Basket ball practice will probably begin Friday at the Central High school. The new gymnasium on the fourth floor will be used for practice and for less important games. The finishing touches are expected to be put on the new gym by Friday morning.

Coach Mulligan will form an almost entirely new team. Art Logan and Paul Konecky are the only vets left from the first team, although a handful of men from the second string will turn out for practice. Benolken, Art Paynter, Art Burnham, Harper, Ayers and Swoboda are prominent Central High athletes who will report for floor practice.

The schedule has not yet been arranged, although the dates with South High and Commerce High are being arranged. Creighton High or Commerce will be Central's first

Old Man Hoodoo, who dogged the steps of Central's grid players during the past season, made his final appearance yesterday when the names of the players to receive "O"s and sweaters was announced. Thirteen men were thus honored and are: Captain Art Logan, Lynton Ayers, Arno Harper, Herman Swoboda, Paul Konecky, William Campbell, Joe Pollard, Howard Turner. George Wilmarth, Paul Shanahan, Chris Crowell, Earl Shafer and Jordan Peters. The men will elect the captain of the 1919 eleven this afternoon. The basket ball captain will not be chosen until just before the initial encounter.

Logan, Harper, Crowell, and Shafer are the only men who will have two service stripes on their

The basket ball schedule will include nearly all high schools played last season and will be slightly longer than last year, according to present plans.

Chicago Grain and Provisions. Chicago, Dec. 11.—Corn advanced in value today on the correct assumption that a cut might be made in the gov-ernment estimate of the 1918 yield. The ernment estimate of the 1918 yield. The market closed firm, %c to %c net higher, with January $1.31% to $1.32, and May $1.30% to $1.30%. Oats finished %c off to %c up, and provisions *arying from 12c decline to a rise of 15c.

Although the government crop report did not become public until after trading hours, the fact was well understood before hand that the revised figures from Washington in regard to corn production this season were likely to show a decided shrinkage as compared with preliminary this season were likely to show a decided shrinkage as compared with preliminary estimates. The consequence was something of a bulge all around in prices, especially during the last 15 minutes. Earlier in the day, free buying of January delivery for a leading elevator company was a notable feature, but the bullish effect on the market as a whole was partly counterbalanced owing to persistent selling of May on the part of commission houses with country conections.

Oats held within narrow limits. Trade was light, mainly local.

Expected resumption of hog shipments to Chicago tomorrow largely offset in the provision market the influence of the immense movement of meats and lard to the seaboard.
