HAVE you caught the step? The new swagger sway, of course! Gone is the debonair slouch and in its place the smart and military walk, the swagger sway. Nobody knows just how it originated, but like leather puttees and jazz music, it just popped up unawares and now you see it everywhere you go. Watch the stylishly gowned young women as they pass you on the street, and you will get it, all in step, one, two, three! Perhaps it's the military music, perhaps it's the men in khaki who have introduced this swinging stride but, nevertheless, it's here to stay and if you would be up to the minute you must change your mincing step of yesterday to the swagger sway of the hour.

We have much to chat about in a social way today. The great door to Pleasure Land has been closed and barred for four weary weeks but now it creaks on its hinges and will soon swing wide. Parties galore are being planned to usher in the winter season in true style. We are deeply interested as well as charmed with the first lady at Fort Omaha, Mrs. Jacob W. S. Wuest, whom we hear is planning to entertain extensively. Due to the charming army matron the Officers' club will be opened to the feminine friends of the commissioned men and we are hoping to hear of some very formal dinners and dances very soon. Mrs. Wuest is especially interested in the prospects of a hostess house at Fort Omaha and believes strongly in developing the social side of army life. With so many young and attractive matrons at the two army posts, there will be much entertaining and we expect to have a very gay winter.

War Benefits.
Benefit dancing parties will now come thick and fast with the opening of the gates at Fort Omaha. One of the largest of these affairs will be the dance given by the B'nai B'rith Thursday evening at the Auditorium. Every man wearing the uniform of his country will be an honor guest and the prettiest girls in town will tempt your eye and purse. Proceeds of the affair will send a canteen worker across the seas to do her share in winning the great struggle. We have heard an engagement or two that may interest you, but you must guess the names yourself. You have passed the young woman in question many times in the car driving for the Service League, for she is active in all branches of war work. Many censored letters come from the war-ridden countries across the sea for "he," who wears two silver bars, has been in overseas service for some time. A princess of the court at the last Ak-Sar-Ben coronation, she has ever been prominent socially and is numbered among our most attractive girls. "After the war," she says, but one can never tell for the huge transports still plow their way across the seas, and, perhaps, by some good fortune, the grim war lord may order him home before the war is won, for many of the officers come back on special and mysterious missions. In the meantime we can wait, for it will be one of the most interesting military weddings imaginable.

Air Raid on Paris
The sound of falling masonry, if one is near a place that is hit. "In the morning, the girls admitted they were all scared, though I must say no one showed any signs of fear. I honestly wasn't afraid the least bit. I find I am a very thorough-going fatalist after all. It sounds silly, perhaps, to those who do not know my dislikes for cats, but there is a black cat in this hotel which gives me a much more real feeling of terror. It is, after all, just chance, that makes one afraid of certain sights and sounds. "The following morning we all slept late. After breakfast we went to the office of the Red Cross military affairs, 4 Place de la Concorde. This number was once a famous gambling house, I understand, just like Maxims. "We then visited the American fund for French wounded, which has its offices in the old Alcazar restaurant. This is the most stylish war fund, run by the smartest people. This does not necessarily imply that the best work is done. There are lots of wealthy girls working there, not all of whom have had business preparation. They are no under the Red Cross, but do special work, rustling supplies, etc., and filling, I am sure, a very real want. Agnes Jones had a friend there who went to lunch with us and told us a lot of war gossip which I will not take the time to repeat. "In the afternoon we went to the Bon Marche and got supplies of various kinds, a hamper of food, etc. Prices were much lower than we found elsewhere. Nothing

Khaki or blue uniforms will be the sign of admission for men in the service at the B'nai B'rith auxiliary's war benefit dance at the Auditorium Thursday evening. Miss Blanche Bessel, president, has issued an invitation to all soldiers at Fort-Omaha and Fort Crook, as seems especially cheap here, prices being about American pre-war figures. "We had supper at our own hotel, which seems more English than French. There are numbers of Canadian, Australian and English nurses and British army and Red Cross officers here. We carefully prepared a heavy coat, put our money, passports and flashlights in our pockets, placed shoes and stockings all ready for another raid. None came, however. Today we learned a few people were killed in the other raid, mostly by shrapnel from the French attacking party, and that last night Calais was bombed. "Today I attended a Red Cross lecture by Mme. Fuestere, which I understood very well. This afternoon we went to Neully and I asked for Louise Dinning, but she was away on leave. The hospital was wonderful. I will tell you about it later. "I was about to describe my wanderings of last Sunday afternoon. I believe when sleep overcame me, I started out by myself as my two companions were going with a friend to Versailles. I went down bravely to the Louvre and took an omnibus (motor). One must tear off a number from the stand and get on in turn. This is to avoid crowding, and could only be necessary where people are excitable and withal love fairness and politeness.

I got off at the Jardin de Luxembourg near the Odéon only to find that it was closed, a war measure I presume. The gardens were ablaze with red flowers and grass and trees were very fresh and a pleasant change from rows of city houses without a flower or shrub. The people were out in crowds to enjoy the benign warmth of Indian summer and seemed happier than any of the other folks whom I have seen. Mr. and Mrs. Jean Marie Guislain have given up their home in Boston, and taken one of the new apartments at 327 West 172nd street, New York City. Mrs. Guislain was formerly Miss Rose Coffman.

Gilinsky, Mrs. Morris Milder and Miss June Abrams are a quartet of attractive young women patronesses. All members of the B'nai B'rith order now in the service, more than 100 in all, have been sent complimentary tickets in camps wherever they are stationed, in token that the girls of the auxiliary bear them in mind during their absence. Proceeds of the dance will be used to finance an overseas war worker.

Defense Council
The "America First" campaign carried on by the Americanization committee, Mrs. A. C. Troup chairman, with the immediate purpose of inducing the foreigner to enroll in the night schools supported by the board of education, is under way. Miss Ida Kubby of the Young Woman's Hebrew association has been appointed organizer for the Second ward, in which the Kellom school is located. It is planned to circularize the districts through churches, schools, stores and factories and to use the house-to-house canvass through mothers appointed by the organizer. Night school opens November 11. Mrs. Randulph, organizer for the Scandinavian people in the eighth and ninth wards, reports that the Scandinavians are already speaking the American language. This was ascertained by a survey made by the board of education under Superintendent Beveridge. Election Commissioner Moorhead has consented to circularize the foreigner through election booths, to induce attendance at the night schools. Mrs. W. S. Knight, chairman of the educational committee of the Omaha Woman's club, offers to place educational pictures in foreign moving picture houses. The pictures are obtained from New York. The Americanization committee endorses the establishment of community centers in foreign districts. Especial mention was made by Mrs. Christianity, principal, of the need at Mason school. Severe illness in the family of Mrs. W. S. Halsey, supervisor in the fifth ward, has prevented any activity in that section during the quarantine. Miss Edith McNett of the student nurse reserve, has orders to report to Camp Dodge.

SHE DARKENED HER GRAY HAIR

Well Known Lady Tells How She Darkened Her Gray Hair By a Simple Home Made Remedy.

Mrs. E. H. Boots, a well known resident of Buchanan County, Ia., who darkened her gray hair by a simple home-made remedy, made the following statement:

"Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy with this simple remedy, which they can mix at home. To half a pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, one small box of Barbo Compound and 3/4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently. This is not a dye, it does not color the most delicate scalp; is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off. It will make a gray haired person look 10 to 20 years younger."—Adv.

FOR INFLUENZA DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Open sluices of system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter, says authority.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drank each morning before breakfast, keeps us looking and feeling fit.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, which will cost but little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Through four years of war, coffee has never been advanced in price.

During the last year, the cost of green coffee has increased, as well as labor, freight and containers.

It is now necessary for the dealer to ask 5 cents a pound more for all coffee.

We offer this explanation that the dealers may not be misunderstood in raising their prices. It is a condition which cannot be helped although it has been postponed as long as possible.
