

SOME ARE OUT IN OPEN TO GET SPEAKERSHIP

Fultz of Furnas First Man Actually to Get Into Race in Lower House at Lincoln.

From a Staff Correspondent.
Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—From now on it will be expected that candidates for speaker of the house and clerk of that body will put up in the most exposed places. It is understood that already some have got to the "mention" position, but J. E. Fultz of Furnas county is the first man really to get out in the open and defy the lightning to strike him. Mr. Fultz says he is a candidate because he wants to be speaker.

Mr. Fultz has served two terms in the lower branch of the state legislature and one special session. Dwight S. Dalby of Beatrice, who has also served in the same number of sessions, is said to be a candidate, although he has made no move personally. Hostetter and Harris, both of Buffalo, have also been mentioned, but as yet Mr. Fultz is the only man who has come out boldly and said that he wants the place because he wants it.

For President Pro Tem.
The president pro tem of the senate there are many eligibles, although none so far is out in the open. C. Petrus Peterson of Lancaster, who was the floor leader on the republican side of the house last session and is recognized as having all the qualifications of a successful leader, has been mentioned and appears to be strong so far. The senate, however, is going to be composed this year of a whole lot of good timber and should be a strong body, if they can get away from the atmosphere of the last two sessions, where good legislation suffered because of factional difficulties between the two branches of the legislative bodies.

Chance for Republicans.
Republicans have a chance to do great things when the session convenes. With an almost unanimous majority, good wholesome legislation can be enacted and should be enacted if the party wants to continue in power. With such strong men of legislative experience as will constitute the upper body there will be no excuse for dilatory tactics or lack of wholesome legislative action.

From the house of the last session comes over to the senate on the republican side, C. Petrus Peterson of Lancaster, B. J. Amley of Nance, Perry Reed of Hamilton, Dennis Cronin of Holt and Fred Johnson of Adams, while many of the old members of the last and former sessions will be back, among them B. K. Bush of Kimball, J. W. Hammond of Cambridge, W. V. Hoagland of North Platte, J. F. Cordeau of McCook, Richard F. Neal of Nemaha and Charles L. Saunders of Omaha.

Job for the Gavel.
However, the democrats will have some experienced members in the upper body, in fact all four democrats are men with legislative knowledge. John F. Moriarty and John M. Tanner of Douglas and Charles A. Chappel of Minden have served in the senate before and W. J. Taylor of Custer will transfer his war bonnet to the upper body, which he has so often declared to be composed of highbrows and such other things.

Whether the scrappy gentleman from Custer will be able to accustom himself to the esthetic and more or less highbrow senate, remains to be seen. But just think what the presiding officer faces with Taylor at one end of the senate, Moriarty at the other end and Dennis Cronin immediately in front.

Candidates File List of Expenses In Recent Election

From a Staff Correspondent.
Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Candidates in the last election are beginning to figure up the cost of election. Filings in the office of the secretary of state are as follows:

George W. Norris certifies that he paid the republican state committee $500, which is the extent of the amount the law requires that he give in.

H. G. Taylor, re-elected railway commissioner on the republican ticket, says that it cost him $492 to get elected, of which $350 went to the republican state committee.

P. A. Barrows, who has already received the congratulations of his opponent, Senator Banning of Union, and therefore feels that he is safely across, certifies that he paid out $290, of which he gave the republican state committee $250 and the Lancaster county committee $40. Charles Graf, who defeated Senator Phil Kohl of Wayne for the democratic nomination for the state senate, lost the election and it cost him $24 to discover he was short on votes.

Patriotic Votes, All, Won Election—Hall

From a Staff Correspondent.
Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 8.—(Special.)—That the result of the election was a patriotic verdict of the people, is the opinion of George E. Hall, democratic state treasurer, who will retire from office at the end of the year, not because he was defeated, but because he was not a candidate. The four-year limit which the constitution provides shall be all that a state treasurer can serve, having expired at that time.

In a letter of congratulations to S. R. McKelvie, governor-elect, Mr. Hall challenges the statement that the republican candidate for governor was elected by unpatriotic votes, or that any other republican candidate was elected by disloyal voters.

"Permit me to congratulate you upon the result of the 1918 election. Democrats want but little here below and we surrender the title to you without a postmortem. We believe your committee has played the game according to Hoyle and there is not a sore spot on us. See you again in 1920?"

To which Mr. Beach responded in the following letter:

"I am in receipt of your letter congratulating me upon the result of the election last Tuesday and I want to assure you that it gives me great pleasure that the results are such as to give you occasion for sending congratulations."

Fairfield Receives False Peace Story and Rejoices

Fairfield, Neb., Nov. 8.—The signing of the armistice by Germany was the occasion for great rejoicing and a big celebration at Fairfield last night, at which time a huge bonfire was built in the public square. The Kaiser was burnt in effigy. There was a great ringing of bells and a blowing of whistles, and impromptu firing squads were organized in the streets and the fired volley after volley in honor of the victors.

At the close of the celebration downtown the crowd proceeded to a body of the largest church building in town where a great jubilee and praise service was held. Short patriotic addresses, songs by the high school young people and a season of praise and thanks given to God by a grateful people characterized the service.
