

SOLDIER QUEEN WEEPS AS MEN LAY DOWN ARMS

Pathetic Scenes Follow Disbanding of Roumanian Army, Forced by Germany to Quit.

Correspondence of Associated Press. Paris, Sept. 26.—Queen Marie Roumanian, wept when the gallant Roumanian army was demobilized by order of the Germans...

Troops Are Reviewed. In a great open stretch of land at the foot of the rugged Carpathian mountains, not far from the Austrian frontier, the queen, accompanied by the king and the royal family, reviewed the remnants of officers and soldiers who had fought so bravely during the 18 months that Roumania faced the four formidable foes that surrounded her.

Loyal To Their Queen. On the way to the review every inhabitant of the villages through which the queen passed gave her a demonstration so overwhelming and spontaneous that she herself acknowledged later that it was the greatest single tribute she had received at the hands of the people since the beginning of the war.

As the men who had fought on the sanguinary field of Marasesti, which is the Gettysburg of Roumania, marched by, each bearing on his breast the coveted Michael the Brave, medal for gallantry, the queen broke into tears and, turning to the king, who stood beside her, said in a voice that betrayed deep emotion:

"What a tragedy that this magnificent army must lay down its arms! But, please God, it shall not be for long! I repeat it, it shall not be for long! Germany, by her might and brutishness, may subdue, but she can never crush the spirit and will of my soldiers. With God's help, we will fight again, and I pray that the day is not far off. My soul will never rest until the honor of the country is vindicated before the eyes of our allies."

Soldiers Refuse Leave for Chance to Fight in Front Trenches

Correspondence of Associated Press. Paris, Sept. 26.—General Mangin's army was engaged in the most terrific battle of the war; for three days no progress could be made against the desperate resistance of the Prussian guards and Bavarian shock troops. In the vicinity of Coucy-le-Chateau and on the edges of the Saint Gobain forest the battle raged. German counter attacks had driven back the attacking Franco-American army at various points.

A division of the American army after three weeks of stubborn fighting had just been relieved and rested in comparative safety behind the Ailette river. Two hundred of the American soldiers proudly exhibited passes entitling them to 10 days' leave in Paris and elsewhere to the rear.

At 4 in the morning the "alert" was sounded. A violent German counter attack had just been launched threatening the allied positions north of the Ailette. The division was to return to the firing line at once.

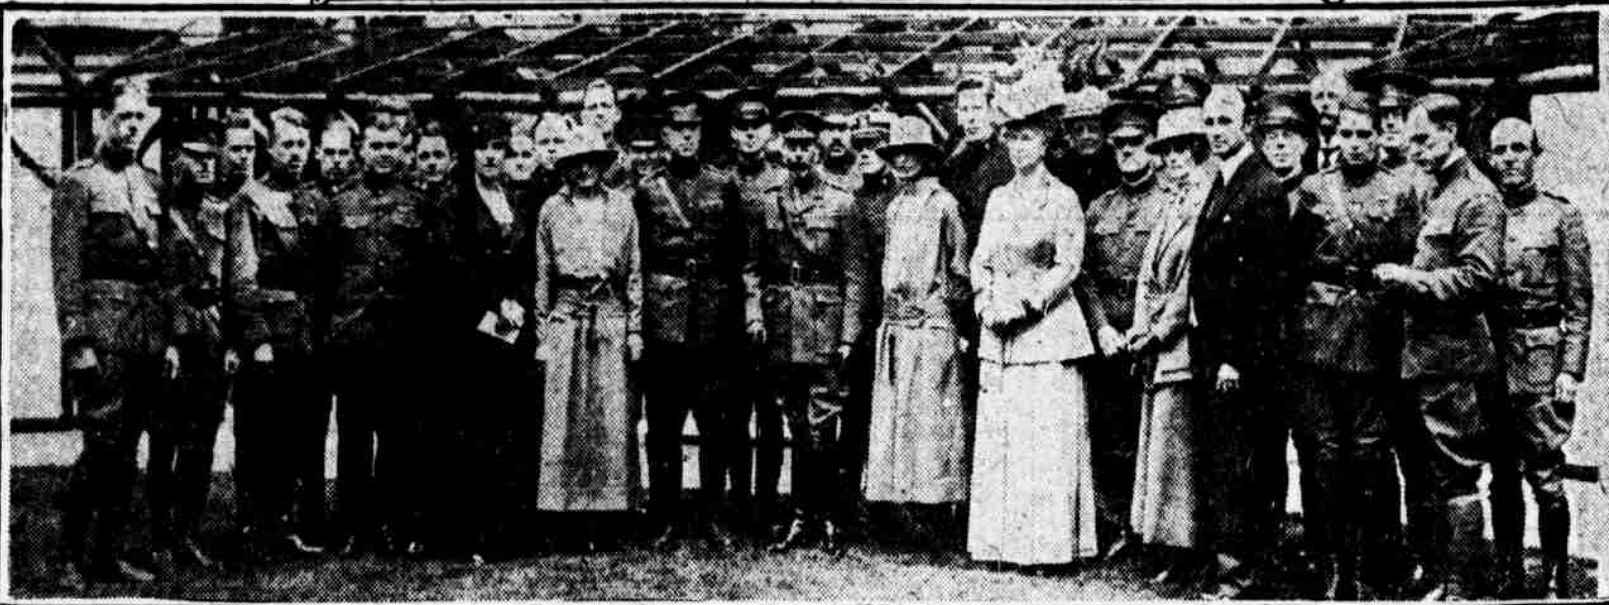

Germany Sees Moral Collapse in Its Future

New York, Oct. 13.—International political weakness in Germany is contrasted by the Cologne Gazette with the solidarity of the entente allies on the western front. The paper bemoans the lack in Germany of "something like the steel wall" along the German front.

"Our interior front has always showed gaps," says the Gazette. "It seemed as if we lack certain spiritual unity, which kept the others together, despite the blow our victories gave them in these four years. The English interior, as soon as an external enemy has to be fought is gapless and without weaknesses."

Danger of a moral collapse in Germany evidently is foreseen, for the Gazette says, "only one thing could rob us of victory; the crumbling up of the interior front." The most serious menace of this internal front is declared to be the doctrinaires to be found in all parties and classes of society. The paper declares that such men as Prince Lichnowsky, formerly German ambassador to London who wrote a memorandum accusing Germany of beginning the war, and Maximilian Harden, editor of Die Zukunft, whose pasting was suppressed for denigrating Prince Lichnowsky, as well as some of the socialist leaders in the reichstag should be removed from political positions.

Former Omaha Man Eats Hot American Pancakes With King George and Queen Mary in Y. M. C. A. Hut in London

King and Queen of England at American Y.M.C.A. Officers Hut

American Soldiers Landing in England

Eating hot American pancakes in company with King George and Queen Mary of England is a recent experience of R. O. Babcock, formerly superintendent of the Bee building, now a Y. M. C. A. worker in London.

In a letter written to his wife, Mr. Babcock enclosed two photographs taken at the time England's sovereigns made a formal visit to Eagle Hut, a Y. M. C. A. hut at which the Omaha man is stationed. The visit was such a pleasant one and there were so many interesting things to see, that the royal pair soon made their formal visit quite informal, chatting with the secretaries and with the soldiers and sailors who were taking advantage of the comforts the association provides and indulging in the great American breakfast delicacy. In the photograph, which has been duly passed by the censors, the king and queen are shown, with the American and English secretaries and the women who work at the huts. Mr. Babcock is at the extreme right of the picture in the second row, just his cap and glasses showing.

Work with the Y. M. C. A. in London is strenuous, according to Mr. Babcock, who has general oversight of the hut, keeps the records, has the responsibility of the equipment and, in addition, is frequently called upon to do special lecture work. However, the work itself is attractive, even though hard, and there are many compensations.

Mr. Babcock was recently invited to address King George's guard, the flower of England's youth. On another occasion a wealthy London man, owner of numerous diamond mines, invited 100 soldiers in London on furloughs, and some of the "Y" secretaries on an outing on the Thames. The homelike English scenery, with its rose clad cottages and lordly country manors, made a picture that Mr. Babcock says the boys can never forget. On 10 different occasions the diamond king has conducted such excursions, giving the boys the best there is of everything, at a cost that is estimated to be about $7.50 per man in American money.

The lower photograph shows a group of American soldiers landing in England, where they are greeted by the familiar red triangle and met by "Y" workers, who pass them hot drinks and a bite of food and send cablegrams and telegrams, change their money into English money and perform like services for them.

"We have heard so much about how wonderfully the French people treat the American soldier, but the treatment accorded them in England is equal to that of France," says Mr. Babcock. "There is nothing too good for the Americans. The wealthy open their beautiful homes to the men who are sent to London to recuperate, and high and low, rich and poor alike, greet our boys as brothers."

when he received two calls to say field masses one Sunday morning. The call came from villages 50 miles apart where troops were billeted. An aviation pilot solved the problem for Chaplain Moran by offering to take him to both places, and he went. The result was a field mass at one village at 6 o'clock in the morning, and another mass in the village 50 miles further on at 7:30 a. m.

Rev. Edwin O'Hara, rector of the cathedral at Portland, a volunteer chaplain for the Knights of Columbus, used a tank to fulfill an engagement, say mass to distant troops, and a secretary went with him to supply the soldiers with boxing gloves and base ball material for use after the services.

Boy Scouts

Troop 45 with Scoutmaster P. G. Gross linked to the Scout Reserve north of Florence last Sunday, where the boys cooked dinner. The scouts learned two new games called "Smuggle Over the Border" and "Capture the Flag." Scout Scribe Staudacher reports they are played this way: "The object in 'Smuggle Over the Border' is to reach the top or goal safe, the leader and his assistants attracting the attention of the border sentry or guards by running on their territory and back to their own. Meanwhile the leader of smugglers tries to reach the town, and if he does so the smugglers win the game, but if he is caught the game is given to the guards or smuggler chasers, and if one of the smugglers is caught that means one less assistant to the leader, this time the guards or sentry winning the game. The 'Capture of the Flag' is a similar game, the difference being that one side shall try to get the other side's flag and run to the border with it. Sunday the Black Bear patrol won the game."

On account of the city health regulations Troop 9 met around a camp fire last Monday evening near Boulevard and Pacific streets. Scouts Welsh and Richardson gathered and chopped the wood. When the boys came they helped to drag a big elm log to the fire for a seat. Assistant Scoutmaster Tobin demonstrated knot tying and gave a short talk on the Indian idea of physical culture. Several scouts read short essays. All boys in the troop are working hard to raise their grades as fast as opportunities are offered in the form of classes of instruction, which have been interrupted by "flu." Some are taking advantage of the opportunity offered by the public library to do theoretical nature study work.

Although the "flu" has put a damper on troop meetings, it has not put a damper on the spirit of the boys of Troop No. 39 under Scoutmaster V. F. Bradford. The boys have continued studying their manuals and come individually to their scoutmaster for instruction and examinations in scoutcraft. The scouts in this troop are now spending their time on signal practice and on Saturday, with their scoutmaster, the boys are planning a hike to Council Bluffs, and in some nearby woods they will practice wig-wagging to each other. After they cook their suppers they will hike back to Omaha.

A special shelf of books has been set aside for Boy Scouts in the children's room at the public library through the co-operation of Miss Edith Tobitt, librarian. A printed list of the books will be given each scout. These books are on mechanics, electricity, nature study and scoutcraft.

Troop 48, which has been without a leader since the illness of S. M. Vickery, who was the scoutmaster, has reorganized under the Rev. J. Rutt, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church. The troop held its first meeting Tuesday night and ten members attended.

National Field Commissioner Cross will be in Omaha November 1 to consult with the Omaha executive committee regarding plans for establishing a permanent week-end camp in Omaha. Word to this effect was received by Scout Executive Hoyt. National Camp Director L. L. McDonald also wrote Mr. Hoyt that he would be in Omaha before the end of the coming year.

The Court of Honor will meet October 23 to examine scouts who are ready to qualify for higher scout work.

Scoutmaster C. G. Triem of Troop 34 is ill with Spanish influenza.

An open air meeting was held at Fontenelle park by Troops 18 and 30 Friday night, when the two troops were united under the leadership of Scoutmaster Bexton of Troop 18.

Because of the ban placed on public meetings the Scoutmasters' Training association will not meet until the first Thursday in November.

Paul Leusser, Troop 5, and V. C. Haskell, scoutmaster of Troop 5, won achievement buttons and ace medals from the United States government for selling thrift stamps. To win the buttons and badges they each sold 25 different persons an average of $10 worth of thrift stamps per person. Leon Nogg and Claude Webb of Troop 2 won achievement

COUNT FIFTY! NO RHEUMATIC PAIN

Don't suffer! Instant relief follows a rubbing with old "St. Jacobs Liniment."

Stop "dosing" rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Liniment" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacobs Liniment" conquers pain! It is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones, stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia and reduces swelling. Limber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Liniment" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.—Adv.

Chaplains Riding in Airplanes as They Go to Answer Calls

Paris, Sept. 20.—(Correspondence of Associated Press).—Airplanes and tanks are being used by volunteer chaplains and field secretaries with the Knights of Columbus, to serve the American soldiers over here.

Two chaplains, Rev. John Morgan, Eugene, Ore., and Rev. John Sullivan, Tuckahoe, N. Y., were the first priests to make their rounds by the air route. Rev. Mr. Sullivan uses airplanes several times a week and this is able to visit field hospitals within a radius of 200 miles of his camp.

Airplane transportation was used by Rev. Mr. Moran for the first time when he received two calls to say field masses one Sunday morning. The call came from villages 50 miles apart where troops were billeted. An aviation pilot solved the problem for Chaplain Moran by offering to take him to both places, and he went. The result was a field mass at one village at 6 o'clock in the morning, and another mass in the village 50 miles further on at 7:30 a. m.

Gray, faded hair turned beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight, is a reality, if you'll take the trouble to mix sage tea and sulphur, but what's the use, you get a large bottle of the ready-to-use tonic, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at drug stores here. Millions of bottles of "Wyeth's" are sold annually, says a well-known druggist, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has happened.

You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggy and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after just one application the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful. This is the age of youth, gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with the Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be amazed at your youthful appearance and the real beauty and healthy condition of your hair within a few days. Inquiry at drug stores here shows that they all sell lots of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" and the folks using it are enthusiastic. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Ad

Camp Fire Girls

A business meeting of the Raous group was held at the home of their guardian, Mrs. Howard Gates, Wednesday afternoon. These officers were elected: Margarette Rix, vice president; Ruth Buskner, secretary; Vidette Soneland, treasurer, and Madeline Eichhorst, news reporter. The girls decided to make garments for the Needlework guild. A constitution will be adopted. The next meeting will be in the form of a hike. Miss Florence Worm of the Raous group is very ill with the influenza.

Special honors will be given Campfire Girls who make two new garments for the needy poor of Omaha or for the French or Belgian children, which are given through the Needlework guild of America. The Campfire Girls of America became nationally associated with the Needlework Guild of America through the efforts of National Campfire President Dr. Luther Gulick at the 33d annual convention of the Needlework guild of America, held in Detroit in May of this year. New Campfire honors will be created to fit into war work. Mrs. C. J. Hubbard is in charge of the Needlework guild of the Omaha Campfire Girls.

The Concord club is acting as sponsor for the Campfire Girls as the Rotary club is for the Boy Scouts.

The Victory Girls, under the direction of Mrs. C. J. Hubbard, are earning or saving $5 to give to the United War Campaign drive which will be held the early part of November. Five dollars will take care of one soldier for five weeks and furnish him with paper, pens, pencils, sandwiches, coffee and the other little luxuries which the organizations taking part in the drive furnish to the boys. The girls are using novel means to earn the money. Herberta Barker and Ruth Hatteroth are working a week in a factory folding paper cartons to earn their share. Margaret Parrish is picking up potatoes in her father's potato patch to earn her $3. Luce and Edith Wier and Helen Bolskaw donned bloomers and painted Mr. Wier's warehouse at Forty-fifth and Cuming streets to become Victory Girls.

A drive for Campfire Girls will be launched soon to aid in work at the

HE DARKENED HIS GRAY HAIR

They Used to Call Him Grandpa; Now They Call Him Kid. Tells How He Did It.

Mr. J. A. McCrea, a well known resident of San Francisco, who was called Daddy and Grandpa on account of his white hair, and who darkened it with a simple home-made mixture, recently made the following statement: "Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home, at very little cost, that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This is not a dye, it does not color the most delicate scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off. My friends now call me 'Kid.'"—Adv.

Discolored, Wrinkled Skin Easily Removed

Since brown or yellow, over-oxidized or flaky scales are the enemies of the skin, I cannot understand why so many continue to wear them. Surely every woman has had the experience of looking in the mirror and seeing a face that is gradually, harmlessly, absorbing the thin layer of surface skin with all its defects, as liver spots, pimples, freckles, blackheads. Just as gradually the discarded skin is replaced by the clear, white, youthful skin underneath. Mercolid was procurable at any drug store. It is applied nightly like cold cream and erased mornings with warm water. One ounce will produce the loveliest girlish complexion in less than a fortnight.

I can't understand, either, why folks will be bothered with wrinkles, when the famous axolite formula has become public property. One ounce of powdered axolite dissolved in a pint of water, makes a wash lotion that will quickly efface every line even the deepest.—Julia Offie in Social Mirror.—Adv.

Big Eaters Get Kidney Trouble

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

The Doctor's Advice

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Etwood streets, Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Directions. Gerry asks: "For several months I have not been feeling well. My skin is sallow, my tongue is coated, have headache, am sleepless, nervous and bothered with chronic constipation. Please help me." Answer: You need a laxative blood cleansing treatment in the form of Three-Grain Sulphur Tablets (not subphur). Overcome the tendency to constipation and gradually your good health and pure blood will return.

Mrs. B. writes: "I hesitate to ask advice as my case is so unusual. In a word I am tired and worn out all the time. Rest does not refresh me. I have been married over a year and formerly did not know what it was to be tired or nervous. Sometimes I feel hysterical. I fear I will become a nuisance to my husband if this continues." Answer: Your nervous system has been depleted. You need a tonic invigorating food—Dr. Lewis Baker's Tablets (not food-salts)—to your nerves. Take Three Grain Cod-Liver Oil Tablets regularly for several months.

NOTE: For many years Dr. Baker has been giving free advice and prescriptions to millions of people through the press. His name and address has been in reliefive times and distress have been many individuals in the world's history. Thousands have written him expressions of gratitude and confidence similar to the following: Dr. Lewis Baker, Dear Sir: In reading your good advice to others I have found myself. I enclose stamps, and please send me your "Three-Grain Sulphur Tablets" and "Three-Grain Cod-Liver Oil Tablets" as you have advised me. My nervous system has been so sore in region of bladder, frequent calls at night but scanty flow with pain, burning and foul odor, puffing of limbs, etc., that there is no money to pay one. One of your many well-wishers. Sincerely, MISS C. H. WHITE, 156 E. 9th St., Portland, Me.
