Skilled and Unskilled Men in Urgent Demand During Hog Killing Season: Wages High.

An urgent call has come from the Omaha packing houses to the federal employment buceau in the South Side city hall for help during the hog killing season, particularly in the salting, pickling and pork curing departments.

"As the time approaches when the heavy hog crop will come in, at least 1,000 additional men could be a student at Creighton university. employed in the various departments of the packing houses and other South Side industries," said P. J. Barrett of the employment bureau. "Common labor is now earning $4.80 for 10 hours work with skilled trades in proportion. "If any increase in wages should be given to the men, due to the recent demand for an increase in wages, common labor would easily carn $5.50 for 10 hours work. Skilled labor would run from $7 to $10
