

REPORTS SHOW HOW CAMPAIGN FUND IS SPENT

Treasurers of Various Political Parties and Candidates File Statements of Expense in Capital City.

Washington, Oct. 31.—(Special Telegram)—Political committees of various senatorial and house candidates are making their returns of expenses incurred during the pre-election period as provided by law. Both republican and democratic national committees have shown the contributions received. The democratic report shows the funds have been sent to Arthur F. Mullen. The republican national committee has made no return as to the money that committee has sent to Nebraska for the same purpose. The democratic congressional committee has made no return as to the money that committee has sent to Nebraska for the same purpose. The democratic congressional committee has sent $500 to H. D. Landis of Seward for organization work.

Senatorial Campaign. Ex-Governor Morehead, democratic senatorial candidate in his report to the secretary of the senate, states he has received no campaign contributions whatsoever but has paid the Morehead senatorial committee $180 for advertising purposes and incidentals. Senator Norris also has received no campaign contributions. He spent less than $500 for postage and traveling expenses and paid an assessment of $500 to the Nebraska republican state central committee. The returns from the congressional districts as filed with the clerk of the house are as follows: First District—Frank A. Peterson, $23,087; C. F. Reavis, $110; Second District—O. Lobeck, $209; A. W. Jeffers, $1,186.86; Third District—D. V. Stephens, none; R. E. Evans, $12.50; Fourth District—W. H. Smith, $534.79; M. O. McLaughlin, $799.30; Fifth District—A. C. Shallenberger, $48.80; W. E. Andrews, $246.01; Sixth District—C. W. Pool, $284.39; M. P. Kinkaid, $362.30.

Aid for Republicans. The national republican congressional committee sent, $1,000 to each of the following republican candidates for the lower house of congress: C. F. Reavis, A. W. Jeffers, R. E. Evans, M. O. McLaughlin and W. E. Andrews. Judge Kinkaid desired no financial help at the hands of the congressional committee.

Slogan Contest Ends; 353 Are Participants; Winners Known Sunday

The Bee's "slogan contest," in which prizes will be awarded for the best Omaha slogans suitable for use as a banner line on the first page of The Bee, has proven one of the most popular of its kind ever conducted. The competition has closed with responses from 353 different persons, many of them sending in several suggestions, which will bring the number of slogans submitted well over 1,000. From the answers the 50 best will be taken out to be in turn submitted to C. C. George, president of the Chamber of Commerce, without disclosing the identity of the contestant, for his judgment or them. Mr. George will select the winners, picking the best for the first prize of $5.00, and the next best 10 each to receive a good book. The Sunday Bee of November 3 will announce the winners with the slogans they have presented. In the meantime, The Bee wishes to thank the many contestants for the great interest they have shown in the contest.

Seattle Puts on Real Quarantine for the "Flu"

Seattle, Oct. 31.—The most drastic quarantine order ever experienced in Seattle was in effect today under instructions issued last night by Mayor Ole Hanson, on advice of the city health department, as a means of curbing the epidemic of Spanish influenza. The order closes all stores except food and drug stores at 3 p. m. Office buildings also are affected. On Friday stores and office buildings will be permitted to open from 10 to 3 only and Saturday they will be closed all day. Decision will be reached Saturday whether permanent closing will be ordered until the epidemic is brought under control.

Hun Bundesrat Power is Still in Saddle, Says Cecil

London, Oct. 31.—Via Montreal—Replying to a question in the House of Commons today, Lord Robert Cecil, assistant foreign secretary, asserted that there was no evidence that the powers of the German Bundesrat system had in any way been modified. The German secretaries of state were appointed by the emperor. Lord Robert added, and presumably were liable to dismissal by him. It might therefore be assumed that the so-called German war cabinet did not correspond constitutionally with the allied war cabinets.

Thermometer Drops to 22 Degrees Above in O'Neill

The railroads announce the return of wintry weather out in the state. This morning temperatures ranged all the way from 22 above in O'Neill to 45 above in the southern portion of the state. Wednesday night rain and snow was general. In many parts of the central portion of the state snow fell to a depth of one-half to an inch. Elsewhere, except along the Missouri river valley, there was a drizzling rain most of the night.

GREAT BILLS FRAMED UP AT MOVIE HOUSES

Motion Picture Theaters to Observe Lifting of Flu Ban by Putting on Special Films.

Omaha's motion picture fans are to be given a treat in the opening announced after the four-weeks ban on the theaters. Every one of the downtown houses has a choice offering for its patrons.

At the Rialto is being brought back D. W. Griffith's "The Great Love," which had a most successful run here early in September and which many people were unable to see. At the Strand will be Constantine Talmadge in her late farcical success, "Sauce for The Goose."

"Hearts of the World" is the offering at the Brandeis, starting a nine-day run with the matinee show. At the Empress there will be a vaudeville bill and Edith Storey in "The Demon." Saturday and George Walsh in "On the Jump" the first half of next week. The Sun will present J. Warren Kerrigan, finishing "A Prisoner of the Pines" on Saturday with June Elvidge in "The Appearance of Evil" on Sunday and Monday. The Sun theater will open up with Tom Moore in his comedy drama, "Just for Tonight."

All of the suburban houses of Omaha have booked star plays for their opening and for Sunday and the opening of the theaters promising a revel for fans of photography.

Lynch Dismissed from Army and Board Looks for His Questionnaire

Assistant United States District Attorney Saxton received a telegram from the commandant at Camp Dodge Thursday morning saying that John C. Lynch would be dismissed from military service immediately. Conditions around exemption board No. 4, where Lynch was inducted into the service, and where the storm clouds gathered thickest when United States Attorney Allen started the fire works, are almost down to normal.

Tony Minardi, clerk, whose resignation was accepted as a result of the Lynch affair, was off the job, and a still hunt is being conducted for the questionnaire that Lynch was supposed to have filed with the board.

Chief Clerk Southard said he was not positive that Lynch had ever filed a questionnaire, but at the time of his induction he had stated that he was in class A 1. The mystery now is, how did Lynch get into class A 1, and if he had, where is the questionnaire?

ZEEBRUGGE TO OSTEND IS ONE BIG FORTRESS

Flags Fly in Ostend as on a Fete Day, but Destruction to Buildings Is Appalling; Take Metals.

By Associated Press. Belgian Army Headquarters in Flanders, Oct. 31.—(By Associated Press.)—The road from Ostend to Zeebrugge, which the Germans recently held, is one continuous fortress, with many guns silhouetted against the sky. The number of guns increases as the fortified line nears Zeebrugge.

The town of Blankenbergh, between Zeebrugge and Ostend, is virtually undamaged but deserted. All the buildings have been stripped of copper and iron.

Ostend, from a distance, looks exactly as on fete days in times of peace. Flags are hanging from every window and the city is decorated gaily. Signs of ruin and damage, however, become apparent as soon as the city is entered. Ostend has suffered much. The Casino is desolate and empty and the walls

Czecho-Slavs Cut Railroad Between Vienna and Berlin

Paris, Oct. 31.—Communication between Agram and Fiume, and Budapest and Vienna has been totally interrupted. The Czecho-Slovaks have cut the railroad between Berlin and Vienna near Bodenbach and German trains can only go as far as Schnadau, according to a Zurich dispatch to the Journal.

The military governor of Fiume recently advised the Hungarian government that he was without material and munitions and unable to defend the city. He received orders to hand over the administration to the Croatian national council, which he did immediately.

The fact that not all the bridges were blown up by the Germans is commented upon by military visitors to Ostend. An alderman of the city explained that the German general staff had given orders to destroy all the bridges. However, the German noncommissioned officers detailed for the work of destruction, he added, fell easy victims to persuasive 100 or 200-mark bills.

FRENCH PAPER ASKS COMPLETE HUN GUARANTEE

Suggests Program for Armistice that Would Leave Hun Helpless During Peace Negotiations.

Paris, Oct. 31.—In an editorial discussing armistice terms, L'Information suggests the following conditions: "Internationalization of the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles. The occupation of enemy ports on the Adriatic. The surrender of Austrian warships. The right to use Austro-Hungarian railway lines. The evacuation of Alsace-Lorraine and territories wrongly occupied in the east and west. The surrender of arms, munitions and submarines. The occupation of fortresses and bridges along the Rhine and of Luxembourg and Essen. The occupation of Kiel and Hamburg. The removal of mines from territorial waters. The delivery, as a preliminary compensation for damages, of part of the enemy merchant marine. "The cessation of manufacturing for war purposes."
