

DR. LOWE TALKS TO GRADUATES OF CENTRAL HIGH

Necessary That Young Students Going Out Into World Be Sound of Mind and Body.

"Every man and woman worth his or her salt is a fighter," declared the Rev. Titus Lowe in delivering the baccalaureate sermon to the mid-winter graduates of the Central high school, at the First Methodist church Sunday morning.

The subject chosen by Rev. Mr. Lowe was "Life At Its Best," and he used as a text the 26th verse of the 9th chapter of Paul's letter to the Corinthians, "So fight it not as one that beaeth the air."

Refers to Labor Conditions. He referred to present day conditions in Russia, Germany, Austria as well as France, Great Britain and the United States referring particularly to the labor convention in Chicago a few days ago at which men hissed the American flag.

The plea for happiness, is the plea of a weakling," said Reverend Lowe, "It is not the main thing in your life, and I want to serve notice on you, if any of you set out to obtain happiness as the sole object of your life, you will not get it."

Ten New York Firemen Fall into Blazing Building

"VIRTUOUS WIVES"

(Copyright, 1918, by Little, Brown & Co.)

CHAPTER I. It lacked a few minutes to 7 by the gilded clock in the brilliant yellow salon of the Forresters' apartment on the tenth floor of one of those great stone bastions which a society in retreat has erected to stem the march of the invader.

"Well, Gregory, what's the weather?" he cried, with the vigor of a man of strong health who wakes with alacrity to the enthusiasms of the day.

But on the present morning, to his growing astonishment, when he had offered the gray woolen riding shirt, instead of the customary snap and celerity, he perceived a look of abstraction on the still young face of his master—a face which, despite its first impression of agreeable ugliness, had a contagious radiance of success, confidence and decision.

"Beg pardon, sir—your stock." "What? Oh, yes." He took the stock tied to his chest, and slipping into his riding coat, started for the door.

SEMI-PRECIOUS STONES FOUND NEAR HUMBOLDT

Bank Cashier and Earmer Find New Way of Adding to Incomes; Omaha Men Investigate.

John T. Cox, cashier of the bank at Howe, and Sam Hughes, a farmer living between Humboldt and Auburn, Neb., are adding a pretty penny to their incomes by finding and marketing native gem stones.

Fine specimens of yellow topaz, tourmaline, cairngorms, bloodstone quartz and the peculiar red topaz known as Brazilian ruby are found in abundance in certain districts in the southwestern part of the state.

Found After Rain. Mr. Cox and Mr. Hughes search in the fields plowed by the farmers on gravelly hill sides and in road-side gullies and washes after hard rains, and have gathered large quantities of the various kinds of stones.

The success of these men has attracted the attention of Omaha business men to the possibilities of mining semi-precious stones in Nebraska and turning them into jewelry.

Y. M. C. A. WORKER DENIES CHARGES OF EXTORTION

Harry Trimble Swears, So Far as He Knows, Organization Overcharged No Man in Trenches.

"I swear that as far as I know the Y. M. C. A. overcharged no man," said Harry Trimble, returned Y. M. C. A. worker, in refuting charges of extortion in the organization at the First Christian church last evening.

"I swear that as far as I know the Y. M. C. A. overcharged no man," said Harry Trimble, returned Y. M. C. A. worker, in refuting charges of extortion in the organization at the First Christian church last evening.

Other problems were clamoring for immediate adjustment. This violent racing half hour was indeed not a relaxation, but the beginning of his working day.

Mr. Trimble pictured a Y. M. C. A. hut close to the front line trenches. It was generally built among the ruins of some old French chateau. The cellar would be made habitable and a roof placed over it.

"I'LL PRAISE IT THE LONGEST DAY LIVE," SHE SAYS

Mrs. Robbins Restored by Tanlac After Suffering Thirty Years.

"Talking about things that help people," said Mrs. P. H. Robbins of 1449 South 14th street, Omaha, Neb., in an interview, recently, "Tanalac is doing more good than any medicine I have ever known in my time, and I'm now past 60 years of age."

"In 1889, nearly thirty years ago now," she continued, "when I was first taken along and so many people were having it, I had an attack of it myself and had had it in some form or other from once to twice a year ever since. The first spell left me in a badly weakened condition and I would no longer recover from one attack than I would be pulled down again. The doctors at that time called it 'rheumatic grippe' and I had aches and pains all through my body, in all my limbs and muscles. Three years ago I had one of these spells, which was so severe that they took me to the hospital, and I nearly died. I had the worst headaches it seems anyone could have and I was badly run down and frightfully weak. I couldn't sleep well for all these thirty years. My appetite was poor, I lost twenty pounds in weight and just had to drag myself around. I was hardly ever without some kind of an ache or pain, and the past spring I was in such a bad fix that we couldn't keep house, so I went to my daughter's. My husband went to boarding and when I boarded he heard of a remarkable case like mine, that had been relieved by Tanlac.

Then he went straight to Sherman & McConnell's drug store and got two bottles, one for me and one for myself, as he was in very bad health, too. Well, I showed some improvement on the first bottle and kept on getting better slowly. My appetite came back a little each day. My aches and pains wore away and I got to sleeping better. When we would see one bottle getting low we would hurry to get another and since I finished my sixth bottle I'm feeling better and more like myself than I have in years. With all the sickness and 'grippe' epidemic that's going over the country, I'm feeling stronger and better than I ever did. We are keeping house again now, and I eat well, sleep well, do all my housework and feel fine all the time. I am taking Tanlac with the Tanlac Tablets again now to keep in shape for the winter. It certainly is a blessing to humanity and has done so much for my husband and me that I will praise it the longest day I live."

Tanalac is sold in Omaha by all Sherman & McConnell Drug Company's stores, Harvard Pharmacy and West End Pharmacy under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative. Also Forrest and Meany Drug Company in South Omaha and the leading druggist in each city and town throughout the state of Nebraska.—Adv.
