

FOUR SOLDIERS OF THE AMERICAN ARMY MAKE A CALL IN FRANCE

Photographs copyrighted by International Film Service, Western Newspaper Union and Underwood & Underwood

18291

Four of the Boys Are Invited to Stop for Dinner at a House in France. What Stories the Boys Will Tell of Both Sides Trying to Understand One Another, and What Memories Each Will Retain of the Few Pleasant Moments in the Great Struggle!

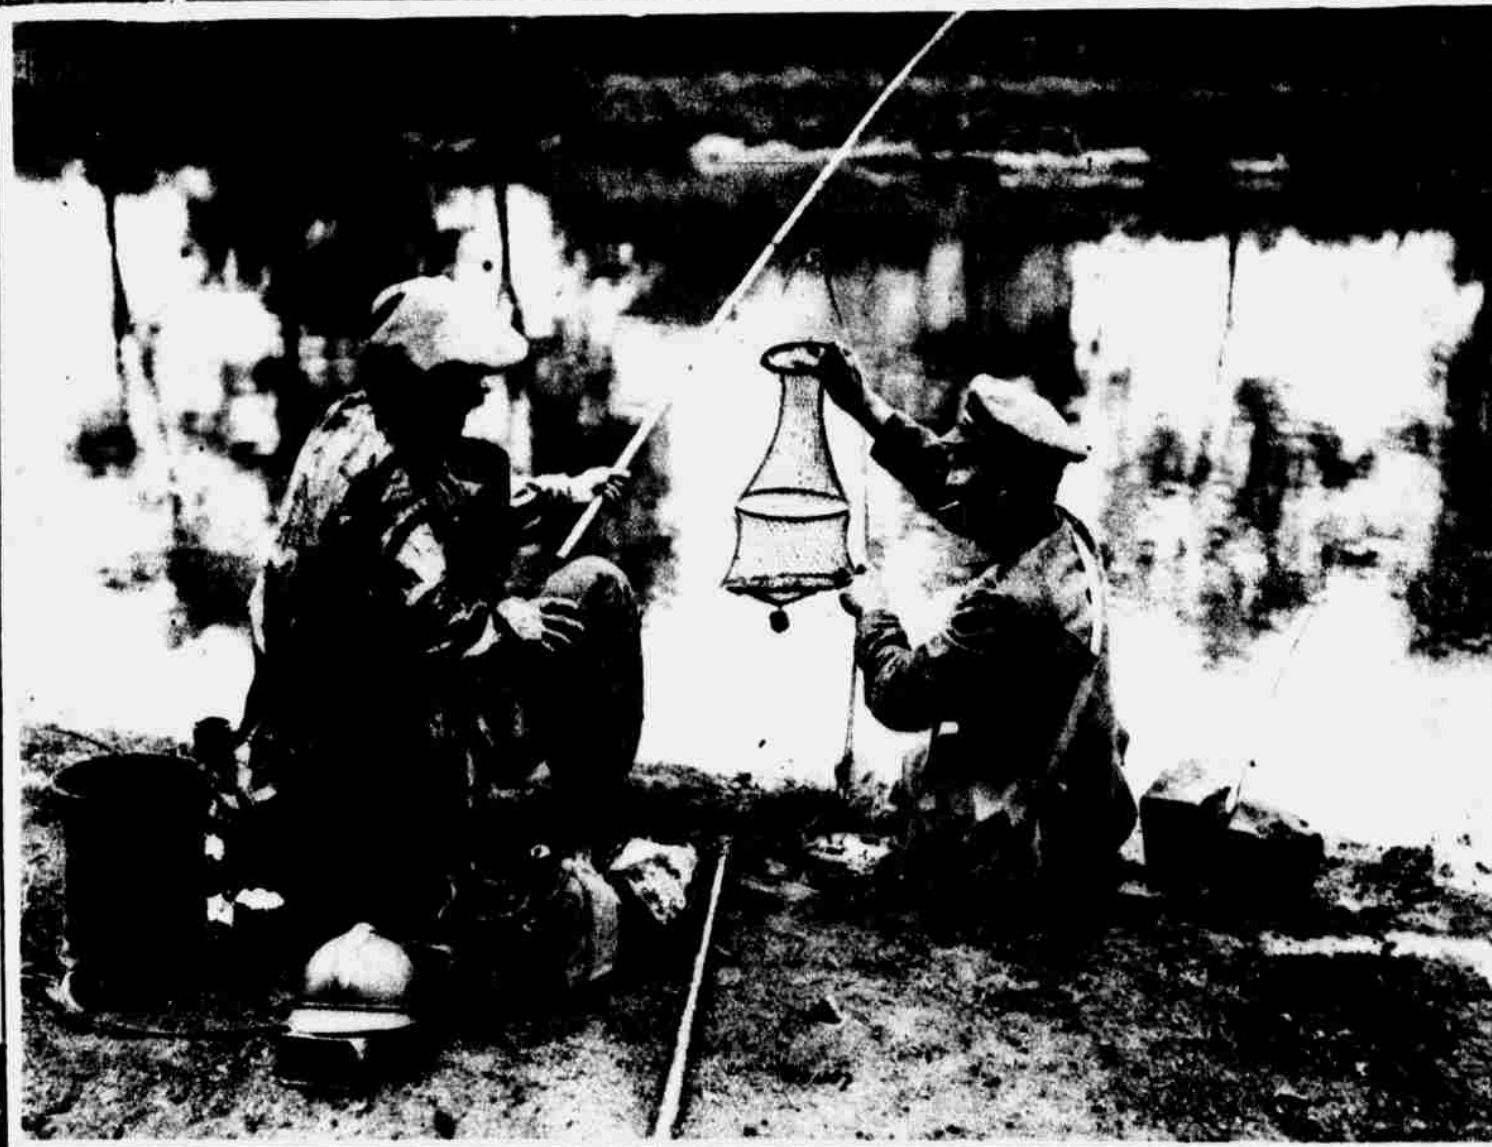

The King of England Witnesses the Knockout Blow During the Boxing and Physical Exercise Training of the Royal Air Force Cadets. King George is the Commander-in-Chief of the R. A. F.

607

Consider This Picture and Stop Complaining About War Flour! This is a Red Cross Bakery Not Far from the Front

Official Photograph Taken on the Western Front in France. Pleased with Their Catch. A French Soldier and a British Tommy Enjoy a Spell of Angling in a Devastated Area Near the Line.

British Soldiers Assist an Italian Girl with Her Work in Gathering Fruit in Italy.

On the Somme Front. Booty-Depot (Beutesammelstelle) Abandoned by the Germans. The Germans Certainly Tried Hard and Exerted Themselves to Make the Roads Fool-Proof for Travel, and Never Hesitated in the Use of Signs and Proper Directions.