

THE INDUSTRIAL EAST AND PRODUCTIVE WEST SHAKE HANDS THROUGH OMAHA.

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE

VOL. 48.—NO. 126.

Entered as second-class matter May 26, 1906 at Omaha, P. O. under act of March 3, 1879

OMAHA, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1918. ***

By Mail (1 year), Daily, $4.50; Sunday, $2.50; Daily and Sun., $5.50; outside Neb. postage extra

TWO CENTS.

THE WEATHER.
For Iowa: Fair Tuesday and Wednesday; cooler Tuesday and west portion and at night in east portion Hourly Temperature.
5 a. m.	42
6 a. m.	41
7 a. m.	41
8 a. m.	43
9 a. m.	45
10 a. m.	45
11 a. m.	46
12 m.	46
1 p. m.	46
2 p. m.	46
3 p. m.	46
4 p. m.	44
5 p. m.	43
6 p. m.	42
7 p. m.	41
8 p. m.	40
9 p. m.	39
10 p. m.	38
11 p. m.	37
12 m.	36

HUN FLEET PLOTS DEFEAT; SAY CROWN PRINCE SHOT

ALL OMAHA "TEARS LOOSE" AND STAGES GIANT CELEBRATION OVER DOWNFALL OF HATED HUN

Dense Mass of People March and Shout in Parade With All Sorts of Noise Makers; See Kaiser Burned At Stake and Watch Show Staged by The Bee.

Omaha "tore loose" last night. That is the only expression that describes the orgy of joy into which the city plunged with an abandon produced by the news of the signing of the armistice of Germany.

Never before was such a spectacle seen on the streets of Omaha. And, it is quite safe to say, never again while any of us shall live will such another spectacle be seen.

Convention was thrown to the winds. Anything "went." Streets and sidewalks were one dense mass of people, so thickly packed that it was almost impossible to get through. And these people were yelling, laughing, blowing horns, rattling "rattlers," hammering tin pans, tooting "tooters," pounding tambourines, drumming drums, dragging bunches of tinware on the ground, hammering trolley poles, throwing confetti and doing a hundred other things to make a noise and thus in some degree expressing the flooding joy that well-ed up within them because the great war is over and the kaiser and his evil powers lie in abject surrender at the feet of the free people of the world.

Burn Red Fire. The center of the density of this crowd was the court house square. There a platform had been built and on it was a funeral pyre. About 8 o'clock, away down Farnam street many red lights began to appear above the dense crowd. As they came nearer they were seen to be the head of the parade. They were flares carried by marchers. Red fire was burned from many torches. At the head marched the Fort Omaha band and a detachment of soldiers.

Place Kaiser on Pyre. On each side of the slowly-moving wagon marched 10 red devils with horns and spiked tails. They carried three-tined forks. When the wagon came opposite the pyre, it stopped and the devils yanked the casket and body from it. They bore it up on the platform and placed it upon the pyre. The crowd sent up one mighty cheer, which continued, and finally reached a sky-piercing climax as the devils quickly set fire to the body. The flames leaped up and soon all of Bill Hohenzollern, damned here and hereafter, was being consumed. The devils leaped from the hot platform and, while the body burned, executed a joyous dance in a circle. And behind them stood a posse of citizens, who fired into the burning body with their rifles.

Bands Drowned Out. These citizens had followed the "hearse" up Farnam street shooting volleys every minute and adding to the bedlam of torpedoes, fire crackers, pistols, shots and a score of other noises. Several bands were in the crowd, but so great was the

Italy Celebrate Armistice Declaration With Big Celebration

Little Italy celebrated the signing of the armistice last night. There were songs and there were speeches, and everywhere the Italian flag was seen displayed with the emblem of the United States.

The greatest meeting was at 1202 South Twentieth street, where a crowd of over 1,000 was addressed by prominent speakers.

The committee in charge of this meeting was composed of F. Mauro, Abraham Sirian, Frank Periotore, Sam Marasco, Ralph Fane, Jim Mauro, Tony, Paul, Pete Mauro, and Charles Mauro.

Speakers were: Joseph Lovely, Dan Horrikan, C. C. Doorwood, and others. Thousands of Italians attended and it was one of the great patriotic celebrations of the day.

JOY! JOY! OMAHA IN FURORE AS WAR ENDS

Whole City Takes Half Day Off and Joins in Parade to Celebrate Victory.

It was our turn to celebrate and we did.

Omaha just turned itself loose for a day by rejoicing over the signing of the armistice by the Huns, the domination of human liberties over autocracy, and the downfall of the Hohenzollern war machine.

There was enough noise to have jarred any war-mad monarch from his throne and there is no doubt but that the din reached the a-frightened ears of the late head of the Potsdam palace.

Hosts of Democracy March. The official parade of the day was a demonstration which never will be forgotten by those who participated in the mighty concourse itself, or by those who lined the walks along the route. The hosts of democracy marched to the tunes of victory, with thousands of flags sun-kissed in the afternoon breeze. Women who had never before marched in a parade joined the revelers with as much enthusiasm as the boys and girls. Men carried their infants, some were observed on crutches; there were men in overalls and women in femininals; all joining in the tumult, which proclaimed that victory perched upon the banners of the Yanks and their allies.

All Shouting Glad. The parade covered Douglas, Farnam and Harney streets at one time, with countermarching on Farnam, making four lines, which offered a magnificent view for those who were favored with vantage points of observation. It was the best-natured crowd ever gathered in Omaha. Everybody was thankful and proud and relieved and a few other things, which left no time for petty annoyances which many encountered during the period of congestion.

And as a windup of the evening's entertainment, there was brought forward the Paramount's five-reel

Kicks Bring Cheers. The first picture on the program was the Universal Film company's "The Gezer of Berlin." The play is a comedy riot, in which the Kaiser, his generals and the crown prince are shown in all their true ludicrous poses and in which they find it a tougher world than mere man wishes at any time. And at every kick at old Bill Hohenzollern and his crew there were more and more cheers.

And as a windup of the evening's entertainment, there was brought forward the Paramount's five-reel

What Omaha thinks of Kaiser von Hohenzollern, as expressed on banners carried in the peace parade:
"Oh, boy, ain't it a grand and glorious feeling?"
"Let's cheer over here; they hear it over there."
"And we will be glad when Johnny comes marching home."
"That is the kaiser's funeral march."
"Thirty-one thousands of picked American shotgun men started the celebration at Chateau-Thierry."
"To hell with the kaiser!"
"Here is what is left of the kaiser, not quite dead, but a damned sight wiser."
"Celebrating Bill's vacation? No, he lost his job."
"The kaiser has gone to hell."
"Is Gott mit you now, Bill?"
"Who tied the cat to Kaiser Bill?"
"How far is it to Berlin?"
"Lost, one crown, badly battered. Finder please return to Kaiser Bill."
"No more Germans now."
"Bill, the last of his kind."
"How far is it to Paris, Bill?"
"We eat double eagles raw, feathers and all."
"Teddy lied to me, Bill!"
"How do you like Paris, Bill?"
"Kaiser Bill, now emperor of hell."
"Hohenzollern hunts hole in Holland."
"Liberty bonds will be on sale in Berlin soon."

Victorious Commander of Allies

MARSHAL FOCH

REVOLUTIONARIES GAINING GRIP ON HUN GOVERNMENT

Soldiers' and Workers' Councils Being Established Everywhere; Change Taking Place Without Appreciable Disturbance of Economic Order or of Bloodshed; Red Flag Flying Over Potsdam.

BULLETIN. London, Nov. 11.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg has placed himself and the German army at the disposition of the new people's government at Berlin, says a dispatch from the German capital by way of Copenhagen.

The field marshal asked the Cologne soldiers' and workers' council to send delegates to German main headquarters at once. Field Marshal von Hindenburg said he had taken this action "in order to avoid chaos."

BULLETIN. London, Nov. 11.—(1:27 P. M.)—Revolution is steadily progressing throughout the empire, says a German wireless dispatch from Berlin. Soldiers' and workers' councils are being established everywhere. In general, the change of government, the message said, has occurred without appreciable disturbance of economic order or of bloodshed.

BULLETIN. Amsterdam, Nov. 11.—Armed workers and soldiers stormed the prison in the Alt-Meabit street in Berlin, but at the request of Deputy Baechner they released only those incarcerated as "war victims," including former Captain von Beerfeld, who was concerned in the distribution of the memorandum of Prince Lichnowsky, which accused Germany of starting the war.

BULLETIN. Amsterdam, Nov. 11.—News has been received in Berlin and forwarded here that the garrisons at Doberitz and Potsdam are in the hands of the soldiers' and workers' council.

Copenhagen, Nov. 11.—King Friedrich August of Saxony has been dethroned, according to an official telegram from Berlin.

Copenhagen, Nov. 11.—The revolution in Germany is today, to all intents and purposes, an accomplished fact.

The revolt has not yet spread throughout the whole empire, but 14 of the 26 states, including all the four kingdoms and all other important states, are reported securely in the hands of the revolutionists.

GERMANY STRIPPED OF EVEN MEANS OF DEFENSE BY MOST DRASTIC ARMISTICE TERMS

OLDER SON OF KAISER REPORTED AS SLAIN

Details, However, Lacking; German Navy Called Upon to Resist Conquerors; Move Not Unexpected.

London, Nov. 12.—The former German crown prince is reported to have been shot, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to the Central News. Details are lacking.

German Navy in Plot. London, Nov. 11.—The admiralty has intercepted a German wireless from "the command and soldiers' council on the cruiser Strassburg" to all ships, torpedo boats, destroyers and submarines in the North sea.

The message refers to the terms of the armistice and declares: "This would entail the destruction of us all. German comrades: Defend our country against this unheard-of presumption."

"Strong English forces are reported off the Skaw, except those on outpost duty, assemble immediately at Sassnitz harbor."

Sassnitz is a watering place on the east coast of the island of Ruegen, Prussia.

Will Occupy Hun Base. London, Nov. 11.—A supplementary declaration to the armistice terms was signed to the effect that in the event of the 6 German battle cruisers, 10 battleships, 8 light cruisers and 50 destroyers not being handed over owing to a mutinous state, the allies reserve the right to occupy Helgoland as an advance base to enable them to enforce the terms.

JOYOUS JUBILEE WITH PANS, MULES AND GOATS

The grain firms of the grain exchange use little tin cans for grain samples, but that was not what they used them for Monday. Every marcher in the grain exchange section carried two of these tin pans, using them for tambourines and if the folks in Berlin didn't hear the noise of this aggregation they weren't listening.

With the marchers from South Omaha there were three Billy goats at different places in the line of march. Over the goats were the playards "We have got the kaiser's goat." However, the goats didn't play the part. They walked gladly along, head and tail erect, just like good American goats celebrating the victory for democracy.

The South Omaha cowboys on their prancing bronchos, was a feature of the great parade. The horses seemed as proud as their riders, and cantered along with anywhere from one to three riders on their backs.

One delegation carried a large frame scaffold, from which dangled an effigy of Kaiser Bill. On the front of the scaffold was a placard: "Here's what is left of the kaiser; not quite dead, but a damn sight wiser." On the other side it said: "He didn't give a damn for Uncle Sam. Now look at him."

Means Absolute Prevention of Recurrence of Hostilities; Defeated Enemy Must Give Up Vast Stores of Military Supplies; Navy's Strength Cut Away; Precautions Against Rebellion.

By Associated Press. Washington, Nov. 11.—Analysis of the terms imposed upon Germany shows them to be even more drastic than those being enforced against Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey. From a military standpoint alone they have been stripped even of the means of defense.

The object sought—absolute prevention of a recurrence of hostilities—is the same in each case. In general, the same character of concessions was required, though in Germany's case there was no necessity to provide for future campaigns against a remaining enemy.

The surrender of 5,000 cannon, 2,000 airplanes and other war material in proportion, military men say, means that for years to come the German states will be unable to think in terms of armed force against any of the powers associated against them.

Naval Strength Cut. Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey are in the same state as to military essentials, even if the complete political disintegration of Austria-Hungary had not virtually disposed of danger from that source.

The strength of the German navy has been cut away by the agreement to surrender 160 submarines, six battle cruisers and ten battleships, 50 modern destroyers and many other craft. At this single stroke, Germany would lose virtually its whole modern fleet. The ships which remain are chiefly of the pre-dreadnaught days and other obsolete types.

It was noted by officers here that Marshal Foch and his naval advisers had not lost sight of the mutiny within the German fleet and the possibility that this might interfere with the carrying out of the armistice naval terms.

Fleet Harmless. The supplementary condition, authorizing occupation of Helgoland as an advanced base by the allies in case the specified ships are not promptly surrendered, is designed to render the German fleet harmless in any case and its destruction certain in the end.

It was noted also with satisfaction that ample precautions had been taken in the terms against the erection of any interior defenses behind the Rhine. The occupation of the Rhine fortresses and of a 30-kilometer zone on the right bank of the river, wherever a bridgehead is to be protected, gives absolute domination of the 40-kilometer neutral zone established east of the Rhine to the allied forces, even without the garrisoning of any cities or other points within the zone. The way is to be kept open continually for advance into the heart of Germany by a dozen routes across the great river.

(Full text of armistice with Germany given on Page 13.)

Draft Calls Canceled And First Contingent Gets Only Short Trip

General Crowder Monday morning issued an order canceling all November draft calls and the contingent of selective service men who were entrained at 10 o'clock Monday went only as far as Fremont, Neb., when the order for them to return to Omaha was received and the men came back here Monday afternoon.

There were nearly 300 Omahans in the contingent and also quotas from Saunders and Colfax counties. This cancellation order also affects the calls for men who were to entrain for Camp Bowie, Tex., on Tuesday and Thursday. Nearly 500 men were scheduled to go in each contingent.

Orders received at local draft boards Monday told the men to continue the work of classifying the September registrants.

The contingent which entrained for Camp Kearny, Cal., wanted to go on to the California camp. They were hilarious when the train started westward, but when they were told at Fremont that they were to return to Omaha they were disappointed and it was a quiet crowd that was returned here.

BANNERS EXPRESS OMAHA OPINION OF KAISER BILL

What Omaha thinks of Kaiser von Hohenzollern, as expressed on banners carried in the peace parade:
"Oh, boy, ain't it a grand and glorious feeling?"
"Let's cheer over here; they hear it over there."
"And we will be glad when Johnny comes marching home."
"That is the kaiser's funeral march."
"Thirty-one thousands of picked American shotgun men started the celebration at Chateau-Thierry."
"To hell with the kaiser!"
"Here is what is left of the kaiser, not quite dead, but a damned sight wiser."
"Celebrating Bill's vacation? No, he lost his job."
"The kaiser has gone to hell."
"Is Gott mit you now, Bill?"
"Who tied the cat to Kaiser Bill?"
"How far is it to Berlin?"
"Lost, one crown, badly battered. Finder please return to Kaiser Bill."
"No more Germans now."
"Bill, the last of his kind."
"How far is it to Paris, Bill?"
"We eat double eagles raw, feathers and all."
"Teddy lied to me, Bill!"
"How do you like Paris, Bill?"
"Kaiser Bill, now emperor of hell."
"Hohenzollern hunts hole in Holland."
"Liberty bonds will be on sale in Berlin soon."

The windows and doors are locked?