High School Girls Learn How to Make Their Own Hats

Central High School Millinery Class—Insert, Emma Edquist; Miss Verda Williams, instructor, and Virginia White.

PRETTY hats made out of last year's finery, scraps and lovely remnants of velvet or silk—this is what the millinery class at the Central High school has learned to do this year.

Two classes, one in the morning and one in the afternoon, comprising in all 35 girls, make up this division of the household arts department, presided over by Miss Verda Williams.

Each girl has made a beautiful hat. They do not look a bit homemade, but form a display of which no millinery shop in town would need to be ashamed.

Some of the girls have made their hats out of new material, but most of them utilized more or less used-

Women of Social World Plan for Athletic Club Opening

Evening gowns are again to come into their own. Feminine minds will be a whirl of chiffons, silver roses, gleaming satins and soft silks the next few weeks, for the dinner dance which will open the beautiful new Omaha Athletic club—December 14 will re-establish formal affairs, which ruled the social world in the halcyon days before the war.

At a meeting of the house committee held in the office of Mr. George Brandeis, Friday, the plans were completed for the opening of the new club. On December 12, the huge doors will swing wide to the Omaha public, and open house will be kept all day that everyone may view the handsome building. The board of directors will act as hosts.

The members of the club and their immediate families will be the only guests at the formal dinner-dance, two days later. Dinner will be served at 6:30 and at 8:30 in the main dining room and grill. An elaborate color scheme for the dinner tables is being planned and dancing will follow in the ball room and billiard room.

With the beautifully gowned women, the soft lights catching the gleam of jewels, the flower-laden tables and the gay groups seated about them, including the army set and prominent society folk, the formal opening of this magnificent new club promises to be one of the most brilliant social affairs given in Omaha.

Is This Your Waterloo?

Why tomato soup tumbles, how to prepare it so as to avoid this:

The first thing to be sure of in making a good soup is to remember that when planning to use milk or cream in the soup first neutralize the tomatoes by adding soda. The soda added to the acid causes effervescence. This change is similar to that which takes place when combining soda with sour milk.

If it is desired to make a thickened cream of tomato soup, heat tomatoes, using either whole or canned. Rub through a sieve, put back on stove, add soda and sweetening, using about one-half teaspoon soda to one quart of tomatoes. When the effervescing or foaming stops the liquid is neutral and will not curdle when the milk or cream is added. Thicken as desired.

Thursday evening. All women who are interested in girls are requested to attend these lectures. A special appeal is made for volunteer leaders for the girls' clubs.

Members of the Girls' division and allied organizations of the young girls are pledging themselves to render suitable tribute to the Stars and Stripes. The salute adopted is that taught in schools and in the army and navy.

"At the approach of the flag raise the right hand smartly till the tip of the forefinger touches the lower part of the head dress above the right eye, thumb and fingers extended and joined, palm to the left forearm inclined at about 45 degrees hand and wrist straight. At the same time look toward the flag. When it has passed drop the arm smartly to the side."

The girls of the Patriotic league, War Camp Community Service of Omaha, will adopt this salute.

So many soldiers are asking for dancing lessons that a class is to be started next week at the Army and Navy club.
