

CHANUKA WILL BE OBSERVED AS VICTORY FEAST

Hebrew Festival This Year Has Particular Significance in Connection With Ending of War.

Chanuka, the Hebrew festival of light, which began Thursday night, will be celebrated for eight days by Jewish soldiers and sailors overseas, at cantonments, naval bases, on shipboard and in Jewish community centers throughout the country, as a celebration not only for the victory of the Maccabees 2,000 years ago, but as a thanksgiving for the triumph of America and her allies. Under the auspices of the Jewish Welfare board, it was announced today, unique celebrations will be held wherever groups of Jewish soldiers and sailors congregate. Religious services, including the lighting of Chanuka candles, song festivals, holiday feasts, entertainments and dances are among the features that will be carried out. Slides and motion pictures, telling the story of Chanuka, will be shown at various cantonments. At Camp Mills, Camp Bowie, Camp Logan, Camp Merritt and Pelham Bay Naval Training station, and other cantonments, Jewish Welfare board huts were dedicated yesterday with a joint Chanuka and Thanksgiving celebration.

Victory of Maccabees.

The festival of Chanuka commemorates the victory of the Maccabees over King Antiochus, the oppressor of the Jews and the protagonist of Syrian kultur 2,100 years ago. Chanuka this year assumes a peculiar significance. Beginning on Thanksgiving eve, it falls at a time when the world is rejoicing in the coming of peace, and America in the victory of the allies. It also marks the first anniversary of the recapture of Jerusalem by General Allenby at the head of the British armies. Consequently, this year it is an occasion for great rejoicing among the Jews in every country who have been ardent supporters of the allied cause.

The Chanuka candles, which will be lighted in Jewish Welfare board huts and community centers, trace their origin to a flask of sacred oil that burned for eight days, which the victorious Maccabees found when they re-entered the temple in Jerusalem after driving out the Syrians.

Rock Cliff Waterfall Memorial for Omaha's Soldier Dead Proposed

City Commissioner Towl has a novel idea for a monument to Omaha soldiers who died in the great war. It is a rocky cliff, to be constructed in Elmwood or some other park, with a waterfall dashing down over it.

Rocky cliffs are unknown around Omaha but Mr. Towl proposes to make some, out of reinforced concrete. He saw such a cliff up in Minneapolis recently with rocks in it that looked as though they weighed 20 tons. They were hollow, built of concrete.

"Such a memorial would be more interesting and more enjoyable than just a dead marble monument in the court house square," said Mr. Towl. "We could put the names of the boys on a tablet on such a memorial just as well as on a marble shaft and everybody could enjoy it as a bit of pretty scenery as well."

Omahans Thank Getten for Turkey Day Present

E. W. Getten, former well-known Omaha cigar merchant, brought glad Thanksgiving news to the stockholders of the Abe Lincoln copper mining company, which is virtually an Omaha institution.

Mr. Getten has been manager of the property which is located at Wickenburg, Ariz., for the last two years.

Under his direction the mine has been developed into a rich property. A shaft 700 feet deep has been sunk and a dike of highly mineralized ore 27 feet in depth exposed in the main tunnel. Ore is now being shipped from the shaft and tunnel which is running 21 per cent in copper, 12 ounces in silver and $10 worth of gold to the ton.

The richness of the strike has caused a great sensation in mining circles at Prescott and Phoenix, Ariz., near which cities the mine is located.

Most of the large stockholders of the property in Omaha are leading business men of the city and prominent members of the South Omaha Live Stock exchange.

Mr. and Mrs. Getten will be the guests, for a few days, of Mrs. Getten's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cheney, after which they will return to their home at Wickenburg.

Civil War Country School Played at First Methodist

A country school in the Civil War days was depicted at the First Methodist church Thursday evening. Several of the prominent women of the church took part, wearing Civil War time costumes. A. G. A. R. quartet gave vocal selections. Fort Omaha men were honored guests and about 300 attended the affair.

Balloon Students at Fort Omaha Released and Return to Homes

Several hundred flying cadets from the Fort Omaha balloon school have been mustered out of the service this week. The men were given honorable discharges by Col. Jacob W. S. Wuest, commandant at the fort, and Capt. John Galt, paymaster of the quartermaster corps, gave them their final pay. The cadets were given their choice of finishing their training and receiving commissions as lieutenants in the army reserve corps, or of returning to civil life. Most of them chose the latter and about 300 of them have been released from service.

Alleges Police Took Booze While He Visited Officer

While Peter Wzwiak, 4519 South Thirty-third street, was paying his devotions to a Polish military officer in the Fontenelle hotel, police entered his home and confiscated sundry receptacles alleged to have contained intoxicants.

That was the information presented by Attorney Jamieson in behalf of Wzwiak, to a jury in Judge Sears' court Friday morning when Wzwiak appeared for trial on a charge of violating the prohibition law.

Mayor to Ask Appropriation to Open Municipal Market

Mayor Smith has made a preliminary estimate of the amount needed by his department in 1919. It is $114,300 as against $175,185 appropriated last year. Most of the reduction is made in the judgment fund. He will ask $7,500 to start a municipal market where farmers will bring their produce and sell it direct to the consumers. This is to be located at Fifteenth and Davenport streets.

Booze and Gas Mixtures Prove Expensive for Two

"Booze and gasoline are a poor mixture," said Police Judge Britt, as he fined Charles W. Smith, 2703 Cumming street, charged with reckless driving and being intoxicated, $20 and costs. Otto J. Staral, 3029 Leavenworth street, who was with Smith when he was arrested, was also charged with being intoxicated, and fined $10 and costs.

Funeral Services Held for Mrs. Smead of Minnare

Funeral services for the late Mrs. A. G. Smead were held from Brewer's undertaking parlors Friday afternoon, with interment at Forest Lawn cemetery. Mrs. Smead was 37 years of age and resided with her husband and three children at Minnare, Neb. She was the eldest daughter of N. B. Mead, 4819 South Twenty-second street, and a sister to Mrs. C. R. Lively.

Man Fined for Having Booze Says Bought It of Soldier

J. M. Noel, 1004 Burlington headquarters, was fined $100 and costs for unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor. Noel was arrested with one-half pint of whiskey in his possession Thursday night. He told the judge he bought it from a soldier in front of the Carlton hotel, paying $2.25 for the half pint.

Harry Ferer Gets Contract for Noiseless Typewriter

Harry Ferer has returned from New York where he secured a contract for the Noiseless Typewriter for the Central Typewriter exchange. J. L. Howerton, who recently became associated with Mr.

Ferer in the exchange, will devote his whole attention to Omaha business while Mr. Ferer will give most of his time to out-of-state business and connections in the east. Mr. Ferer says the new typewriter is a remarkable invention and will prove a revelation and a God-send to Omaha business houses.

Mayor Gives Reason for Not Holding Celebration

Mayor Smith received a telegram from the National Britain day committee in New York asking why Omaha has not signified its intention of holding a celebration on December 7 of the part Great Britain and its colonies have played in the war. The mayor replied that it is the sense of this city that there should be no celebration of any particular nation's part in this war. "There is glory enough for all," he said. It is stated that 1,500 cities and towns in the United States will hold celebrations.

Ford Asked for Information.

Attorneys for John C. Lynch have filed motions in district court, asking that information in the petitions filed by John Ford and Peter Loch, be made more definite and certain. Loch brought suit for $2,300, and Ford claimed an indebtedness of $750.

Washington, Nov. 29. — Brand Whitlock, American minister to Belgium, formally notified the State department today of his reoccupation of the legation at Brussels, relieving the Spanish minister, who cared for Americans during the German occupation.

"Eminent Experts Expatiate"

Advice is cheap—and what a plethora we are getting. Financiers are predicting all sorts of things. One says wages must be lowered, while another just as positively declares, "There must be no lowering of wages." One merchant prince predicts, "Business as usual," while another sounds a note of warning. Before the war, experts told us all sorts of things—and predicted all manner of happenings. Result: A LARGE CROP OF FALSE PROPHETS.

May we, as the nation's chief might say, may we suggest that we attend to our knitting—use good common sense and leave the prophesying to seventh sons of seventh sons. One thing we KNOW; after today only 20 Shopping days

East Window Suggestions

The Practical appeals to a great many this year for Christmas. When the thought comes to you, "What on earth will I buy for Tommie or Flossie?" we mean the wee bairnies—take a look in our East Window. It's filled with suggestions of a pretty as well as a practical kind.

We have oodles of Dresses, Rompers, Bath Robes, Nursery Stands, Shoes, Dolls (American), Doll Dresses, Trinkets, Furs, Knitted Sets, Carriage Robes, Fancy Baskets, etc.

In Furs—Fox, Coney, Nutria, Angora, Raccoon. Priced to suit most pocketbooks..... $3.75 up to $50.00

Wash Dresses and Aprons

Did you ever know a time when help was so hard to get? Housewives have had a hard time, and yet many have gotten joy out of caring for the home and providing for the family. Changed conditions made it necessary for us to provide a large assortment of House Dresses and Aprons. So neat and attractive are these garments that even Milady is rather pleased to wear them. We have about five dozens answering above description, to be sold on Saturday. You will like them, we know. Gowns, at..... $3.95 instead of $5.00

More people are buying these things for gifts, too, than ever before. The Tea Aprons, Bungalow Aprons, etc., are attractive as well as useful. Aprons are offered from..... 25c to $5.00

Muff Beds

Touching on the practical reminds us to mention Muff Beds as one of those things. These are all prepared to be covered at home—easy, therefore, to make your own muff, and have just what you want. Children's sizes from 75c to $1.00. each. Women's, from 65c to $4.50

Cotton filled or down filled. These are selling like hot cakes on a frosty morning. You have nothing to lose by buying now, and it may mean a very substantial saving.

Johnny on the Spot

Did you ever notice the traffic officer at Farnam and 16th Streets? There is a man we commend to Commissioner Ringer—we don't know the officer's name—but if we were asked to name him, we should dub him Mr. Alert. He surely is Johnny on the Spot—right on his tiptoes all the time—and the beauty of it is—he seems to enjoy it. A most efficient policeman, Mr. Commissioner. We have in our Underwear and Hosiery Sections just such alert, competent saleswomen—and they, too, love their work—and know their business. The crowds which fill the aisles these days are eloquent tributes to their efficiency and our complete stock. Here is a Silk Stocking treat for Saturday—and what so nice as a gift for Christmas. Mr. Man this is a helpful hint for you. Fancy stockings—a splendid lot—some blacks and some whites. Worth today anywhere up to $5.00, at $2.50 per pair.

While the assortment is good and the quality excellent, the quantity is not large. Not every size, either, in the fancies. We have given you at least two reasons why you should come in the morning. The rest is up to you.

Mr. Stronge, The Great Millinery Man

wired to our Millinery Manager last week: "Can we have a window for a display and sale of Hats for Saturday, the thirtieth? If so, I will send you the best lot ever, and promise values which will astonish the natives." We replied: "You can, you send the value and we'll smash the records"—or words to that effect. The Hats are here. The window is filled with them. They are wonderful. They are latest of styles—Plushes, Beavers, Velvets. The sweetest, cutest, grandest lot of seasonable, up-to-the-minute hats we believe that we have ever seen for a five-dollar bill. Mr. Stronge said you, yourselves, have sold hats of similar quality at $10, $12, $15, $18.

$5.00—The Price for Saturday. Doors Open at 8:30 A. M. Sale Starts on the dot on Second Floor.
