Slafar lives at 4323 South Thirty-third street and is employed in a packing house.

Mary Miller, on behalf of her minor son, Owen, has petitioned for an annulment of the marriage bonds which exist between the boy and Emily Miller. They were married January 24, 1918. The son is 20 years old.

Jessie L. Schroeder, nee Criss, asks for her freedom from Samuel C. Schroeder, to whom she was married September 17, 1917. She asserts that Schroeder earns $240 per month, but has neglected to support her.

Bessie Bergman has been allowed the restoration of her maiden name, Bessie Ludell, in a divorce decree, granted on her petition against Carl Bergman. Nonsupport was charged.

Ethel J. Dykert, 1821 Maple street, has filed a petition for separate maintenance, alleging that her husband, Harold R. Dykert, ordered her to pack her trunk and leave. The Dykerts were married in Boulder, Colo., July 21, 1916, and have one child, 11 months of age. The wife asks for $60 per month alimony.

In connection with the divorce proceedings pending between Walter and Alice Clear, the husband has filed a motion, asking that the court require Mrs. Clear to submit herself for physical examination, the husband alleging that defendant's physical condition is of a nature as to endanger his health and life.
