> "A teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin each night at bedtime has done me a world of good, as I am 62 years old and was getting badly constipated. I had previously taken a lot of salts and pills without real relief." (From a letter to Dr. Caldwell written by Mr. A. Forester, Princess Anne, Md.)

Constipation is one of the penalties of age that should never be neglected-Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that relieves constipation in an easy, natural manner, without griping or strain, and is as positive in its effect as it is mild and gentle in its action.

Quality Unchanged.

Why Not!

Do You Know the Woman who does not appreciate a good, and a regularly good loaf of bread, and what it means to her health and the health of her family?

Let our diet get out of balance and our system gets out of balance, and then follows one complication after another, until we find ourselves completely up-set. It is right here that a lesson can be drawn. You have your preferences for foods of all kinds and naturally you cater to such desires, but have you considered that every article of food that comes to your table could be dispensed with, except bread? In other words, bread is the last food that we can get along without,—it is the very foundation of our physical existence, and therefore is of the first importance as a food, and should receive your first consideration, but unfortunately receives too little consideration by many.

How many times have you heard said, "give me good bread and I am satisfied," (but how careful we are to say "good bread")

Is there any food you know of that you can eat as regularly and with a never diminishing desire as good bread? Well then, what is your duty to yourself and family in this matter? It certainly is to see to it that the bread you eat is the best and most nutritious bread you can get. You of course realize this, but do not allow yourself to become confused for a moment with the altogether too common idea, that bakers bread is all in the same class, for you could not be farther away from the facts than this.

There is as much difference in bread as there is in meats, preserves or pastry.

The reputation and sale of Butter-Nut Bread has not been developed on a hit or miss plan, or by being anything less than the highest and best standard in bread making, regularly and consistently applied.

There is something a good deal stronger in our position in this matter than "good resolutions," it is the same fixed determination to fulfill the highest ideals in supplying the consumer with bread that is as sure in its health giving qualities, as is our faith in its
