

TRIAL OF MEN WHO BEGAN WAR IS PROPOSED

French Deputies Move for Extradition of the Rulers of Central Powers; Huns After Von Tirpitz.

(Continued From Page One.)

Berlin says Grand Duke William Ernst of Saxe-Weimar, has abdicated in order to prevent civil war. The former Grand Duke William Ernst, is 42 years old. Saxe-Weimar is in central Germany in Thuringia. Among the important towns is Jena, the famous university town.

The dispatch adds that republics have been proclaimed in Württemberg and Hesse. The new government in Baden has been constituted under the presidency of the socialist, Herr Jais.

General Officers Services.

Copenhagen, Nov. 13.—The commander of the German eastern army, which now is occupying Russian territory, has placed himself and his army at the disposal of the soldiers' council, according to the Wolff news agency of Berlin.

Prince Leopold of Lippe-Detmold, renounced his throne on Tuesday, according to the semi-official Wolff bureau of Berlin.

Fighting in Belgium.

Amsterdam, Nov. 13.—The German troops who mutinied at the Beverloo camp in Belgium and raised the red flag, says the Handelsblad, attacked another force supporting the former emperor. This force was defeated and fled to the Dutch frontier, where it was disarmed.

Unrest in Sweden.

London, Nov. 13.—The revolution in Germany has made an impression in Sweden, where organs of the independent socialists publish a manifesto urging the establishment of a soldiers' and workmen's council everywhere in order to establish a socialist government and republic, according to Copenhagen advices to the Exchange Telegraph company. General demobilization of the army and an eight-hour working day are also demanded.

Frontier Closed.

Paris, Tuesday, Nov. 12.—The lack of German news reaching here by the way of Switzerland indicates some interruption in the usual channel of information. Zurich has confirmed reports that the frontier is closed to travelers arriving from Germany. It is reported that Friedrich Ebert, the German chancellor, has given a place in his cabinet to George Ledebour, social democratic leader, but this report is given under reserve.

Information received here is that the revolution is proceeding calmly and methodically.

Soldiers Join Mobs.

Trieste, Nov. 13.—(By Associated Press.)—A state of semi-anarchy prevails in all the regions of Austria traversed by the Austro-Hungarian soldiers returning from the Italian front. The soldiers have abandoned the ranks and have joined the mobs in sackings and setting fire to property. All kinds of excesses are being committed.

To Drive Out Germans.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Roumania's reported new declaration of war against Germany is interpreted here as preliminary to measures to disarm and drive out the German army under Von Mackensen, which has been oppressing the Roumanians since the treaty of Bucharest sealed the helplessness of the population.

Word reached here today through official channels that the reorganized government in Roumania is headed by General Coanda. The same advices say the Roumanian national committee in Transylvania, which with the support of America and the allies expects reunion with Roumania, has declared its independence of Hungary.

Roumanian volunteer troops have crossed the border into Transylvania as an army of occupation.

German Crews Revolt.

Basel Switzerland, Monday, Nov. 11.—The crews of the German battleships Posen, Ostfriesland, Nassau and Oldenburg have joined the revolutionary movement, according to a dispatch from Brunsbutel, Prussian Holstein.

Complete Exoneration Sought by Mrs. Storey

New York, Nov. 13.—Mrs. William Cumming Storey, indicted with her two sons for activities in connection with the National Emergency Relief association, a war charity, appeared through counsel today in the court of general sessions, seeking "full exoneration" rather than a "mere dismissal" of the charges because of the death of a witness, as proposed by the district attorney.

A motion will be made next Tuesday by Mrs. Storey's attorneys to dismiss the indictments on their merits, thus giving the defendants the complete exoneration which they seek.

Wilson Plans Commission For Reconstruction Work

Washington, Nov. 13.—President Wilson has under consideration the appointment of a reconstruction commission to develop a comprehensive program for the nation's conversion from a war to a peace basis. The commission would be advisory rather than executive in functions and the plans developed and co-ordinated by it would be carried out by existing government departments and agencies.

As now considered, the commission would be representative of commercial, industrial, labor, agricultural and social interests; its membership would be small and it would deal with all phases of the great problem of easing the country from war to peace.

The president is said now to be considering what emergency legislation may be necessary before the government can proceed systematically to turn all resources of the country to peace-time production.

How to shut off further war production without closing plants, throwing men out of work and causing financial strain, is the most immediate reconstruction problem facing the government. Hundreds of telegrams of inquiry reaching government departments today disclosed anxiety of business men over this question and offered many suggestions. As a clearing house for such suggestions the reconstruction commission would act.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today made public a letter to President Wilson, citing evidence of anxiety among business men over the government's future course, suggesting development of uniform policies for all departments and some measures for preventing a sudden drop in prices of raw material.

The Chamber of Commerce recommended to the president the establishment of an advisory reconstruction commission similar to that he now considers appointing.

Whatever machinery is created for supervising the transition, it is considered certain that the government proposes to maintain a centralized control.

ing financial strain, is the most immediate reconstruction problem facing the government. Hundreds of telegrams of inquiry reaching government departments today disclosed anxiety of business men over this question and offered many suggestions. As a clearing house for such suggestions the reconstruction commission would act.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today made public a letter to President Wilson, citing evidence of anxiety among business men over the government's future course, suggesting development of uniform policies for all departments and some measures for preventing a sudden drop in prices of raw material.

The Chamber of Commerce recommended to the president the establishment of an advisory reconstruction commission similar to that he now considers appointing.

Whatever machinery is created for supervising the transition, it is considered certain that the government proposes to maintain a centralized control.

ing financial strain, is the most immediate reconstruction problem facing the government. Hundreds of telegrams of inquiry reaching government departments today disclosed anxiety of business men over this question and offered many suggestions. As a clearing house for such suggestions the reconstruction commission would act.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today made public a letter to President Wilson, citing evidence of anxiety among business men over the government's future course, suggesting development of uniform policies for all departments and some measures for preventing a sudden drop in prices of raw material.

The Chamber of Commerce recommended to the president the establishment of an advisory reconstruction commission similar to that he now considers appointing.

Whatever machinery is created for supervising the transition, it is considered certain that the government proposes to maintain a centralized control.

ing financial strain, is the most immediate reconstruction problem facing the government. Hundreds of telegrams of inquiry reaching government departments today disclosed anxiety of business men over this question and offered many suggestions. As a clearing house for such suggestions the reconstruction commission would act.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today made public a letter to President Wilson, citing evidence of anxiety among business men over the government's future course, suggesting development of uniform policies for all departments and some measures for preventing a sudden drop in prices of raw material.

The Chamber of Commerce recommended to the president the establishment of an advisory reconstruction commission similar to that he now considers appointing.

Whatever machinery is created for supervising the transition, it is considered certain that the government proposes to maintain a centralized control.

ing financial strain, is the most immediate reconstruction problem facing the government. Hundreds of telegrams of inquiry reaching government departments today disclosed anxiety of business men over this question and offered many suggestions. As a clearing house for such suggestions the reconstruction commission would act.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today made public a letter to President Wilson, citing evidence of anxiety among business men over the government's future course, suggesting development of uniform policies for all departments and some measures for preventing a sudden drop in prices of raw material.

The Chamber of Commerce recommended to the president the establishment of an advisory reconstruction commission similar to that he now considers appointing.

Whatever machinery is created for supervising the transition, it is considered certain that the government proposes to maintain a centralized control.

ing financial strain, is the most immediate reconstruction problem facing the government. Hundreds of telegrams of inquiry reaching government departments today disclosed anxiety of business men over this question and offered many suggestions. As a clearing house for such suggestions the reconstruction commission would act.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today made public a letter to President Wilson, citing evidence of anxiety among business men over the government's future course, suggesting development of uniform policies for all departments and some measures for preventing a sudden drop in prices of raw material.

The Chamber of Commerce recommended to the president the establishment of an advisory reconstruction commission similar to that he now considers appointing.

Whatever machinery is created for supervising the transition, it is considered certain that the government proposes to maintain a centralized control.

ing financial strain, is the most immediate reconstruction problem facing the government. Hundreds of telegrams of inquiry reaching government departments today disclosed anxiety of business men over this question and offered many suggestions. As a clearing house for such suggestions the reconstruction commission would act.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today made public a letter to President Wilson, citing evidence of anxiety among business men over the government's future course, suggesting development of uniform policies for all departments and some measures for preventing a sudden drop in prices of raw material.

The Chamber of Commerce recommended to the president the establishment of an advisory reconstruction commission similar to that he now considers appointing.

Whatever machinery is created for supervising the transition, it is considered certain that the government proposes to maintain a centralized control.

ing financial strain, is the most immediate reconstruction problem facing the government. Hundreds of telegrams of inquiry reaching government departments today disclosed anxiety of business men over this question and offered many suggestions. As a clearing house for such suggestions the reconstruction commission would act.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today made public a letter to President Wilson, citing evidence of anxiety among business men over the government's future course, suggesting development of uniform policies for all departments and some measures for preventing a sudden drop in prices of raw material.

The Chamber of Commerce recommended to the president the establishment of an advisory reconstruction commission similar to that he now considers appointing.

Whatever machinery is created for supervising the transition, it is considered certain that the government proposes to maintain a centralized control.

ing financial strain, is the most immediate reconstruction problem facing the government. Hundreds of telegrams of inquiry reaching government departments today disclosed anxiety of business men over this question and offered many suggestions. As a clearing house for such suggestions the reconstruction commission would act.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today made public a letter to President Wilson, citing evidence of anxiety among business men over the government's future course, suggesting development of uniform policies for all departments and some measures for preventing a sudden drop in prices of raw material.

The Chamber of Commerce recommended to the president the establishment of an advisory reconstruction commission similar to that he now considers appointing.

Whatever machinery is created for supervising the transition, it is considered certain that the government proposes to maintain a centralized control.

ing financial strain, is the most immediate reconstruction problem facing the government. Hundreds of telegrams of inquiry reaching government departments today disclosed anxiety of business men over this question and offered many suggestions. As a clearing house for such suggestions the reconstruction commission would act.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today made public a letter to President Wilson, citing evidence of anxiety among business men over the government's future course, suggesting development of uniform policies for all departments and some measures for preventing a sudden drop in prices of raw material.

The Chamber of Commerce recommended to the president the establishment of an advisory reconstruction commission similar to that he now considers appointing.

Whatever machinery is created for supervising the transition, it is considered certain that the government proposes to maintain a centralized control.

ing financial strain, is the most immediate reconstruction problem facing the government. Hundreds of telegrams of inquiry reaching government departments today disclosed anxiety of business men over this question and offered many suggestions. As a clearing house for such suggestions the reconstruction commission would act.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today made public a letter to President Wilson, citing evidence of anxiety among business men over the government's future course, suggesting development of uniform policies for all departments and some measures for preventing a sudden drop in prices of raw material.

The Chamber of Commerce recommended to the president the establishment of an advisory reconstruction commission similar to that he now considers appointing.

Whatever machinery is created for supervising the transition, it is considered certain that the government proposes to maintain a centralized control.

ing financial strain, is the most immediate reconstruction problem facing the government. Hundreds of telegrams of inquiry reaching government departments today disclosed anxiety of business men over this question and offered many suggestions. As a clearing house for such suggestions the reconstruction commission would act.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today made public a letter to President Wilson, citing evidence of anxiety among business men over the government's future course, suggesting development of uniform policies for all departments and some measures for preventing a sudden drop in prices of raw material.

The Chamber of Commerce recommended to the president the establishment of an advisory reconstruction commission similar to that he now considers appointing.

Whatever machinery is created for supervising the transition, it is considered certain that the government proposes to maintain a centralized control.

ing financial strain, is the most immediate reconstruction problem facing the government. Hundreds of telegrams of inquiry reaching government departments today disclosed anxiety of business men over this question and offered many suggestions. As a clearing house for such suggestions the reconstruction commission would act.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today made public a letter to President Wilson, citing evidence of anxiety among business men over the government's future course, suggesting development of uniform policies for all departments and some measures for preventing a sudden drop in prices of raw material.

The Chamber of Commerce recommended to the president the establishment of an advisory reconstruction commission similar to that he now considers appointing.

Whatever machinery is created for supervising the transition, it is considered certain that the government proposes to maintain a centralized control.

ing financial strain, is the most immediate reconstruction problem facing the government. Hundreds of telegrams of inquiry reaching government departments today disclosed anxiety of business men over this question and offered many suggestions. As a clearing house for such suggestions the reconstruction commission would act.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today made public a letter to President Wilson, citing evidence of anxiety among business men over the government's future course, suggesting development of uniform policies for all departments and some measures for preventing a sudden drop in prices of raw material.

The Chamber of Commerce recommended to the president the establishment of an advisory reconstruction commission similar to that he now considers appointing.

Whatever machinery is created for supervising the transition, it is considered certain that the government proposes to maintain a centralized control.

ing financial strain, is the most immediate reconstruction problem facing the government. Hundreds of telegrams of inquiry reaching government departments today disclosed anxiety of business men over this question and offered many suggestions. As a clearing house for such suggestions the reconstruction commission would act.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today made public a letter to President Wilson, citing evidence of anxiety among business men over the government's future course, suggesting development of uniform policies for all departments and some measures for preventing a sudden drop in prices of raw material.

The Chamber of Commerce recommended to the president the establishment of an advisory reconstruction commission similar to that he now considers appointing.

Whatever machinery is created for supervising the transition, it is considered certain that the government proposes to maintain a centralized control.

ing financial strain, is the most immediate reconstruction problem facing the government. Hundreds of telegrams of inquiry reaching government departments today disclosed anxiety of business men over this question and offered many suggestions. As a clearing house for such suggestions the reconstruction commission would act.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today made public a letter to President Wilson, citing evidence of anxiety among business men over the government's future course, suggesting development of uniform policies for all departments and some measures for preventing a sudden drop in prices of raw material.

The Chamber of Commerce recommended to the president the establishment of an advisory reconstruction commission similar to that he now considers appointing.

Whatever machinery is created for supervising the transition, it is considered certain that the government proposes to maintain a centralized control.

DR. SOLF'S PLEA LIKELY TO BE TURNED DOWN

(Continued From Page One.)

Such a conference is regarded here as unnecessary and as likely to uselessly to complicate the work of the general conference when it is held.

Ostensibly Dr. Solf's proposal is based upon the urgent need of Germany for food and other supplies, but it is pointed out that these conditions will be dealt with by the United States and the allies in advance of the peace conference under the general pledges contained in the armistice and given by the supreme council at Versailles.

In some quarters there is suspected that Dr. Solf's real purpose is to have the preliminary conference dispose of political matters, such as the future of German colonies and trade relations between the central powers and the nations with which they had been at war, in the hope of being able thus speedily to re-establish German foreign trade.

All of the old treaties of amity and commerce under which international treaties have been conducted between the warring nations automatically have been destroyed by the war and it will be necessary to provide a whole new fabric of trade treaties.

The peace conference may signify its own ideas as to how these shall be framed, but it will remain for the individual nations to give these ideas concrete form in special treaties.

Program Mapped Out.

The supreme war council in Versailles did more than consider the subject of armistice and it is now learned that for a long time preceding the collapse of the central powers much study and attention was given to the subject of final peace in all its ramifications.

Therefore when the peace conference meets it will find before it a U. S. Army Marking Time.

With the American Army at the front, Nov. 13.—The American army is marking time until orders come from Marshal Foch for the next move. The roads near the front are filled with the panoply of the war that has ended.

The German command will have a difficult task, it is believed, to accomplish evacuation in time, because, since the Americans have cut the Mezieres-Longuyon line at Sedan, the Germans have only one main line over which to return to Germany. This line runs through Liege. The terms of the armistice forbid American airplanes from going over the German lines and inasmuch as no prisoners are being taken, it is virtually impossible to get any information as to the movements of the German army.

Rejoicing at Headquarters.

American Headquarters in France, Nov. 13.—The scenes enacted in this little French city when the armistice terms were published was typical of every town and village in France, but were given unique significance because of the long residence here of General Pershing and his staff.

When the news was received allied flags were flung out from many windows, adding a touch of color to the narrow and tortuous streets. Citizens crowded into the public squares to celebrate, and the American headquarters baid gave a concert.

General Pershing was in his office when he received the news, which spread quickly through the many buildings housing the staff. There was no demonstration beyond quiet, individual rejoicing. The work of the brain center of the American army is going ahead steadily and uninterruptedly.

U. S. Troops Parade in Tours.

Tours, France, Nov. 13.—Rejoicing crowds led by American military bands and Polish cavalry paraded the streets of Tours yesterday in celebration of the signing of the armistice. American soldiers took part in the demonstration and the American flag appeared on nearly every building. In the evening there were concerts and dances for the entertainment of the American troops.

At Brest the American troops were reviewed by the civil and military authorities and an American band gave a concert in the Place du President Wilson.

Cettinje Liberated.

London, Nov. 13.—Cettinje, the capital of Montenegro, has been liberated, says a Serbian official statement issued Tuesday.

On Sunday Serbian troops entered the town of Versec, in Hungary, 25 miles north of the Danube, dispersing and capturing elements of German rear guards. A number of guns and raw material were captured. The Serbians also entered Novissad.

New Clerks.

Washington, Nov. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—Hazel A. Nelson, Omaha, has been appointed clerk in the war risk insurance department.

Jessie G. Anderson, Forest City, Ia.; James J. Hemler, Celmar, Ia.; Florence Kite, Auburn, Neb.; Jane S. Sexton, Grant, Neb.; Sylvia Wainan, Hamburg, Ia.; Nora Milligan, Lyon, Ia., have been appointed clerks in the War department.

fairly well digested program for the conduct of its business, calculated to keep the sessions well within bounds not only in the matter of expenditures of time, but also in the range of subjects to be discussed.

Owing to the number of questions to be considered and the amount of original investigation required to arrange final settlements of many of them, it is expected that soon after convening the peace conference will divide the delegates into a number of subcommittees to deal with different branches of the work and it is regarded here as certain that it will provide for the appointment of permanent commissions to sit after final adjournment of the conference to perform the score of things that must be done to set the commercial and economic machinery of the world at work again.

A long time, not months, but years, will be required to readjust this machinery. One high official said today it was a safe rule based on history, to assume that it will require twice as much time to get out of the war as it did to go through with it.

Jugo-Slav Leader Wants Intervention in Trieste

Washington, Nov. 13.—Dr. Bnjumil Vosnjak, member of the Jugo-Slav committee at London, filed today with the senate foreign relations committee a memorandum urging the United States to work out under a plebiscite the political destiny of the inhabitants of Trieste and the surrounding territory occupied by Italy as a result of the armistice with Austria-Hungary. He claims that the territory is largely made up of Jugo-Slavs.

Dr. Vosnjak suggested that the occupational army be composed of American troops.

As First President.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Thomas G. Masaryk, former president of the Czech-Slovak national council, will leave Washington Friday night on his way to Europe to assume office as the first president of the new republic of Bohemia.

A recuperative diet in influenza. Horlick's Malted Milk, very digestible.—Adv.

Peace Settlement Principal Issue in Election in Britain

London, Nov. 13.—(British Wireless.)—One of the principal issues at the forthcoming general election will be the nature of the peace settlement. It will mean the settlement of the world.

Premier Lloyd George made this announcement in an address to his liberal supporters on November 11. "What are the principles on which that settlement is to be effected?" he asked. "Are we to lapse back into the old national rivalries, animosities and competitive armaments or are we to initiate the reign on earth of the prince of peace? It is the duty of liberalism to use its influence to insure that it shall be a reign of peace."

Discussing the question of a league of nations, the premier said that such a league was more necessary now than ever.

Fleet at Constantinople; British Troops Hold Forts

London, Nov. 13.—The allied fleet arrived off Constantinople today, having passed through the Dardanelles Tuesday, the admiralty announces.

British and Indian troops, occupying the forts, paraded as the ships passed.

Fire Does Heavy Damage to Pittsburgh Oil Plant

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 13.—Fire, which was followed by five explosions, started in the plant of the Eagle Lubricating company this morning and rapidly spread to adjoining buildings, which are in the heart of the business district.

Adler Dies of Apoplexy.

Basel, Switzerland, Tuesday, Nov. 12.—The death of Victor Adler, the foreign secretary of German-Austria and the Austrian socialist leader, yesterday in Vienna, was due to apoplexy.

Revolutionists Give Protection to the Late Empress of Germany

Copenhagen, Nov. 13.—The new palace at Potsdam, where the former German empress, the former crown princess and other princesses and their children are living, has been taken under the protection of the Potsdam soldiers' and workers' council. The former empress has expressed to the council, according to a Berlin dispatch, her thanks for the protection.

British Lose Track of Retiring Germans in Neighborhood of Mons

With the British Armies in France and Belgium, Nov. 12.—(By Associated Press.)—How far the main German armies have retreated in this region cannot be said definitely. It is probable, however, that they have at least reached the Brussels-Charleroi line.

Enemy rear guards early this morning vanished from the vicinity of Mons and points further south.

Thompson-Belden & Co

Established 1886
The Fashion Center for Women

Velvet and Velour Coats Of Exceptional Distinction

These are among the most beautiful coat fashions of the season. They are of characteristic Thompson-Belden quality—the sort that meets with the approval of well dressed women. Trimmings of beautiful fur add the crowning touch of distinction.

A showing of particular interest.

$75, $79.50, $85, Up to $135

The Little Miss And Her Furs

Dainty sets of warm new furs in readiness for the cold winter days to come. White Coney muffs and collars.

White Thibet fur sets, $6.50. White Iceland fox sets, $9.50. Also beautiful sets of dark furs, from $4.50 to $18.

Women's Hosiery

New fashioned lisle hose, in white, gray and brown. Garter tops and double soles, 59c.

Very sheer balbriggan hose, with garter tops and double soles, 75c and $1.

Hosiery stocks include every desirable style and quality you may wish. Prices are always fair.

If You Wear a Redfern Corset your figure will be all that you wish. Redfern models are accomplishing remarkable results in shaping fashionable figures. They fit beautifully and comfortably. The selection of one of these models by our corsetieres is a genuine pleasure, so sure are they of the particular style for modeling each figure.

Priced $3 upwards.

Why Not Buy the Best?

Advo Gold Medal Coffee.....40c
Omaha Maid Coffee.....35c

Quality Unchanged.

Why Not?

The Government—and Jewelry This Christmas

THE slight tax placed upon some kinds of Jewelry this year is an act of confidence on the part of the Government that Jewelry will "do its bit" to help the Government raise the much-needed increased income.

Keep the Jewelry business Good and you will help Uncle Sam.

Greater Omaha and Council Bluffs Jewelers

The DIET During and After INFLUENZA

The Old Reliable Round Package

Horlick's Malted Milk

Very Nutritious, Digestible

The REAL Food Drink. Instantly prepared. Made by the ORIGINAL Horlick process and from carefully selected materials. Used successfully over 1/4 century. Endorsed by physicians everywhere.

Specify Horlick's The Original Others Are Imitations

The American Tobacco Co.