Prospects for Coming Year's Action Depend on Volume of Business, Says Rail Head.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Director General Hines said today there was no foundation for reports that the railroad administration was giving consideration "to any increase in present basis of rates."

Omaha Women Are Stirred By the Disclosures of Vice Conditions Existing in City

Four Meetings Have Already Been Arranged to Discuss Questions Now Being Probed by the Police and Health Departments; State Wide Campaign Is Under Way.

Women of Omaha are stirred by the disclosures of vice conditions in Omaha made by The Bee.

They are marshalling forces to create a public sentiment which will stand behind city, state and government attempts to lessen the evil.

Four meetings have already been arranged to discuss the matter within the next fortnight. They are:

A private meeting social workers Monday night.

An executive meeting of Douglas county W. C. T. U. Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the Y. W. C. A.

Omaha woman's club, political and social science department program on "Social Hygiene," Monday, January 27, 2:30 p. m. in the Y. W. C. A.

Douglas county W. C. T. U. institute, February 1, in the Y. W. C. A.

Social conditions will also form the chief topic of discussion at the Nebraska charities and corrections conference to be held in Lincoln, February 2-4, according to Mrs. Draper Smith. Proposed legislation will be discussed.

Campaign State Wide.

"A state-wide campaign against the social evil is now being outlined by the Nebraska W. C. T. U. now that prohibition is won," said Dr. Jennie Callias.

"We can now get behind the movement to suppress vice and concentrate our energies on moral education," said Mrs. H. G. Claggett, Douglas county chairman.

"It is imperative that every member of the executive committee and every departmental superintendent should be present at the meeting Tuesday," said Mrs. J. A. Dalzell. Mrs. W. T. Graham, Mrs. H. N. Craig, Mrs. William Berry, Mrs. Mattson and Mrs. M. D. Vieno, are other welfare workers interested in Tuesday's meeting.

"To close the city detention hospital would certainly be a backward step," said Mrs. Claggett. "The best way to treat fallen women is on a custodial farm, away from city influences. Lacking that, we women shall stand behind any remedial work that can be done, even if the hospital inmates should be moved to the new jail addition," said Mrs. Claggett.

Must Take Treatment.

"There will always be complaints from some of the patients whenever they are treated against their will, but treated they must be, even against their will, for they are menaces to the public health."

"Something must be done. Right or wrong, we must act according to our best judgment," said Mrs. Draper Smith, leader of the program on social hygiene for the Woman's club, one week from Monday.

All angles of the local situation, bills pending in the legislature, and government attempts to handle the situation, will be discussed. Dr. Robert Leavens of the Unitarian church, will talk on the local condition. Outside speakers, possibly from Lincoln, will discuss other phases.

"We need action," said Mrs. Smith. "We can't afford to waste a lot of time merely to discuss the matter. Those women must be cared for, and the state or city must take the necessary steps, or legislation, to do it. Organization of women, without funds, can do nothing."

"It isn't surprising that we laymen don't know what to do when medical men, themselves, do not agree any more than they did in the 'flu' situation," said Mrs. Smith.

Charities Endorse Work.

At a meeting of the advisory committee of the Associates Charities composed of representative social workers of our city, held Thursday noon at the Chamber of Commerce, after an address by Dr. Palmer Findley, medical director of the Detention home, the following resolution was unanimously adopted.

"Resolved that we, the social workers of Omaha, heartily endorse the work of the Detention home in the care and cure of unfortunate women who there receive treatment for diseases that are not only harmful to themselves but of the gravest menace to the community and society as a whole. We bespeak for this institution the fullest measure of public sympathy and moral support, not merely as a war measure,

Benny Leonard Outpoints Johnny Dundee in Newark

Newark, N. J., Jan. 20.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, had no difficulty in outpointing Johnny Dundee of New York in an eight round bout at the First Regiment armory here tonight. The contestants weighed in at noon, Leonard tipping the scales at 134½ pounds and Dundee at 130.

"With the exception of the first and second rounds which went to Dundee on aggressiveness, the champion led throughout, landing the more effective blows. Dundee was willing at all times but Leonard was too fast. In the final round Dundee was turned completely around by a hard left to the head. Dundee's face was marked when the bout ended.
