

BIG TURK HOLDS STAGE AT OMAHA POULTRY SHOW

Tips Scales at 40 Pounds and Rivals Famous White House Birds; Hold Dinner Tonight.

An exhibit at the poultry show, which will be of peculiar interest Thanksgiving day, is a turkey gobler which tips the scales at 40 pounds. It is the equal size of any of the famous birds that are shipped from Rhode Island year after year to grace the Thanksgiving banquet at the White House. Members of the Omaha Poultry association, exhibitors and visitors last evening enjoyed a smoker. There was a good attendance at the show and the demonstration of canning chicken by the cold pack process, given by Miss Chamberlain, home demonstrator of Omaha, and Miss Esther Ord of the Home Economics Extension bureau of the University of Nebraska, attracted great attention.

Model City Poultry Plant.

An exhibit of peculiar interest to the city dwellers is a model backyard poultry plant, designed for the rear of the city lot. It consists of an ideal poultry house and an exercise yard. The plant is about 14x14 and is capable of housing and giving yard space to a flock of a dozen fowl.

With this economic arrangement it is possible for most city dwellers to maintain a small flock of chickens without irritation to the neighbors. It is estimated that one fowl will consume a bushel of grain in a year and drink 10 gallons of water. A hen should lay in that period 12 dozen eggs, valued at $5.

Automatic Food Devices.

It is recommended that every city dweller with a suitable back yard keep two laying hens for each member of the family in a plant of this kind and it would go a long way toward helping to solve the high cost of living.

Exhibits which are attracting a great deal of interest to breeders and others are the automatic sanitary feeding and watering devices, cal brooders and exercisers for the sanitary traps, the mechanical young chicks, the various insecticides, germicides and patent foods.

All of these are conservation devices of the most approved kind and of themselves almost solve the problem of successfully raising fowl. A great amount of educational literature is being distributed by the firms making these exhibits and this will have a far-reaching effect in stimulating poultry raising by novices.

Turkey Supper Tonight.

Tonight a turkey supper will be given by the members of the association to exhibitors and invited guests. The awarding of premiums will be made on Friday when the scoring of the birds in competition will have been completed.

Poultry canning demonstrations will also be given on Friday. Daily lectures on poultry breeding and the care of fowl will also be features, these talks being made by federal and state experts.

Railroads to Observe Thanksgiving Day at Suggestion of McAdoo

Thanksgiving day is to be observed by the railroad people as never before. Following a suggestion of Director General McAdoo, all headquarters offices will be closed during the entire day. The same rule will be applied to the freight offices. The consolidated ticket office will remain open until noon. After that hour travelers will buy their tickets at the depots. Regardless of Thanksgiving day, passenger trains will run as usual. Whenever possible, freight trains will be annulled.

Stolen Car is Recovered When Automobiles Collide

C. E. Smith, Irvington, was driving west on Hamilton street Tuesday night when a Ford car collided with him at the intersection of Hamilton and Thirty-first streets. Before Smith could extricate himself from his car the two men driving the Ford fled.

Smith, at once suspicious, notified the police, who discovered that the Ford car belonged to Peter Peterson, who had reported the theft about 15 minutes before. None of the occupants was injured.

Modern Sherlock Holmes Pays $3.50 for Adam's Ale

A federal booze hound, while scouting around the South Side Tuesday night accosted a large "culud gemman" on the dark side of a telephone post and quickly consummated a business transaction, the dark business man receiving $3.50 and the federal sleuth a pint bottle of suspicious liquid. The federal official then displayed a gun and a badge and retrieved his $3.50, bringing his prisoner to headquarters, along with the pint bottle of perfectly innocent hydrant water. The prisoner was released.

ZIMMAN SAYS GAMBLING NOT UNUSUAL HERE

Asserts He Sees No Harm in "Technical Violation" of Rules and Refuses Information.

City Commissioner Zimman refused to inform Police Commissioner Ringer of certain hotels in Omaha where it is said gambling is going on. The little pass between the commissioners took place at the hearing of Harry Norman, colored, before the city council Wednesday morning. Norman conducts a pool hall at 2604 N street. Police officers raided it and captured gambling paraphernalia. They testified that a lookout was always stationed outside to warn of the approach of police. Norman's license was not revoked, the six commissioners present being evenly divided on the final vote.

Commissioner Zimman, in explaining his vote against revoking the license, said:

Cites Instances. "Shaking dice is practiced in many places. At the Commercial club you can shake dice for cigars. In the hotels, cigar stores, and other places we see men shaking dice for cigars or drinks, and if this is allowed why should we stop some colored men from doing it."

"I know men that play pinocchio for 50 cents a game or pitch for 10 cents a card. I know 16 men who get together regularly twice a week in a hotel and play poker for money."

Sees No Harm In It.

"You better give the police department the information where and when this is done," said Ringer. "I will certainly do nothing of the kind," Zimman said. "It may be a technical violation of the rules concerning gambling but I see no harm in what the men do and I certainly shall give no information that might lead to their arrest."

No Dancing Will Be Permitted in School Community Centers

There will be no dancing at the community centers in the Omaha public schools.

The school board, meeting in session of the committee of the whole at noon Wednesday, decided by a vote of 6 to 3 to "request" the Welfare board not to have dances at the community centers. The request amounts to a command.

"I am in favor of dancing, but opposed to dancing in the public school buildings," said President Reed. "I have received numerous protests from patrons of the schools against the dancing feature of the community centers and we believe the excellent work of the community centers can be carried on without dancing. There are many other things that can be done which nobody will object to."

Mayor Smith is heartily in favor of dancing at the community centers and declared he would attend the meetings and dance with the people.

Mr. Sterba, recreation director, had prepared a liberal program of dancing at the community centers. The school board meeting lasted more than an hour and there was vigorous debate on the subject. Three members were absent.

Red Cross to Assist in Welcoming Boys in Khaki on Return Home

The government has announced to the Red Cross that demobilization of the army has begun and about 500 men are being released daily from each camp and urges the Red Cross and all the home people to co-operate in welcoming the soldiers home.

Canteen units are requested to meet the trains and all civic organizations are asked to make the soldiers' homecoming a glorious celebration. It is suggested that each city erect an honor roll containing the names of all its men in the service so that the men will feel that the country is grateful to each soldier.

The government will allow each released soldier 3 1/2 cents a mile traveling expenses to his home.

Public Improvements Are to Receive Consideration

The capital issues committee have voted that hereafter where material and labor are available, issues for improvement of highways, and for building schools, hospitals, water, sewage, drainage and irrigation systems, and for the improvement of fire and police protection, will receive favorable consideration when economic importance is shown to exist. The committee will also give favorable consideration to industrial and public utility issues where the improvements are compatible with readjustment of a peace basis.
