

RUSS PEASANTS TERRORIZED BY DEEDS OF REDS

Allies Urged to Send Sufficient Forces to Put End to Reign of the Bolsheviks.

Archangel, Nov. 9.—Abject terror that the bolsheviks are coming back to kill and rob reigns in the hearts of the peasants in many little villages on the banks of the Divina and Vaga rivers back of the allied lines. The correspondent who has just returned from the Divina-Vaga front, found the peasantry full of hatred for the bolsheviks but afraid to fight. In many places they have already seen their friends shot and bayoneted or brutally killed by slow, torturing methods when suspected of aiding the allies. In one little village it was related to the correspondent, bolsheviks compelled three peasants to dig their own graves and jump into them to "try them out." The peasants were shot a moment later. This was done, the people charge, by White guards.

In another village the people were warned by a bolshevik spy that they would be killed if they furnished aid to the American transport and two days later the bolsheviks were able to keep their promise to be back in the village within 48 hours.

These peasants say they are the real Russian people, and they want the allies to send sufficient forces to guarantee a speedy end to the reign of terror by the bolsheviks, whom the peasants regard as fanatical savages.

Meanwhile poverty in the villages is increasing. There is no kerosene or candles and the people have gone back three centuries, using a primitive iron.

25 Recruits for Czecho-Slovak Army Leave Sunday

Twenty-five recruits for the Czecho-Slovak army will leave Omaha at 6 o'clock tonight, going direct to France. They will be accompanied by Recruiting Officer Emil Tuma, who has recruited them from Omaha and the state.

A farewell entertainment will be given for them in the Catholic Turner hall on South Thirteenth street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon, when Father Vranek and Father Broz will make speeches. From the hall they will march to the railway station.

Recruiting work here will continue under Joseph Jelinek, 1729 South Thirteenth street.

Soldiers Over There Show Appreciation of United War Work

C. H. Menold, state director of publicity for the United War Work campaign, Saturday morning received a night letter from Elmore Leffingwell, national headquarters, New York, in which is given a cable from the boys over there telling of their appreciation of the great work of the seven war organizations to share in this drive. The letter follows:

"Support of wide appeals made to country by Dr. John R. Mott, director general, and other public men, not to allow either actual peace or prospects of it to jeopardize United War Work campaign next week, has just reached national headquarters here in the form of a cablegram direct from Admiral Sims. Cablegram, dated at London, November 7, reads as follows: "The forces at front deeply appreciate services rendered to them by societies engaged in the United War Work campaign. Their work is of real military value in defeating the enemy. It is most vital period of war and we must spare no effort even after victory, for United War Work agencies must continue until the last soldier and sailor has returned home. (Signed) SIMS."

"Overwhelmed for first few hours by the momentousness of unofficial news reports yesterday, nationwide campaign organization has rallied quickly and every telegram to national headquarters bears common message of universal determination to see the great task through to a successful issue."

Memorial to Philip Payne Will Be Sent to Amherst College

"Desert Clouds," is the title of a painting by the Omaha artist, Dr. Robert Gilder, which will be presented to Amherst college as a memorial to Philip Payne, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Payne of Omaha.

Philip Payne was a graduate of Amherst college and later accepted the professorship in English and philosophy which he held until ill health forced him to give up his work. He sought health in Arizona, but his quest was in vain and he died there last spring.

Dr. Gilder and Professor Payne were fast friends. They were together in Arizona during the last year of the young instructor's life as the artist had gone to Arizona to paint desert scenes. The picture, "Desert Clouds," is typical of the far reaches of Arizona. It shows lazy, low-hanging clouds over a background of purple hills and stretches of desert growth. The painting is in the Milton Daring Gift Shop, Eighteenth and Farnam streets, and will be on display there for a few days before it is sent to Amherst.

In Just a Few Hours We Can Install in Your Home the World's Most Economical Heating Plant, the

Original Vacuum Pipeless Furnace

We can put this furnace into new or old houses without wrecking the walls or floors; in fact, there are already 2,500 Vacuum Furnaces installed in old homes in Nebraska, each one upholding all our claims.

It will give you more heat with one-third less fuel than any pipe furnace of the same capacity.

It Costs Less to Install

It will burn any kind of low grade fuel and give the best results. It heats and ventilates all the rooms of your house. It wastes no heat in the cellar, thereby giving you good vegetable and fruit storage. Remember There Will Be No Hard Coal In Nebraska This Winter. But the owner of a Vacuum Furnace will get abundant heat from any kind of fuel—soft coal, wood, coke, etc.

See the sample in our Kitchenware Department. Ask for Catalog, testimonials and list of satisfied users. If you have a heating problem talk it over with us. It will not obligate you, but Do It Now. Don't wait until bitter winter weather overtakes you.
