

OMAHA TO START ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN SOON

Space to Be Used in Daily Papers of Five States; Will Boost All Industries.

"The bureau of publicity will begin early in January a unique Omaha advertising campaign," announces C. O. Talmage, chairman of the bureau.

"This will be a series of 34 advertisements of Omaha, which will appear in the daily newspapers of Nebraska, western Iowa, southern South Dakota, Wyoming and Colorado.

"We believe that Omaha should be advertised to its citizens and neighbors, as well as to the nation at large," says Mr. Talmage, "and this campaign will augment our efforts in mediums of national circulation. In addition to attracting new industries to Omaha we want to help build up those already located here."

To Continue Year.
The advertisements are all of uniform style will occupy five-inch, single column space, and will appear one a week for a period of four months and every other week for the remainder of the year.

The idea of the campaign is to create good will for Omaha, and it is anticipated that at the end of 12 months the results from the campaign will be so apparent that advertising Omaha in its trade territory will be one of the routine activities of the bureau of publicity.

Later on it is hoped to raise additional funds so that the advertising may be extended to the weekly and monthly publications of the territory.

Ads Written by Thomas.
The bureau has been at work on this campaign for several months. The advertisements were written by Arthur Thomas, manager of the bureau, in collaboration with 17 sub-committees representing different industries in Omaha.

Among the Omaha advertisement writers who assisted in the preparation of copy were: W. S. Cass, George Clarke, Charles E. Duffie, Dr. A. D. Dunn, W. A. Ellis, Penn Fodrea, W. R. Gibson, Dean Glover, J. D. Goodwin, A. L. Green, Dr. Gunther, Byron Hastings, H. W. Johnson, Fred Larlin, L. A. Leppke, Leigh Leslie, Bruce McCulloch, F. P. Manchester, Dean Paul I. Martin, W. A. Martin, H. E. Miller, Clark Powell, J. G. Quick, E. T. Rector, Charles R. Sherman, Carl Smith, S. E. Smythe, Fred W. Thomas, J. R. Travis, Charles Trimble and P. A. Wells.

Attention will be called to Omaha as a center of live stock, grain, wholesaling, manufacturing, retailing, real estate, auto trade, banking, hay, highways, implements, education, hospitals, conventions, fur creameries, commission houses, amusements, butter, eggs, wool, literature, art, schools, Ak-Sar-Ben, etc.

Three-Year-Old Child of John Fidone Is Scalded
John Fidone, three-year-old child of Mrs. Mary Fidone, 1935 South Twenty-first street, was seriously scalded while his mother was away Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Fidone was called to the home of her sister, Mrs. Grace Dagona, 2026 Francis street, when the two-year-old Dakota baby was taken with a fit of cholera. When she returned she found her own little son in a pan of hot water where he had fallen. Police Surgeon Johnston attended the case.

Brother They Thought Was Dead is Found Through Rotogravure Section of The Bee

Picture of man who looks like "Tige" after a battle, is Private R. E. Kryselmire. He is pushing the chair of another wounded soldier.

James and Wick Held by Police for Murder Christmas Morning

"I have directed the county attorney to file charges of murder against Alvin Wick and J. M. James in connection with the death of Frank Glynn," announced Chief Briggs of the city detective department.

"William Bruce has identified both men, and M. E. Anderson has identified James, but is not positive as to Wick, although he said that Wick resembled one of the two hold-up men who stopped, Glynn, Anderson and Bruce early Christmas morning," Briggs added.

James was identified in police court by Bruce when the former was brought in with a group of men charged with intoxication. James told the police that his address is 1721 Davenport street, and that he has been employed as a waiter at the Millard.

Chief Briggs stated that he had sufficient evidence to warrant the filing of charges of murder against Wick and James, and he added that he expects to obtain more evidence.

Saturday morning Ruth Lloyd was interrogated again by Briggs. Miss Lloyd insisted that Wick was not at her home at the time when Glynn, Anderson and Bruce visited her house. Miss Lloyd left the police station with an attorney.

A telegram from Mrs. Frank Glynn of 222 West Eighth street, Topeka, Kan., was received by Chief Briggs Saturday morning. It reads as follows:

"Frank Glynn, believed to be my husband. Wire description. Will come first train after receiving the answer."

Sues for Death of Son Hit by Auto on South Side
Isadore I. Hraywete has filed an action for damages of $10,000 against James E. Brown on account of the death of Rudolph Hraywete, 9 years old. The boy was killed by an automobile at Twenty-fifth and L streets, December 16.

While Missing Soldier Had Some Mixup With Huns, He is Still Very Much Alive.

How the Rotogravure section of The Omaha Sunday Bee has gladdened the hearts of the relatives of Private R. E. Kryselmire of Clarinda, Ia., is told tersely in a letter just received from his brother, W. F. Kryselmire, 211 Bay State Block, Sioux City, Ia., and another from his sister, Mrs. D. G. Blair of Torrington, Wyo.

His brother and sister each explain in their letter that Private Kryselmire was attached to Company L, 357th infantry, American expeditionary forces. They received notice through the War department, October 10, that he was "reported missing in action." No further word concerning him was received and one can imagine the joy of these relatives when they identified their brother's picture in a recent Bee Rotogravure section. The picture shows three wounded soldiers at the American Red Cross hospital No. 1, Neuilly, France.

Identification Complete.
Both Mrs. Blair's letter from Torrington and Mr. Kryselmire's letter from Sioux City were written the same day. Their immediate identification of their brother speaks volumes for the high grade photograph reproduction made possible by the rotogravure process, more so from the fact that the identification was made from a "group" picture.

The story of the anxious relatives of Private Kryselmire is best told by the following reproduction of their letters:

"Torrington, Wyo., Dec. 18, 1918
"Omaha Bee:

"In your Sunday paper, in the Rotogravure section, No. 2878 is a picture that is the image of my brother Robert E. Kryselmire, private in Company C, 357th Infantry, A. E. F., 90th division, whose home is Clarinda, Ia. He has been missing in action since October 10.

"Can you give me any information concerning him, or the best way to go about finding him? He is the one standing, with his head and arm in bandages. I am most crazy to find some way of finding my poor brother.

"Mrs. D. G. Blair,"
W. F. Kryselmire, of Sioux City, wrote:

"Sioux City, Ia., Dec. 18, 1918.
"Omaha Bee:
"Gentlemen:
"I saw in your paper Sunday a picture of my brother, Pvt. R. E. Kryselmire, of Clarinda, Ia. He has been missing in action since October 10. The picture shows two in a wheel chair and a nurse is pushing one and my brother the other. He has his head and arm bandaged, and it says, 'out for a promenade. American hospital at Neuilly.' Can you give me any information about him?

"I am yours very truly,
"W. F. Kryselmire."

L. E. Peyton, Omaha Druggist, Dies of Bright's Disease
L. E. Peyton, 55 years old, died Saturday morning in St. Luke's hospital of uric poisoning following an attack of Bright's disease. He was a resident of Omaha for the last 30 years and was in the drug business here until recently, when he retired.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Masonic temple. The services will be conducted by St. John's Masonic lodge.

The body will be cremated at Forest Lawn cemetery.
He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Mary M. Rice, who lives in the Lincoln apartments in Omaha, and by six brothers who live in various parts of the country.

Prominent Men to Attend Meeting Here in February
J. Ogden Armour, president of Armour & Co., Harry A. Wheeler, president of the Union Trust company of Chicago, and Arthur Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial bank of Chicago, will attend the Transmississippi congress to be held in Omaha February 18, 19 and 20, according to word given out at the Chamber of Commerce Saturday noon.

It was also announced that Governor-elect S. R. McKelvie will attend the congress, and will also cooperate in securing the attendance of the governors of the other states in this section.

MAY BE CHANCE TO GET PERSONAL LOANS REPAYED

"Dr. Perry," Who Borrowed from Omaha Men, Said to Be Living in New York.

Here is a chance for Columbia university alumni in Omaha who have been unfortunate enough to meet the affable "Dr. Perry," and get their money back—maybe.

According to this month's issue of the Columbia Alumni News, they have located "Dr. Perry," an aged aristocratic appearing alumnus of that university who has traveled all over the United States, making it a practice to locate former students of that school and secure small loans of $5 to $10 on the strength of some acquaintance or the acquaintance of a friend, or that "he was a dear friend of some graduate recently deceased."

"Makes" Omaha.
"Dr. Perry" was in Omaha a little over a year ago, and is said to have negotiated some of his favorite loans while here. At that time he said he was stopping with relatives in Benson.

Henry L. Norris, superintendent of buildings of Columbia university says:

"Dr. Perry's address is (or was) 129 West Nineteenth Street, and it might be advisable to request all of his victims, through the Alumni News, to communicate with him as to their loans. It seems that Perry is a habitual borrower, but has been cagey enough to keep within the letter of the law throughout his entire operation. He has apparently confined himself to small loans and has in every case given his own name. I do not think, however, that he will continue his line of graft for some time to come."

"It is very evident that Dr. Perry has had a well thought-out method of approaching graduates of the university, and that he has worked it to a fare-you-well without seeming to realize that he has been shadowed and that the alumni in general have been warned against his activities. It is requested that any alumni who have loaned him money notify the Alumni office, as he promised and swore that he would return any money that he borrowed from any of the graduates if a list was furnished him. If, in the future, any alumni are approached by "Dr. Perry" on his former mission the Alumni office wishes to be notified immediately that he has resumed his profitable campaign."

McAdoo Urges People to Hold Liberty Bonds; Market Will Go to Par
The Omaha branch of the Federal Reserve bank has received an appeal from Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, urging all owners of Liberty bonds to "hold on to them."

This is a part of the publicity campaign aimed toward discouraging "sharks" and "blue sky" stock salesmen from getting these most valuable securities from holders in exchange for things of doubtful value.

It is known that this form of profiteering is going on to a wide extent in this country, especially since the war ended. Liberty bonds are being bought up at prices ranging from $95 down to $50 for a $100 bond, it is said.

"Only ignorant people will sell at such prices," said a banker, "and only un patriotic people will sell at any price just now unless they absolutely have to have the money. Liberty bonds will go above par some day and those who part with them now will be sorry."

Charges Non-Support and Cruelty; Asks Divorce
Mae Bass has filed a petition for divorce in district court against Carl H., whom she charges with having nagged and cursed her. Non-support is alleged. Mrs. Bass asks for a decree and restoration of her former name, Mae Gibbs.

A decree of divorce has been granted to Joseph Westrip who charged that his wife, Nettie, abandoned him July 10, 1916.

HUNS FULFILL ARMISTICE IN THEIR RETREAT

Lieut. Fred Heyn Tells of Immense Amounts of War Materials Abandoned by German Army.

Germans automatically fulfilled terms of the armistice dealing with giving up ammunition and guns in their retreat through France and Belgium, according to a letter written by Lieut. Fred Heyn, brother of Lester and Jerome Heyn.

"The amount of abandoned German material is simply stupendous and I have seen only a little of it. Heavy howitzers, 77-millimeter field pieces, long-range, high-angle guns, anti-aircraft guns, caissons, limbers and tractors which accompany such ordnance, line every road and are parked in fields all over the country. Millions of rounds of ammunition of all sorts, in amounts impossible to imagine were left in the district of Montmedy," he wrote.

Little Damage at Stenay.
Young Heyn wrote there was little in the country from Dun to Stenay, through which he passed late in November, to indicate the territory had been fought over two weeks before except for the roads and fields showing evidence of artillery fire, an occasional ruined building, dead horses and wrecked artillery material.

"After coming from those terrible churned-up fields about Verdun and in the Argonne, the amount of damage here seemed trivial. Of course, the only reason the upper Meuse country is not totally destroyed is simply that the Germans were in too much of a hurry to save themselves to bother with destroying what they passed."

French People Grieved.
Lieutenant Heyn wrote at great length of the indignities the civilian population in the captured towns told of having endured in the four years of German occupation. No payment was made to the French for billeting German officers who ruined homes, despoiled them of personal belongings of the owners and shipped everything valuable home to Germany.

"When they took us down south to Amiens for that big push, in my platoon of 45 men only nine came out. We were reinforced and taken out to Arras, where we went into action again and smashed the Hindenburg line. After that scrap we got more men and went into the Cambrai fight, Demain and Valenciennes.

"There was lots of excitement in taking these big towns, for Fritz was in the houses and such places under cover, so it made it pretty hard for us. Anyway we fixed him! It was hard to keep the people indoors whilst the fighting was going on. In Demain we entered the town at one end and Fritz was leaving it at the other. The Canadians have the honor of taking Mons just a few hours before the armistice was signed.

"Brussels was all one mass of flags and bunting, with the nice big streets and buildings looking excellent. Why, a fellow would hardly believe there had been a war on there, everything has picked up so. Of course the burg was just crowded and reminded me of London."

Hun Cruel to End.
German cruelty did not cease with the signing of the armistice. Prisoners they held were released without food, according to the Omaha lad's letter.

"There were thousands of prisoners, including British, and we had quite a talk with some of them. Fritz brought them to the frontier and released them without food. Anyway, it wasn't long before they were fixed up, and now there are boats carrying them to 'Blighy' every day."

Omahan Averages Death of His Brother in France

Former Bee Employee Pumps Machine Gun Into Ranks of the Germans During Several Battles.

FRED ROGERSON.

Bert C. Rogerson, former Omaha Bee employee, with the 4th Canadian battalion, is to be decorated by the French government for bravery under fire in the Cambrai battle, at Demain and Valenciennes.

He was twice wounded, a bullet in the leg and a shrapnel in the thigh, passed six weeks in a hospital and returned to his brigade three days before fighting ceased.

"The people can't do too much for our brigade. We were reviewed by the Prince of Wales and other big men, and also by the French government. They are going to decorate us with something. This will come later," wrote young Rogerson to his uncle, Fred Rogerson, on the circulation staff of The Bee.

Brother Killed in Action.
The Omaha lad, who is English born, lost a brother, Eric, killed in action. Another brother, Allen, was taken prisoner, but was released and the two boys met for Christmas in their parents' home in Manchester for the first time in five years. Bert was the only one who came to this country.

"I guess I accounted for quite a number of Huns for I was a machine gunner for three or four months and used the gun in these last big scraps. Maybe you've read about the Lewis gun. It fires hundreds of bullets every minute. I've averaged Fritz's death dozens and dozens of times," he wrote.

"Our excitement over the armistice was of a different kind for we were busy freeing the people and fixing some of their homes up, also getting ready for the big march to the Rhine. We've had no rest at all since the end of July. The Canadians have been on the go all the time.

"When they took us down south to Amiens for that big push, in my platoon of 45 men only nine came out. We were reinforced and taken out to Arras, where we went into action again and smashed the Hindenburg line. After that scrap we got more men and went into the Cambrai fight, Demain and Valenciennes.

"There was lots of excitement in taking these big towns, for Fritz was in the houses and such places under cover, so it made it pretty hard for us. Anyway we fixed him! It was hard to keep the people indoors whilst the fighting was going on. In Demain we entered the town at one end and Fritz was leaving it at the other. The Canadians have the honor of taking Mons just a few hours before the armistice was signed.

"Brussels was all one mass of flags and bunting, with the nice big streets and buildings looking excellent. Why, a fellow would hardly believe there had been a war on there, everything has picked up so. Of course the burg was just crowded and reminded me of London."

Hun Cruel to End.
German cruelty did not cease with the signing of the armistice. Prisoners they held were released without food, according to the Omaha lad's letter.

"There were thousands of prisoners, including British, and we had quite a talk with some of them. Fritz brought them to the frontier and released them without food. Anyway, it wasn't long before they were fixed up, and now there are boats carrying them to 'Blighy' every day."

15,000 Pupils Attend Sunday School in Modern Classroom of 200 Churches Under Especially Trained Teachers

First Class Started in 1855 by B. H. Chapman Met in City Council Chamber; Sumptuous Quarters Now Used With Every Convenience to Aid Younger Minds Absorb Knowledge.

While Omaha ranks high in bank clearings and commercial enterprises, it is careful that in the world march of progress its religious side of life is not neglected. It has a system of churches and Sunday schools which is excelled by few of even the much larger cities.

Omaha has more than 200 Sunday schools with a combined enrollment of nearly 15,000. The classes are taught by trained instructors and graded. The lessons and methods of teaching are adapted to the intelligence of the pupil. Many of the Omaha schools use the International system, which provides the lesson for each week graded to suit all classes. This unifies the work of the school during a single day and makes it easier for the superintendent to provide for substitute teachers.

Largest in West.
Omaha boasts of the largest and best instructed religious schools in this part of the country. The new First Presbyterian Sunday school has the most modern quarters in the city, while the Kountze Memorial school is by far the largest, having an enrollment of 850. The first Baptist church is proud to have the oldest class in the city taught for the last 26 years by John R. Webster.

Omaha's first Sunday school class was formed in the winter of 1855-1856 by B. H. Chapman. It had but a score of members and represented nearly all of the protestant denominations. The class met in the city council chamber. In 1856 the "old form" Presbyterian church organized a Sunday school class of 15 members. It is under the supervision of J. H. Kellom the Second Presbyterian church had a Bible class of 30 which met in the court house. The First Congregationalists founded their first Sabbath school in 1857.

Holds School Record.
Mrs. Mary I. Creigh, a member of the First Presbyterian church, holds the record for Sunday school work in Omaha. She has taught continuously in the First Presbyterian school ever since 1875.

Dr. Herbert A. Senter is another Omahan who has spent many years in Sunday school work. Although born in Omaha, Dr. Senter spent his boyhood in the country. At the age of 11 years he first entered Sabbath school work and has been engaged in it ever since. He was superintendent of the First Baptist church's school from 1902 to 1905.

About the most historic class in Omaha is the Webster Bible class of the First Baptist church. It was formed by its present teacher in the early '90s and still has as active members a few of its original members or those who joined a few years after its organization. At present it is the largest in Omaha, having over 100 members. It occupies sumptuous quarters in the church and is engaged in many different kinds of philanthropic work. One room in the Old People's Home is furnished by the class and many local charities are benefited by generous subscriptions.

Assist Members.
A loan fund for members of the class is maintained, although it has not been used for several years. For each dollar contributed to the fund Mr. Webster would donate an additional dollar. This plan was also used to swell the collections of the primary classes at Yuletide. Each year Rev. Conley, former pastor, is remembered by a generous gift from the class. This year a French or Belgian orphan will be adopted. This will be the third orphan adopted.

The Webster Bible class was never without its good times. Social affairs were often given at the Happy Hollow club, where the members would banquet after dividing into teams and playing on the course during the afternoon. Mrs. M. F. Morrill was the original secretary of the class. Miss Edith Spencer, now an actress, entertained the class with her recitations.

Teach on July Fourth.
Teaching Sunday school on the Fourth of July is an experience which Mr. Webster recalls with pleasure. Although departing somewhat from the practices of the church, he presented each member of his class at the annual Fourth of July school on the Fourth with a box of firecrackers. An international patriotic program supplanted the lesson for the day. Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Burket, Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Cloyd, Amos Field, H. H. Baldrige, J. H. Dumont, George Wilcox and William and Henry D. Rhoades are some of the original members. The following have been members for a number of years:

Mrs. E. C. Burt, Mrs. J. C. Howard, Mrs. E. Benedict, Mrs. H. Jones, Mrs. J. W. Clark, Mrs. O. F. Kemper, Mrs. G. W. Clark, Mrs. M. F. Morrill, Miss Minnie E. Dye, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Norris, Mrs. D. D. Gregory, Mrs. W. E. Phelps, Mrs. E. H. Hall, Mrs. W. E. Shuman, Mrs. E. G. Hampton, Mrs. W. B. Smith, Mrs. A. H. Haskell, Mrs. W. B. Taylor, Mrs. M. W. Momeny, Mrs. W. B. Taylor, Mrs. J. R. Webster, Mrs. G. A. Wilcox, Mrs. C. W. Hoobler, Mrs. G. A. Wilcox.

J. A. Sunderland is president of the class and George Wilcox, vice president.

15,000 Students Attend.
Omaha now has over 200 Sunday schools with an estimated enrollment of 15,000 students. The classes have an average attendance of 15 and are taught by well-trained young women and men. In many of the Sunday schools the boys are formed Boy Scout troops. The schools are members of the Douglas County Sunday School association, a branch of the state organization.

The Kountze Memorial Lutheran school is the largest in the city with an enrollment of 850 and an average attendance of 680. Its large enrollment is due largely to its ability to hold the students at the time other schools are losing theirs. This period is when the child is between the ages of 13 and 15 years.

Separate Classes.
This school is divided into the primary, intermediate and senior departments, which includes children between the ages of 3 and 7 years. It is said to be the best in Omaha. The work of the teacher consists in telling Bible stories to the children. After reaching the age of 7 the child is placed in the "sand table" class. Here the lessons are graphically illustrated on the sand tables, which appeal to the children who are at the

TAFT INVITED TO SPEAK WHILE ON VISIT HERE

May Address Meeting in Auditorium on Armenian-Syrian Relief Work in Near East.

William Howard Taft, coming here for the street car strike hearing January 2, has been invited to speak to the Omaha public in the auditorium on the campaign for relief for starving millions of people in the near east. The campaign, for which the Nebraska organization has been completed, will be during the week of January 13 to 19. Nebraska's quota is $320,000, of the $30,000,000 to be raised in the United States.

Ex-President Taft has written several articles on the Armenian-Syrian relief work, and is known to be heartily in sympathy with the coming campaign. C. M. Wilhelm, secretary of the Nebraska committee, wired him the invitation Friday night, and is hourly expecting a reply granting the request.

The state headquarters for the campaign, located here, is co-operating with Charles L. Hopper, secretary of the Travelers' Protective association, to get every traveling man in Nebraska to adopt one of the starving orphans in the near east. Letters are being sent out by Mr. Hopper to the travelers.

In New York state the traveling men adopted hundreds of the little ones and will feed, clothe and educate them by giving the small sum required.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crow Severely Wounded
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crow, 5208 Davenport street, have received word that their son, Joseph Crow, was severely wounded in France about November 11. No particulars were given in the telegram, and this is the first word of their son they have had since July. He is a member of the marine corps and the eldest of three sons in the service.

Fills Stomach With New Energy
Weak, Worn Out, Gassy, Sour Stomach Revived and Made to Enjoy Food With Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Most of us eat three times a day and often forget that each meal should be disposed of in the stomach to make room for the next. The failure of the stomach to do this is called indigestion or dyspepsia, with its sour risings, gas, rumblings, pain, depression and the feeling of stiffness when breathing is difficult. The most effective remedy and the most reliable one, because you can get it at any drug store in the United States or Canada, is Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, at 50c a box. Instead of depriving yourself of food or going on a starvation diet simply keep on as you have and let these tablets straighten out your stomach, digest the food and keep you in the fight—Adv.

To Our Friends and Patrons We Extend the Season's Greetings
We thank you for your patronage in the past and hope for your continued confidence and good will, and hope the will bring you unbounded success and happiness.

NEW YEAR

SPECIAL NEW YEAR REDUCTION SALE ON OUTFITS

The closing of the year finds us heavily stocked and we must reduce our outfits of

BED ROOM
DINING ROOM
KITCHEN and
LIVING ROOM

Nowhere can you make such a saving—in many instances as much as 40%

State Furniture Company

S. W. Cor. 14th and Dodge Sts. Opposite U. P. Bldg.

Although the teaching of God's work is essentially a serious matter, yet occasionally humorous incidents arise. At the First Baptist Church Rev. DeLarme was explaining purification by holding up a bottle of clear water, blackening it and then purifying it. When he first held a bottle of clear water in his hand and asked the name of its contents, one member of the primary class cried out "Castor oil."

At the Temple Israel Sunday school a child in a lower class was asked the name of the first Jew. "Abraham Lincoln" was the answer. It reciting the story of Cain and Abel another child quoted Cain as saying, "Am I my brother's book-keeper?" The Temple Israel school has a library for the pupils and employs Jewish public school teachers as instructors.

Thus, while Omaha boasts of its pride to its numerous and modern religious schools,

HEAVY HOISTING

E. J. DAVIS

1212 FARNAM ST. Tel. D. 353

ROSENBLATT
CUTS THE COAL PRICE
EVERY KNOWN KIND OF
DOUGLAS-530 COAL

Comfort Plates

We can't tell you too often about Comfort Plates. Dr. Brownfield has certainly hit the proper idea in artificial teeth. Of course we will examine your mouth and gums and give you what is most adaptable in your individual case, but kindly remember "Comfort Plates" are recommended in most cases.

Vapor Mist, another of our own "makes," is truly a local anesthetic, which we guarantee to produce perfect results—no pain, no soreness, absolutely no bad effects. F. P. (Kay) Clark will X-ray any case where work is to be put in the mouth.

Lieut. J. C. Devine has returned from Camp Bowie, and is taking charge of his branch, which we contend is a great addition to the perfection of our system.

J. P. (Kay) Clark, who has taken charge of our X-ray department, has taken a thorough course in the application of the X-ray to dentistry and we are now able, with his expert services, to take the best of care of work which requires an X-ray examination.

We are now entirely settled in our new sanitary office, and invite all our friends and patients to call and inspect our new home. Painless work, moderate fees and courteous treatment are our principles of business.

"That is certainly the best money I ever spent," says Mrs. Halstead.

Mrs. G. R. Anderson, 2112 Chicago St., had teeth extracted by the use of "Vapor Mist," our guaranteed painless method. She said "There was no pain."

We make a specialty of the treatment of all cases of pyorrhea.

Office Hours, 8 to 6, Sunday, 10 to 12.
DR. J. C. CLARK
THE PAINLESS DENTIST.
LADY ATTENDANT.
Red 1201. 510 Paxton Block.

