

I. C. C. OPPOSES ROAD CONTROL BY GOVERNMENT

Statement Declares Railroads Should Be Returned to Private Ownership, With Federal Regulation.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Opposition to government ownership or operation of railroads at this time was expressed today by the interstate commerce commission in a statement presented to the senate interstate commerce committee, at its hearing on railway legislation by Commissioner Edgar E. Clark.

"Considering and weighing as best as we can all of the arguments for and against the different plans," said the statement, "we are led to the conviction that with the adoption of appropriate provisions and safeguards for regulations under private ownership, it would not be wise or best at this time to assume government ownership or operation of the railways of the country."

Need Readjustment.
The commission declared, however, that "a reasonable period of readjustment or preparation" should be allowed before relinquishment of federal control. "It seems obvious," said the statement, "that no plan of private ownership should be considered unless it is under a broadened, extended and amplified government regulation."

Commissioner Woolley dissented from the recommendation against continuation of government control, and advocated adoption of Director General McAdoo's suggestion for extension of federal management.

Omaha Soldier Fights in Most Battles After U. S. Entered War

Probably no Omaha soldier has seen more active service than Private J. L. Mansell, who landed in France in June, 1917, and participated in many months of fighting. In France he was trained under the famous "Blue Devils." He first entered the trenches near Toul and later was sent to the Somme to help stop the German rush for Paris. In April his regiment relieved the French at Montdidier where they spent three months. It was there that they made the first attack and captured the first town taken by the Germans and, he writes, "on May 28 we fought that dirty little battle of Cantigny."

Later his company fought in the second battle of the Marne where Mansell was wounded. He was in a base hospital for six weeks but writes, "I went back to my company in September and went over the top in the all American attack at St. Mihiel, then we were rushed to Verdun where we relieved the 35th American division in the Argonne forest and yours truly landed in the hospital suffering from shell shock and a dose of gas."

Mansell says that he has almost recovered now and expects to be home soon.

His mother is Mrs. Estella Mansell, 2324 South Thirty-second street.

World Loses Foremost Citizen in Roosevelt Death Says Nordeck

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 7.—(Special)—A telegram of sympathy was sent to Mrs. Roosevelt yesterday by Governor Nordeck when he learned of the death of her husband. Mr. Roosevelt's death was felt most keenly in this state, on account of the fact that the ex-president was a resident of South Dakota, where he at one time operated a large cattle ranch.

After sending the telegram Governor Nordeck gave out the following statement: "In the death of Roosevelt America loses not only its most foremost citizen but the world loses a great moral force. He, more than any other man in this generation possessed the rare combination of keen perception, accuracy of judgment and the courage to act. Where other men tread cautiously he struck out boldly. He was the typical American and the example of his life will be an inspiration for the coming generations."
