Conducted by Ella Fleishman

RED CROSS

Union Pacific claim department has donated to the Red Cross salvage department a carload of clothing injured in a fire. Mrs. Edgar Allan, Mrs. W. H. Thomas, Mrs. Nick and Mrs. Ticknor are sorting them and they will be placed on sale the end of the week.

Mrs. F. C. Tym has a record for continued service in the salvage department. She has given at least three days a week without missing once since the work started.

Omaha canteen corps photographs made by Herman Shonfield, The Bee photographer, and forwarded to A. Bingham, Central division director, by Mrs. L. L. Kountze, will be used in the Central Division Bulletin and the publicity department in Washington, according to Mr. Bingham.

An emergency order for 150 pies was filled in two and one-half hours by Mrs. L. L. Kountze of the canteen corps recently. The pies checked a troop train on its journey. On the same short notice, the Y. M. C. A. delivered 4,000 envelopes and 8,000 sheets of paper.

A request for a stove, made through The Bee, has been filled; Mrs. C. A. Vickers, 6119 North Twenty-fourth street, gave the stove.

Resume of Red Cross Activities; Annual Meeting November 20

New York, Oct. 23.—The American people have either paid or pledged to the American Red Cross for its work of relief throughout the world, in money or material values, a net total of at least $325,000,000.

The American Red Cross has a total membership of 20,648,103 and, in addition, 8,000,000 members in the Junior Red Cross; a total enrollment of more than one-fourth the population of the United States.

American Red Cross workers produced up to July 1 last a total of 21,282,838 articles of an estimated value of $44,000,000.

About 8,000,000 women are engaged in canteen work and the production of relief supplies.

The American Red Cross is distributing aid to ten countries—the United States, England, France, Italy, Belgium, Switzerland, Palestine, Greece, Russia and Siberia. Besides it has sent representatives to Serbia, Denmark and Madeira.

More than 5,000 Americans will be working under the Red Cross in France by January 1, next.

These facts were to be laid before the 3,854 chapters of the Red Cross in the annual message of the war council of the Red Cross when the chapters throughout the country today held their annual meetings to elect officers. On account of the influenza epidemic these meetings have been postponed until Nov. 20.

Announcement is made that every man, woman and child in the United States would be asked at Christmas time to enroll in the American Red Cross.

Plan for White Elephant Sale

Plans for the White Elephant sale to be given the week beginning December 2 at the Auditorium were discussed at a board meeting of the Woman's Service League held Tuesday in the league rooms. Mrs. Arthur Crittenden Smith will be chairman of the committee again this year and the affair will be given on a larger scale. All plans are subject to the quarantine, but the work will begin November 1 if the ban is lifted and a board meeting will be held when more definite arrangements will be made.

Mrs. E. M. Syfert and Mrs. Milton Barlow will have charge of the office during the week. Mrs. William Archibald Smith, chairman, in Excelsior Springs.

Hawaiian Schools Losing Many Teachers

Hawaiian schools are likely to suffer a severe lack of teachers this fall, for the supply of qualified women in the islands is being reduced almost daily.

The situation in Hawaii is peculiar, for most of the teachers there are the wives of army officers and enlisted men. The teachers' husbands are now being transferred to other points, and their wives are going with them, or, in the event of the men being sent to the fighting line in Europe, back to their homes.

The consequence is that heroic measures may have to be adopted to find a supply of women teachers in Hawaii, or to devise means by which those who are left can be made to fill the places of those who have gone.

The "Y" in France

The post-exchange operated by the "Y" in France promises to become the largest retail business in the world.

The items on the shipping lists are staggering. For example: Cans of fruit, 30,000,000; chewing gum, 2,040,000 packages; cigars, 115,000; condensed milk, 446,208 cans. It has been necessary to take over milk chocolate and cracker factories in France and Switzerland, and still the supply always lags just a little behind.—November Red Cross Magazine.

Royalties are, as a rule, only on nodding terms with profound learning or artistic talents. An exception is Queen Elizabeth of the Belgians, who is an accomplished violinist, an expert linguist, and a graduate physician. Before her marriage to King Albert she frequently accompanied her father—the celebrated Duke Charles Theodore of Bavaria—on his scientific expeditions.

Women physicians of New York City are soon to open a war hospital for treating the returned wounded, in which all the physicians, surgeons, nurses and other expert workers will be women.

Berigan-Mullen Wedding

An early morning wedding took place today in St. Cecilia's cathedral, when Miss Helen Mullen became the bride of Mr. James Berigan of Ewing, Neb. Father Harrington read the marriage service. Only the close relatives and a few friends were present at the ceremony.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mame Mullen, who wore a smart suit of tulle broadcloth with a hat to match. A corsage of pink sweet peas completed her costume.

Very chic was the bride in her traveling suit of blue broadcloth, with a picture hat of soft gray. The golden shades of the Ophelia roses in her corsage bouquet were most effective against the French blue of her suit.

Mr. John Mullen, brother of the bride, attended the bridegroom as best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mullen, when covers were laid for 25 guests. After an eastern wedding trip the young couple will be at home in Ewing, Neb.

The out-of-town guests who attended the nuptials included Mr. and Mrs. John Mullen of Falls City, Mrs. George Rowell of Marquette, Mich., and Mrs. John Murrie of Bellwood, Neb., sisters of the bridegroom.

Church-Myrberg Nuptials

Of interest in college circles is the marriage of Miss Florence Irene Myrberg of Stromsburg, and Dr. Ira O. Church of Omaha, which took place Tuesday in the Wellington hotel, Rev. C. W. Savidge officiating. Miss Inez Palmer of University Place, and Dr. E. F. Camp were the only attendants.

The bride is a Wesleyan graduate and a member of Zeta Phi sorority. For the past two years she has been music supervisor in the Ashland schools. Dr. Church is a Phi Chi medical frat man from the University of Nebraska and is in the medical reserve corps.

The young couple will make their home in Omaha until Dr. Church is called into service.

The bride was married in her traveling suit of beaver colored silk velvet and wore a corsage of Mrs. Ward and sunburst roses.

Engagement Announced

An interesting engagement announcement among the school set comes today, for Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cullen announce the engagement of their daughter, Marguerite, to Mr. F. E. Warren, son of Mrs. F. L. Warren of Omaha. No date has been set for the wedding. Both Miss Cullen and Mr. Warren are graduates of the Central High school and are now attending the Omaha university.

Omaha Teacher Weds

One must keep a close watch on our instructors these days for they do give us a slip, and Dan Cupid is busy even though the schools are locked and barred. Miss Ida Munson, formerly a teacher in the Bancroft school, slipped away to Chicago, and her marriage to Sergeant Jerome J. O'Connor took place in Rockford, Ill., Tuesday. Sergeant O'Connor is stationed at Camp Grant. The bride will return to Omaha to continue teaching when the schools are opened.

DREAMLAND ADVENTURE

By DADDY "The Liberty Spirit"

(When Jonathan Hardist refuses to buy Liberty Bonds from Billy Belgium and Peggy, the Liberty Spirit picks up his whistle and sets it down in France. There the German wreck his property, take his money and condemn him to death.)

BILLY BELGIUM'S resolve to save both Jonathan Hardist and his money was brave, but Peggy didn't see how he was going to do it. Nevertheless, she was ready to help all she could.

The German officers in the drawing room were having a loud discussion over plans spread out before the general. The conference was interrupted every minute or two by messengers, who rushed in with reports. These reports, it seemed, did not bear good news, for the Germans were growing very gloomy. The talk was all in German, but Billy Belgium could make out part of it.

"The American troops are counter-attacking," he whispered to Peggy. "The Germans are in danger of being driven back."

Another messenger rushed in and evidently his news was very bad indeed, for it caused a great commotion among the officers. The general rapped out a brusque command.

"He has ordered a retreat," whispered Billy Belgium. "The general spoke again. Billy's face turned white as he caught the words."

"He has ordered this house set afire and Mr. Hardist shot at once! Come!"

Billy led the way up the ladder. Near the top of the ventilator was a door. Going through this they found themselves in a large attic. Billy rushed across to a window which opened upon a courtyard at the rear of the house.

"Look!" he whispered. "Peggy never forgot the picture on which her eyes rested. At one side German soldiers were loading Mr. Hardist's treasure chest into an army automobile. At the other side stood Mr. Hardist himself, facing a squad of soldiers armed with rifles."

"They're going to shoot him!" said Billy. "We haven't a second to spare."

Desperately Billy looked around for a weapon. There wasn't one in sight. A sharp, vicious buzzing caused him to jump quickly aside as a large hornet flew past his ear on its way from the window to a nest hanging from a rafter.

"A hornet's nest! The very thing!" he muttered. Stripping off his coat, he wrapped it quickly around the nest, imprisoning the hornets within. Then he gently tore the nest loose from the rafter. An angry buzz from within told that the hornets were aroused to a fury by being thus disturbed.

A second nest hung near by, and this Billy treated in the same way, wrapping it in an old dress he found on a hook.

"The minute the soldiers make a move as if to fire, throw these among them," he directed. "I'm

Fine Five in Federal Court for Violating Liquor Law

Tony Nicotero, Omaha news dealer, charged with selling liquor to soldiers, was given a fine of $50 in federal court Wednesday. Grover Yoder of Grand Island pleaded guilty to interstate transportation of liquor and was fined $250, and Frank Nubert, charged with the same offense, was fined $5. Nubert transported one-half pint of whisky. At the same session, John Blackdeer, an Indian from the Omaha reservation, pleaded guilty to transporting whisky from Sioux City into Nebraska and was fined $100. Anton Tramp, farmer from near Crofton, Neb., also charged with interstate liquor traffic pleaded guilty. Tramp was fined in the state court $350.00 and Judge Woodrough gave him $25.

Fire Damages Homes of Two Omaha Newspaper Men

Fire caused by hot ashes slightly damaged the home of Harvey Newbranch, 1902 South Thirty-third street, and a few minutes later, a call came from the home of Terry Gilkison, 3503 Hamilton street, where a box saturated with gasoline was reported ablaze. No damage was reported.

Asks City for Damages for Fall from Ice Wagon

William W. Holman has entered suit in district court against the City of Omaha for $5,000, amount alleged injuries suffered by reason of a defective alley between Farnam and Harney streets, Fifteenth to Sixteenth streets. Holman relates that he was thrown from an ice wagon and was injured.

going down to save Mr. Hardist." With that he vanished down the ventilator shaft.

Peggy looked from the window. The officer in charge of the firing squad was giving an order to his men. Not waiting another instant Peggy hurried the first nest from the window, tearing off Billy's coat as she did so. Then she hurled the second nest right after it.

The effect was astonishing. As the first nest fell, the Germans leaped away from it in alarm, evidently thinking it a new kind of bomb. Their officer yelled at them, but just then the second nest fell and they were more alarmed than ever. Just then, too, the wrathful hornets burst forth in a fury. They went right after the Germans, driving in their stings with vicious strength. As the first hornets landed, the Germans let out howls of pain and slapped sharply at the little fighters. Then as the hornets poured forth in a cloud, and the Germans found that the harder they slapped the worse they got stung, they flung down their rifles and fled out into the garden—anywhere to escape the fury of this unexpected attack.

The officer waved his sword in a vain attempt to stop the flight of his men, but when one hornet lit on his nose and another stung him in the back of his neck, he let out a whoop of pain and rushed from the scene at a pace that soon put him ahead of his fleeing squad.

For a moment, at least, Jonathan Hardist was safe, and so was his treasure. Peggy leaned far out of the window to see what Billy Belgium was going to do next.

(Tomorrow will be told how Billy Belgium captures the general.)

Traveling over some of the wild-est mountain country of West Virginia, working as practical surveyors, was how three young women of Martinsburg spent the past summer.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert—a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nervous wrecks," "run-downs," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation.—Adv.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your kidneys occasionally if you eat meat regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.
