Forty-nine Belgian Priests Tortured and Put to Death by Huns

Malines, Belgium, Nov. 27.—(Hav-as)—Forty-nine Belgian priests were tortured and put to death by the Germans during the occupation, Cardinal Mercier, the primate of Belgium, declared in an interview today. He added that 12,000 men were removed from his diocese to Germany, where they were forced to work. Other crimes committed by the Germans, the cardinal said, were too long and too terrible to relate

The cardinal related that in the early stages of unrestricted German submarine warfare, the marquis of Villalobar, the Spanish minister to Belgium, called on the German governor general in Brussels and asked him to intervene with Berlin to limit the submarine warfare to the belligerents. The Spanish minister gave the governor this advice:

"The Americans are exasperated and are on the verge of joining the allies, wich will mean the defeat of the central empires.

"We have no fear whatever of the Americans, who will never be able to heip the allies," the governor general replied haughtily, the cardinal said. "An army cannot be raised in a few months. Three years at least will be necessary for them, and France and her modest ally, the British, will be crushed long before

It was the assistance rendered by the United States navy, Admiral Jellicoe continued, that made possible the convoy system, and it was assistance that had saved the situation. Another assistance rendered by the Americans was the operations conducted against enemy submarines' operations, which were more to the taste of the American officers than convoying.
