On the evening of November 26, Pharis Saunders, a stockman of Ashland, Neb., was knocked downand robbed of $250. Saunders claims Herald was his assailant,

Saunders said he met Herald at Twenty-sixth and O streets in a car with two other men. They invited him to ride to Omaha with them. On the way all four got out of the car to attend to some slight engine trouble. Saunders alleges Herald knocked him down and robbed him of $250, missing $500 in a shirt pocket, Later Saunders nanaged to get to a drug store where he was given first aid. Herald says Saunders lost his money gambling in a certain place which he will locate in the hearing and that Saunders invented the story. Herald said he had witnesses

Chicago Places Embargo on Hogs Until Thursday

An embargo has been placed on hogs from outside points by the Union Stock Yards of Chicago, because of the large supply which is on hand. This means that no shipments will be received from other cities, such as Sioux City, St. Paul or St. Joseph until Thursday. Chi-cago will take care of the hogs from Omaha receved 20,000 hogs Tues-

W. Griffith's production "Hearts of the World," aside from its gigantic scale, is its in timate detail. It often takes more than one seeing to demonstrate the extent of it, but part of its artistry FIGURES SHOW is its unobstrusiveness. The little fellow who amuses himself playing shoe-shiner while his hero reads one of his poems; the little game of hand slapping in the cor-ner; in which the little fellow gets it no matter who misses; the mouse that goes exploring under the nose of the sleeping poilu-all these little touches stamp a Griffith play as fying the great American demand for size. "Hearts of the World" will be shown at the Brandeis twice daily except Thursday evening, De-cember 12.

> The run of "A Little Mother to Be" closes at the Boyd with two performances today. It is a pleasint little comedy drama, with quite well developed heart interest story unning through it.

Charlotte Greenwood, she of the eird limbs and the grotesque smile, who can stand still and make you augh, is coming back at the head of So Long, Letty," the bright musial comedy in which she has made uch a success.
