

ANTHES SLATED DEPUTY AUDITOR IS LATE REPORT

Omaha Man Slated to Return to Office He Held Before; Ayers in Law Department.

From a Staff Correspondent. Lincoln, Nov. 19.—(Special)—It is believed that George W. Marsh, the new state auditor, has selected George Anthes of Omaha as his deputy and that C. E. Lawrence of Lincoln will come back to his old job as bond clerk.

Another rumor is that George Ayers will remain in the attorney general's office under the new attorney general, Clarence A. Davis. The name of A. J. Dunlap has been mentioned in connection with some of the assistant positions. Mr. Dunlap, who was a head of the speaker's bureau of the republican state committee, was elected county attorney of Merick county and may not be in a position to accept should a place be offered him.

Governor-Elect McKelvie Makes Trip to Capital to Confer With Houston

From a Staff Correspondent. Lincoln, Nov. 19.—(Special)—Philip F. Bross, secretary of S. R. McKelvie, has issued the following statement:

"Governor-elect McKelvie has been called to Washington by Secretary D. F. Houston of the Department of Agriculture for a conference.

"A few of the editors of agricultural papers have been asked to meet in the secretary's office on Wednesday, November 20, at 10 o'clock to talk over matters of special importance to agriculture during the reconstruction period.

Mr. McKelvie has been in Chicago since election looking after the interests of his publication, and will probably return by his Washington trip by way of New York."

Fremont, Neb., Nov. 19.—(Special)—When Section Foreman Natravnick of the Northwestern discharged Mike Robinson, a laborer, because the latter took a day off to celebrate peak, Arlington home guards took up the matter and when they finished with the section boss he had promised to leave town as soon as he could find another job.

Uehling Boy Killed

Fremont, Neb., Nov. 19.—(Special Telegram)—Corp. Noble Lunsford of Mr. and Mrs. Lars Lund of the Uehling vicinity, was killed in France during the recent fighting, according to a telegram that reached the young man's parents from the War department. Noble Lund was a Dodge county boy and for several years had been teaching school. He was 26 years of age and had been in the service for a year. In his last letter to his parents he told of going over the top and getting a dose of German gas. The American then let loose a gas attack and after routing the Huns took their own guns and turned them on the fleeing Germans.

AMBULANCE DRIVER HOME ON SHORT FURLOUGH.

M. V. HENSON.

Private M. V. Henson, in his handsome Red Cross overseas uniform, is home on a two weeks' furlough before sailing for France to drive a Red Cross ambulance. He and David Noble are the only two of the large contingent recently recruited by Capt. Fred L. Good, to be permitted a leave of absence. He was ill for two weeks with the "flu."

A large detachment of the Omaha boys left Sunday evening for New York prior to sailing. Two hundred boys in all went in this unit. Another 100 leave the coming Sunday evening.

The Red Cross uniform is the same as the soldier's khaki except that it has emblazoned on sleeve collar and the small overseas hat the emblem of the Red Cross.

Young Henson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Henson, 3511 Lafayette avenue.

SAVE YOUR HAIR! A SMALL BOTTLE STOPS DANDRUFF. Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out. Try this! Your hair appears glossy, abundant, wavy and beautiful. Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair. Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right by the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

THE GENUINE BUTTER-NUT BREAD. Made only by SCHULZE BAKING COMPANY. THESE are the days indeed which bring the world to the realization of our new and greater responsibilities. Events have followed each other in such rapid succession that, at the best, there remains only the vague and indefinite conception of all that has happened within our own country. One marvelous thing stands out as perhaps the greatest of all our achievements. The wonderful, rapid, successful and effective change from a calm, peaceful life, to that of one of the greatest fighting machines that the world has ever known. And how quickly and harmoniously it was all brought about. We can, with equal conviction, expect as great a transition of the mighty force of fighting men into a peace-loving citizenship, expressing the marvelous adaptability of our Nation in meeting successfully the demands made upon us. In the multitude of details governing our great army of fighters, there has been nothing of greater importance than that they should be fed properly, and there has not been a single item of their diet that has been so carefully guarded and watched over, as bread. We have had once again revealed to us the fact of bread being the very foundation of our physical existence and good health, but back of bread itself is the thing of greater importance—how is the bread made, and from what is it made. Here again we realize the difference between one bread and another as a health and strength-giving food. There have been, and probably will continue to be all sorts of changes, new ideas and substitutes for the best practices in the making of bread, but in the future, as it has been in the past, the foundation of good bread properly made will continue undisturbed. The Army of regular users of Butter-Nut Bread speaks in no uncertain way of the merit it possesses and the friends it has made. When a better bread can be made, we will make it.

YANKS FIND HUN BATH HOUSE; IS BUILT TO STAY

Germans Evidently Planned to Make French Town Their Permanent Place of Abode.

American Army of Occupation, Nov. 19.—(By Associated Press)—First division headquarters at Landres today was awaiting orders at any moment to move forward. The troops on ahead were spending the day along the line reached late on Monday.

The Americans in Landres are enjoying all the comforts of a modern, fully equipped and newly furnished bath house. It is a building of two stories with concrete walls, care having been taken to make the structure a permanent one. The building is steam-heated throughout.

Near the bath house an immense bakery of brick construction also had been completed recently. Landres was used as German headquarters for the troops opposite the Americans.

The first American to enter Landres was Lieut. Harold Ephlin of Detroit, who reached the town at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The first person to see him was an aged woman who ran to his automobile and tried to climb the running board. When the lieutenant alighted she greeted him effusively.

Gets Breakfast. The news of his arrival spread rapidly and soon afterward the mayor and some 50 civilians waited upon Lieutenant Ephlin. The woman who first greeted him insisted that he be her breakfast guest. When the other Americans arrived they found the lieutenant at table enjoying fresh eggs, toast and coffee with cream. The mayor of the town proclaimed the day a holiday and announced that the schools would not hold their sessions. The Germans left Saturday.

South of Landres the Germans abandoned an undamaged tank of large size. They had apparently started to move it northward, but decided to leave it behind. With it were gas masks, helmets and other war materials.

Vienna, Stirred by Many Rumors, Fears Bolshevism

Vienna, Nov. 19.—(Via Geneva.)—(By Associated Press.)—Will order prevail in the new German-Austrian republic, of which Vienna is at once the wheel and the hub, or will there be an outbreak of bolshevism? This question is on every tongue. The air is full of rumors printed by newspapers or spread about by the thousands of soldiers traveling to and fro.

On the streets one hears reports of revolution in France, that Italy is to be made a republic and that American and allied troops are occupying Austrian cities here and there.

PROMINENT CLUB WOMAN ANSWERS LAST CALL.

Mrs. F.R. Straight

Mrs. Frank R. Straight, prominent Omaha club woman, died early Tuesday morning after a year's illness. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. from the residence, 5104 Cumby street, with interment at Forest Lawn.

Mrs. Straight is survived by her husband and one daughter, Mrs. D. E. McCulley.

Mrs. Straight was formerly regent of Omaha chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and was active in the Dundee and Omaha Woman's clubs and in the First Methodist church.

"PULL NEBRASKA OUT OF THE MUD" OBJECT OF MEET

Omaha Automobile Association Plans Booster Gathering Latter Part of This Month.

The Omaha Automobile association has called a convention to meet here November 26, having for its purpose the union of all the smaller automobile associations of the community into a single organization which shall be known as the Nebraska Automobile and Good Roads association.

Nebraska has not been keeping pace with other states of the middle west in the matter of building good roads and the new organization is being planned with the idea of "pulling Nebraska out of the mud."

The Automobile club realizes that much more can be accomplished by the concentrated effort of one strong organization than by a large number of smaller organizations all working for the same end, perhaps, but without co-operation, and now that the war is over and reorganization is taking place along all lines, it is an opportune time to concentrate efforts. The Omaha Chamber of Commerce will appoint two representatives who shall act in co-operation with the new organization for the furthering of the interests of the Good Roads program.

Santiago, Chile, Nov. 19.—Chilean newspapers are urging the "A. B. C." republics to send aid to the nations devastated by war.

Hubby Refuses to Buy Clothes for Wife Is Charged in Petition

"I asked him for a new dress at Christmas time, because I had only one dress to my name, and he said that I could not have a new dress," was one of the pleadings offered in tears by Jessie L. Schroeder when she appeared before Judge Troup Tuesday afternoon, during the hearing of a divorce case brought against Samuel C. Schroeder.

Mrs. Schroeder added that the cause of the estrangement which marred her marital happiness was her husband's allegation that her lack of education was a barrier against the realization of his social ambitions.

Mrs. Schroeder was 29 years old and her husband when they were married on September 15, 1917. They aroused the deputy county clerk from his slumbers to obtain the marriage license and Rev. C. W. Savidge completed the marriage formalities. Last April they reached the parting of the ways. Schroeder, a dentist, entered military service a few weeks ago. Mrs. Schroeder's family name is Criss.

Judge Troup granted the wife a decree.

No New Street Cars for Omaha for This Christmas

For several years along about Christmas time it has been the custom of the Omaha street railway company to turn out of the local shops 25 new cars. This year the people of the city will have to forego the pleasure of riding in new cars. None has been built during the past year.

The war has held back the work of the Omaha street railway company and aside from the car barn at Twenty-sixth and Cumby streets, no betterments or improvements, other than those absolutely necessary have been made.

GEORGE NAMED AS DELEGATE TO BIG CONVENTION

President of Local Organization to Go to Nation Meeting to Consider Reconstruction Plans.

The executive committee of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce Tuesday named C. C. George delegate to attend the convention which will be held in Atlantic City December 4, 5 and 6.

Chambers of Commerce of the various cities of the country, inclusive of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and every other organization which has been assisting the government in the prosecution of its war program, has been asked to send representatives to this convention. The purpose of the meeting is to get a representative body of the commercial interests of the United States together to talk over plans of reconstruction and rehabilitation of the business interests of the country.

Howard M. Goulding, president of the local Manufacturers' association, has been appointed to represent that body in the convention. E. Buckingham of the Live Stock commission and J. A. Sunderland probably will attend the convention.
