

ENGINEERS WERE ROAD BREAKERS FOR U. S. ARMY

Lieut. H. H. Tracy, Former Norfolk, Neb., City Engineer, Relates Experiences "Over There."

H. H. Tracy, city engineer, Norfolk, Neb., is first lieutenant of the Engineer Wagon Company A, Twenty-third United States Engineers...

"We arrived at Brest on the George Washington on April 1; twenty-seven companies, nearly 5,000 men, 1,500 horses, 300 dump-trucks and combat wagons...

"Part of our regiment took part in the St. Mihiel drive early in September and made quite a reputation. Later the entire outfit was assigned to the first army and assembled along the front between Verdun and St. Meuse..."

"Our regiments formed the road service of the first army. Our duties were to build, rebuild, repair wagons and maintain all highways in the whole sector, starting at the rail-heads and keeping in continuous touch with the ever-advancing front lines..."

"It took the Yanks only six weeks to run every Hun out of this sector. This sector was the key to their main defense and when their center was driven in here, the whole line crumbled..."

In Hun Dogouts. We were in abandoned Hun dogouts all through the offensive, but are now in tents. The waste and ruin is appalling...

"We have all been greatly encouraged and cheered by the backing up financially and morally we have had from the folks at home and we sure appreciate it. That is the greatest result of the war to my mind: the growing together and welding of the whole American nation..."

"There is a stronger bond of fellowship between the French and Americans today, than between any other two nations. They have taught us economy and we have taught them efficiency, also some modern stuff which they needed, as in many ways they were 100 years behind us..."

How's This? Corns Lift Out With Fingers--No Pain!

Thanks to a new discovery made from a Japanese product your foot troubles can be quickly ended. Ice-Mint, as this new preparation is called, is said to shrivel up hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes so that they can be lifted out easily with the fingers...

WINSIDE WOMAN COULD NOT OPEN AND CLOSE HANDS Mrs. Dimmel Suffered Agony With Rheumatism; Tanlac Brings Relief.

"When I first wrote to Sherman & McConnell Drug Co., at Omaha, to send me some Tanlac, I had no idea that three bottles would relieve my wife of all her suffering, but it is true just the same..."

A Single Application Banishes Every Hair

Here is how any woman can easily and quickly remove objectionable, hairy growths without possible injury to the skin. Make a paste with some powdered salicylic acid and water, apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone...
