

PEOPLE OF THE U. S. HAVE RIGHT TO FEEL PROUD

Omaha Man with A. E. F. Writes That United States Troops Are Always in Foreground.

Sergeant Samuel Gibson of the United States local quartermaster's department has received from Charles L. Gyger an interesting letter from overseas. Mr. Gyger, whose home is 1125 South Thirty-second street, was connected with the quartermaster's department for many years, and has been holding a responsible position with the A. E. F. It is probable that he may return to Omaha about Christmas time on a furlough.

The letter, dated at St. Florent, France, follows: "Your good letter, in which you inclose a copy of The Omaha Bee with a picture of our mayor preparing to take a flyer, reached me here today, being forwarded from Paris. Was mighty glad to hear from one of the old crowd at the Omaha depot, as it is just like a message from home.

"We are a pretty busy bunch over here, having grown from 168, the first expedition which landed on French soil, June 13, 1917, until now we are more than a couple of millions; some increase.

"While we have plenty of work, we have also had much pleasure out on this trip. This is a very interesting country, and if one cares to take advantage of the opportunity, there is much to be seen and learned.

Sent to Switzerland.

"I was stationed in Paris from the date of our arrival until January 13 of this year, when our headquarters was moved to a station about 150 miles south, where I remained until April 4, when I returned to Paris, to the office of the chief purchasing officer, Q. M. corps, presided over by Col. H. E. Wilkins, M. C., now in charge of the New York depot. July 22 I was ordered to Berne, Switzerland, to organize an office for the purchasing agent there, which I did, with more or less success. In the meantime I also took in many of the interesting sights of Switzerland. After 10 weeks' pleasant and interesting stay in Switzerland, I returned to the Paris office, and on the 12th of this month I was ordered to this little village to organize an office, at a large factory, taken over by the A. E. F. for the manufacture of metal ware, utilized by an army in the field. The United States furnished the raw materials and fuel, which are not available in this country, and the contractor furnishes the machinery and labor. It is some job, going over the old records, poorly kept, by inexperienced but willing help, but we are getting along very nicely, and it is hoped that the plant will be in good running order within the next two weeks, when I shall again return to Paris, to be sent wherever my services may be desired.

"You, of course, are kept informed from day to day by your local papers, as to the wonderful progress of the allies, with the good soldiers from the United States always in the foreground. If the people of the United States ever had an opportunity to feel proud of their army and its accomplishments, now is the time, for they most certainly have rendered a fine account of themselves."

Armour Again Postpones Expected Trip to Omaha
P. D. Armour, head of the great Armour packing interests, and one of the busiest men in America, who with F. E. White, vice-president of the concern, was expected in Omaha Friday for an inspection of the local plant, has again disappointed the officials of the Omaha Armour packing house.

Mr. Armour was expected to arrive from Chicago. He had been promising to make a trip to this city for the past three years but on the numerous occasions he planned for the trip some circumstance arose to prevent his coming.

It is thought that the glut of hogs on the eastern market, together with an embargo and threatened labor troubles among the 75,000 packing house employees of Chicago, who cents per hour, may have had something to do with the interruption of his proposed visit to the plant of this city.

Draft Registrants Must File Their Questionnaires
Local exemption boards have been notified that all registrants from 18 to 36 years old must fill out and file their questionnaires before December 9. All registrants who do not comply with this order will be listed as slackers and will be subject to punishment.

Draft boards urge registrants to heed this warning and report at once with their questionnaires. Returned questionnaires are to be sealed in boxes December 9 and under no consideration, will questionnaires be accepted after that.

There have been so many rumors about draft boards closing and many registrants, feeling that they "have gone out of business," do not realize that they still are held responsible for filing their questionnaires and will be listed as slackers if they do not file them before December 9.

Brandeis Stores Entertain Employees Thanksgiving Eve
On Thanksgiving eve the Brandeis stores will tender their hundreds of employees a dance and entertainment at Metropolitan hall. It is expected that by that time a number of their employees who have enlisted in the military service will be home from the front and a special demonstration will be given in their behalf.

The Brandeis stores have furnished over 100 people for the military service. The positions occupied by these employees have been held open for them during their absence and some sort of celebration will be held for them from time to time as they return to their former work.

Carlyle's Canning Man! Albert of Belgium!

Carlyle, in referring to the origin of kings, shows that the name sprang from Canning, which means "the strong man." In earlier times the great leaders in war were the Canning—the strong—and their followers elevated them and honored them, making them their kings. If ever there was a man who was EVERY INCH A KING Albert showed himself to be that Canning man when the Arrogant, Ruthless, Powerful Hun demanded passage for troops through his country. The rank, the title, is more, therefore, than the "guinea stamp" in Albert's case. He is indeed greater than king—A REAL MAN—one who, despite all the trappings and tinsel, is "A MAN'S A MAN FOR A' THAT." With this little tribute to this World Nobleman, which we know most readers will subscribe to, may we get down to the commonplace, and

Direct Your Attention to the Unusual Selling at Kilpatrick's SATURDAY

GLOVES

First we desire to explain to you why and how we have been able to offer such remarkable values in Gloves recently. We purchased a short time ago a retailer's entire stock of Gloves. As Glove stocks go, this is not a large stock, indeed the merchants from whom we bought it never claim to be or to have the largest anything. They do, however, pride themselves on quality. Not quantity but quality could well be their slogan. For reasons convincing to themselves they decided to sell absolutely and quickly the whole stock.

Lock stock and Barrel. We bought it, and bought it at a price sufficiently low to enable us to give you Rare Glove Values. Saturday will close out all the odds and ends of this purchase, and include odds from our own stock. At least 150 dozens, and all will go at—

$1.29 per pair

Not since that fateful day, August 1, 1914, when the holocaust started in Europe, have we offered such values. Please don't ask us to fit Gloves Saturday. No other gloves will be displayed on our counters.

FUR IS THE THING

Nothing in garments more fetching, more useful, more timely to talk about NOW. We have scarfs of fox, lynx, marten, wolf, animal shapes, with or without heads. Muffs from the skins of numerous animals selected with thought of quality always, as well as style. Hudson seal is popular—

Prices $17.50, $22.50, $27.50

Mole muffs, $35.00 and $45.00. We have scarf and muff sets. Natural cat lynx, $34.50. Natural rat with bayader stripes. Capes of Kolensky, mink, marten and seal. Coats of natural rat, nutria, mole, seals. Jap mink coat a very late garment.

Sale of Corsets

We have constantly rearranged this stock in order to keep it up to the minute. We make liberal price concessions on certain numbers to be closed out on Saturday, and the names are the very aristocrats of the corset world. La Camille, Modart in front lace, Redfern and La Tosca in back lace. Sold before up to $6.00 for $3.95. Sold before up to $8.50 for $5.90. Sold before up to $12.50 for $7.75.

In the very same aisle we display silk undergarments for holidays. Luxurious Nightrobes, Chic Camisoles, exclusive Envelopes. Of special interest you will find a table covered with Camisoles at $1.50 each, and another special is Envelopes of Crepe de Chine, plain hemstitched finish or neat lace edges, $3.95 each.

More people constantly woo the night air. Time was when people thought it was poisonous. For fresh-air sleepers we have Gowns and Pajamas of flannel. Saturday's offerings are much below market prices. Figure 6 yards of flannel at 40 cents—$2.40. Gown's ready to wear on Saturday—

$1.50, $1.75, $2.00, $2.50

Who that could, would neglect to buy a Doll for some child at Christmas? Nothing that we know of gives such unalloyed pleasure to a little girl. Our stock is now fresh and complete. American, of course.

And now a reminder of the good old days—Lang Syne

A Dollar Sale of Silk Stockings

How's that? They're fancies; colors black or white and mostly fashioned. Here's one place where the $1.00 sign looks good. Ask Norris, if you like, what he thinks of this.

Women's Underwear—A special number of Kaysers. No! Not made in Germany. These are what is known as band trimmed. Union Suits, $1.29 for regular sizes. $1.49 for extra sizes. Well known to many of our customers and these will be glad to avail themselves of this chance. Ask to see Wool Knickers, Automatic Warmers, white and grays. Much better and more comfortable than the short petticoat. Ankle Silk Bloomers in all shades are extremely popular just now; warm and not so bulky as to bulge out the modern skirt.

The war is over—True enough, but nevertheless and notwithstanding we are likely to have the same old-time crowd just before Christmas.
