

LIFE IN FAMILY IN SUPPORT OF THE COMMUNITY

Father O'Brien Says Children Are Want to Show Too Little Respect for Their Parents.

Father J. O'Brien of St. Louis, noted Catholic clergyman, spoke on "Omaha and Catholicity" at St. Cecilia's cathedral Sunday.

"A church can only succeed insofar as the family life of the members composing it is harmonious," he said.

The growth of Catholicism, Father O'Brien declared, is dependent upon the kind of family life led by the Catholics of Omaha.

"WORTH A HUNDRED DOLLARS A BOTTLE," SAYS MRS. NICHOLS

Husband Praises Tanlac for Her Wonderful Improvement; Other Medicines Had Failed.

"My wife has taken three bottles of Tanlac, and says it has been worth a hundred dollars a bottle to her," said J. G. Nichols, a well known railroad man now employed on the Missouri Pacific railroad, and living at 4711 Summit street, Kansas City, Mo.

"For three years," he continued, "my wife had suffered a great deal on account of the condition of her stomach. Her appetite was poor and the little she forced down disagreed with her and caused gas to form on her stomach, and she would be miserable for hours afterwards.

"She was very nervous and hardly ever got a good night's sleep and would feel so tired and worn out in the morning she could hardly get out of bed. I couldn't find any medicine that would help her at all, so she just continued to lose in weight and strength until she was hardly able to keep on her feet.

"I fully agree with her when she says Tanlac has been worth a hundred dollars a bottle to her. I don't think I ever saw anybody improve like she did after she got started taking it. Her appetite came back in a very short time and she can now eat anything she pleases, and as much as she wants and it never gives her any trouble at all. Her stomach seems to be in a healthy condition, and she sleeps sound and that nervousness has left her entirely. She goes about her housework now with her old time strength and energy, and says she is in better health generally than she has been in a long time. We are very glad to have this opportunity to recommend Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Omaha by all Sherman & McConnell Drug Company's stores, Harvard Pharmacy and West End Pharmacy under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative. Also Forest and Meany Drug Company in South Omaha and the leading druggist in each city and town throughout the state of Nebraska.—Adv.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Children, in these times, run the home. The whims of the child are given precedence over the superior wisdom of the parent.

"A child is not a fit citizen of the state until he has been taught to respect the authority which God has vested in his parents," said the clergyman.

Thomas Heald to Speak at Public Luncheon in Chamber of Commerce

Held as a spy by the Russian Bolsheviks, hiding from Tartars bent on massacring all Britishers, and seeing the terrible persecution heaped on the Armenians by the Turks are but a few of the experiences of Thomas D. Heald, English business man, who addresses the public luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce today.

Mr. Heald, who escaped from Armenia through Russia, reaching this country last July, tells an authentic story of the situation in the Near East. From his intimate knowledge of the Armenian people, he expresses great faith in the power for development this race would demonstrate, once freed from the cruel domination of the Turk.

This afternoon he speaks at the Y. W. C. A. to the Woman's club and to the public school teachers. Tuesday evening he speaks at a mass meeting at the First Presbyterian church, when E. A. Benson, the Rev. Frank Smith, W. F. Baxter, and other prominent citizens will be on the platform.

Steamer Castalia Helpless; Rescue Ships Standing By Halifax, N. S., Jan. 12.—Rescue ships arrived today in the vicinity of the American Steamer Castalia, which was drifting helpless off Sable island. The Norwegian steamer Bergensford reported by wireless that it was standing by but that the heavy weather had made it impossible up to late this afternoon to launch a boat to take off the crew of the Castalia.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole. Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister from over-throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia), 50c and 60c jars, hospital size $2.50.

AT THE THEATERS

HERMAN TIMBERG, Al Herman, and the Ford sisters—all are on the Orpheum bill this week, and it may be added that they are not all of the bill.

Timberg is remembered as the leading man in "School Days," and has appeared on other occasions at the Orpheum. His present offering is styled "The Viol-Ins," which is referred to a young musical comedy by Timberg, with Billy Abbott and the dancing violin girls. The young women in this act are winsome and sprightly and their efforts were appreciated by Sunday audiences. Timberg's terpsichorean antics and his funny line of chatter are just what vaudeville audiences enjoy. The musical numbers are pleasing.

Al Herman makes good as "the assassin of grief and remorse." He drives away the rivet chills, grouch, down-in-the-mouth feeling, and a lot of other ailments. He closes with a clever line of witticisms at the expense of the performers who have preceded him on the bill. He is one of the best laughs of the season. The appearance of Mabel and Dora Ford, in "The Ford Revue of 1918," brings back memories of "The Four Fords," who were popular dancers over the Orpheum circuit in other years. These sisters appear in a series of dance numbers, closing with some quick kstaps which made the Fords famous as dancers. Their "West Point March Militaire" wins applause. It is seldom that a female impersonator receives such applause as was accorded Jean Barrios yesterday afternoon. Even after the music had started for the next act the applause was insistent. His closing number is unusually clever. "Elly" is the name of a young woman who has hit on something original in the presentation of a juggling act. Sidney Townes, accompanied by Otis Spencer at the piano, entertains with songs and stories. Los Rodriguez are two brothers who have a perch act. The official weekly allied war review of motion pictures shows President Wilson embarking from New York and his arrival in France. The Orpheum travel weekly view shows scenes in Algiers and the largest ice-breaker in Russia.

"The Broken Rosary," now being played at the Boyd, is composed of familiar elements—a pretty girl, whose hand is sought by an elderly man, who has the advantage of being divorced from a wife who is yet living. The girl really is in love with a base ball pitcher, who hopes to break into the big league and so earn enough to support a wife. Her mother is ambitious, unscrupulous, and sufficiently set on her plan to capture the rich man to break with her church. The situation progresses along these lines to the incident of the broken rosary, which is interpreted as the intervention of heaven to forbid the bans, and the end comes very naturally.

The comedy is notable for the presence of Mr. Gerard in the role of a priest, who plays his part and reads his lines with force and dignity, showing both a proper respect for religion and a due regard for the human emotions. Ruth Melrose is very good as the sister of the bride to be, her part giving her a chance to be natural. A privilege denied Helen Forrester in the heroine's character. Mr. Ellis gets away with the work set for the young pitcher in first class style. Few of the popular plays presented at the Boyd received more spontaneous and continuous applause than was bestowed on this by the large audience last night. It runs all week, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

FLASHES from FILMLAND PHOTO-PLAY OFFERINGS FOR TODAY

"VIRTUOUS WIVES" showing Anita Stewart for the first time heading her own company, is the attraction at the Riata theater. It is built upon the theme of a man willing to work day and night to make money and in making money neglects his wife until she is forced to seek other men's company for companionship. A word of scandal reaches the ears of the husband on a mining trip to Colorado and he rushes back to find his home filled with people dressed in the skins of animals, the latest fad to relieve boredom. The husband and wife have words and he gives her one hour to choose between his life and hers. Walking on the dock the wife sees the child of her husband's employer in danger on the lake and risks her life to save him. Meanwhile the husband, thinking she has chosen society life, takes a train back to the mine. She follows and they make up their differences in a western mining camp.

The Strand offers a double feature bill in Dorothy Dalton in an emotional drama, "Quicksand," and Fatty Arbuckle in "Camping Out," his latest riot of fun. Miss Dalton takes the part of a young wife whose husband is falsely accused of forgery and in order to clear him she becomes a cabaret singer and lures the man who committed the crime into a confession. All the trials and joys of outdoor life are cleverly brought out in Arbuckle's latest piece of fun. The big comedian is at his best and it is a scream to see him do his own cooking, sew on buttons and live a wild, carefree life—until the girls come along.

From a scenic standpoint "Infatuation" is an eye-opener to Omaha audiences, particularly in those scenes where the director "borrowed" the Casino theater, Paris, lock, stock and barrel—not only the stage, the actors, the chorus, the principals and the entire show, but also a first night audience. In "Infatuation" is seen on the screen one of the biggest scenes from "Everything" in the New York Hippodrome 1918 attraction, as that scene was originally produced in Paris at the Casino theater. "Infatuation" will be the attraction at the Brandeis theater all this week excepting Thursday night, January 16. Baby Marie Osborne appears in person at three performances today and Tuesday.

Omaha kiddies are all on edge today for at 1:35 p. m. Baby Marie Osborne, famous six-year-old motion picture star is due to arrive here for a two day's visit. Coincident with her coming there is being presented "Dolly's Vacation" with her as the star at the Sun theater, a laughing fantasy of childish pranks and with a human interest in the story. Benson & Thorne has arranged for a reception to the children of Omaha at their store and little Miss Osborne will be there between 3:30 and 4:30 p. m. today. All the children of the city are invited to be present. The reception will be held on the second floor of the store. Accompanying the star is her father, who is also her manager.

Tom Moore, who is appearing at the Muse this week in "Go West, Young Man" has taken to the west himself. He and Frank Chance, the veteran first baseman are working together to build up an orange grove for Moore. Chance has been on the coast some years and has one of the finest orange groves in California.

Bessie Love was in the midst of her latest photoplay and a "extra" was sadly needed. None was to be found. So W. S. Smith, manager of the studios of the west coast piled into costume, turned off the camera and now is trying to get his firm to sign him as an actor.

Neim's SELF-REDUCING CORSETS CREATE A TRIM NEW FIGURE for the Stout Woman THE SELF-REDUCING CORSET has earned the indelible reputation of having saved the stout woman from ridicule and despair. It has given her a perfectly proportional, symmetrical figure, which is so greatly admired, that she is now the envy of her slender sisters. The Self-Reducing Corset accomplished this by furnishing for over one quarter of a century a hygienic style service which gradually has reshaped and reduced the size and weight of the stout woman's figure, relieving her from weakness which are the result of excessive fat and bulk. Their durability makes them a truly economic investment, because they wear twice as long as corsets of other makes. Prices $4.00, $5.00, $6.00 and $7.00

"A Day at the Race Track," featuring Galletti's monks is the headline attraction at the Empress theater this week. The monks give a clever exhibition. The harmony of the Dublin Girls, Irish singers proves pleasing. "Timely Topics" is a clever comedy selection by Irving and Ward. DeWinters and Rose are dancers of no mean ability and have an entertaining offering.

"Fan Fan" is the movie offering. The settings are in the wondrous gardens and villages of Japan and the entire film is intensely interesting. The theme is taken from the William Fox extravaganza of the same name. Any show with Raymond Hitchcock as the central figure is sure of popular attention. The second edition of his now famous "Hitchy-Koo" will spread its frolics of light-hearted gaiety, music and dance at the Brandeis theater for three days starting next Sunday night, January 19. Those who know the trend of the crowds toward theater attractions will get seats, which are now on sale in advance.

Boy Sleuth Asks Aid of "Cop" to Recover Stolen Sled Walter Haney, 1320 Washington street, age 12, parked his sled in front of the Magic movie theater and went in to see the show. It was a new sled, a Christmas present, resplendent in bright colors.

When the show was over Walter came out and looked about for the cherished sled. In its place was a worn, shabby, two-runner vehicle, bereft of all sign of paint. Walter stared with wide eyes, gulped several times to down his despair, and started home, dragging the disreputable substitute at his heels.

This happened a week ago. Yesterday Walter appeared at the South Side police station. "I've got the man," he announced calmly to the captain. "All I need now is a cop to help. He's bigger than I am."

Then he told the captain about losing his sled. "I've been hunting for my man ever since he traded with me. I found him coasting today. He can have his old sled back if he wants it but I want mine."

The "cop" was furnished to help Walter retrieve his property.

Doctors and Attorneys Did Nobly, Says Draft Board Head J. J. Breen, chairman of the South Side draft board, is preparing a list of the South Side attorneys and medical men who aided the board in the registration of men.

"The South Side doctors did nobly," said Mr. Breen. "And the South Side attorneys responded to our urgent need almost to a man. Many north side attorneys also aided us. I believe there should be some token given for their services."

Mr. Breen calls attention to the fact that out of approximately 1,600 soldiers sent from the South Side there have been only six fatalities.
