S. A. LASSIES TO AID DRIVE AFTER SERVICE ABROAD

Two Courageous Girls Arrive to Help Secure Funds to Make Men Comfortable Overseas.

O. H. Menold, state director of publicity for the United War Work campaign, Thursday morning received a night letter from Elmore Leffingwell, national headquarters, New York, giving details of work performed by two young Salvation Army lassies in France, who have returned home to aid in the drive which starts next Monday. Captain Violet McAllister and Lt. Alice McAllister were the two girls and their stories are of particular interest because of the first-hand information obtained in the last few weeks.

"Three weeks ago today we were behind lines in a 'no man's forest,'" said Capt. Violet McAllister, little Salvation Army lassie, who, with her sister, Lt. Alice McAllister, has been in France for the past seven months making life a bit more comfortable and happier for the American doughboys and who has just landed in New York clad in steel helmets and full battle array, including knickerbockers and doughnut tins. The two girls created a sensation when they stepped on the dock.

Home to Aid Drive.
They would not be here now if it were not for United War Work drive, because of which they were called home to tell American people just how much boys appreciate the things $170,500,000 will buy for them.

These two girls were the very first to assist in American field hospitals and the day they left France were helping in a hospital that was heavily shelled. Lieutenant McAllister was struck on the head by a piece of shrapnel but her jaunty tin millinery saved her.

"If you did nothing but walk around so the boys could see you and talk to you," an overworked medical man told them, "you would help a lot." But they didn't do only that, they washed clotting blood from boys' faces, cheered them up with real United States talk, too. Messages for dear ones at home and wet parched lips with cool, damp cloth.

"Gave 'Em Hell."
"One poor fellow," said Captain McAllister, "was literally riddled with bullets and I said to him, 'Well, they peppered you up a bit I see.' 'Oh, Fritz punctured me a little,' he admitted, 'but we sure gave him hell!'"

"We served men hot chocolate and soup in winter and lemonade in summer," she went on. "We made honest-to-goodness American lemonade even if we did have to walk a mile to draw water from ice-cold springs and squeeze all lemons by hand. Often when wounded Americans and Germans were brought in to the hospital together, our boys would motion to doctors to go ahead with Germans. That shows something of the bigness of spirit of our boys. Can you imagine a German trying to make wounded American soldiers in Germany more comfortable."

Get German Piano.

The McAllister sisters, or, as they are called in France, "the McAllister twins," are proud owners of a German piano which was presented to them by their commanding officer when they arrived in Villas, which had been occupied 24 hours before by Germans. They left the piano in France however, for men of their division to enjoy. These lassies have been on five battle fronts and have moved with the First division, which is America's shock troops division, ever since they have been overseas. They are always there when boys come back tagged from a big fight with plenty of hot drinks and plenty of cheery words. "Every possible night we had a sing. The boys like best of all to sing hymns and mother songs, so Alice and I played on our banjos and piano and sang with the boys. We tried to take the place for a little time of mothers, sisters and sweethearts back in the states."

Defeat of Russian Red Army Due to Disorganization

Moscow—Russian papers estimate the actual fighting strength of the Czechoslovak detachments since they have recruited Cossacks and other enemies of the bolshevik government at from 200,000 to 500,000. Commanders of the Russian red army insist they have been greatly outnumbered at the points where they have been repulsed by the Czechoslovak detachments, but papers in opposition to the bolshevik government charge the Czech victories to the disorganization and lack of discipline in the red army and to the unwillingness of many of the red soldiers to engage in what they regard as a domestic struggle.

Oklahoma Prohibits the Use of German in Public Places

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 8.—Oklahoma has come into line with many other states in the suppression of the German language in public places. To cut down the number of yellow paint parties which were popular in Oklahoma last spring and summer, the state council of defense in August sent a letter to all county councils in which it advised against speaking German and prohibited its use in schools. A resolution now has been adopted absolutely prohibiting the use of German language in "every public place in the state of Oklahoma."

Illinois Coal Mine Breaks All Records for Hoisting

Du Quoin, Ill., Nov. 8.—The world's hoisting record for coal mines has been broken by the Chicago, Wilmington and Franklin Coal company's mine at Orient, Ill., southeast of here, by hoisting 6,008 tons of coal in seven hours and 40 minutes. It required 1,452 cage dumps to accomplish the feat, and 133 railroad cars to transport the output. The highest tonnage heretofore hoisted in a single day was at a mine of the American Mining company at Bicknell, Ind., where tonnage of 5,910 was established.

Glove Sale $1.65

Special For Saturday

Women's Kid Gloves, at $1.65 a Pair
About fifty dozen Women's Kid Gloves, partially real kid and partially French lamb, will be sold Saturday at the very small price of $1.65. These gloves are, moderately speaking, worth from $2 to $2.50 a pair. They come in white and black; also white with black backs and black with white backs. If you need any gloves for yourself, or contemplate giving any as Christmas presents, here is an excellent opportunity to buy them at an extraordinarily low price. We advise coming early Saturday, because this quantity is no doubt not going to last very long.

In addition, we are mentioning our very complete stock of Perrin's real kid gloves, still sold at moderate prices. The reason for this is that we made our purchases many months ago; in a good many instances longer than a year ago, so that today we are in a position to offer these world-famous gloves in black, white, and the scarce shades of browns, grays, etc., at $2.50, $2.75, $3, $3.25 and $3.50 a pair.

Children's Warm Gloves, Mittens and Gauntlets, from 35c to $1.75 a pair.
