Rourke Attempts to Arrange Consolidation Between St. Paul and Minneapolis Without Success.

"Money was no object with American league owners," said W. A. Rourke, owner of the Omaha Western league franchise, on his return from New York. "The A. A. clubs are not for sale at any price if you want to move them from their present locations. I tried every possible way to bring a franchise to Omaha, but it is impossible." Mr. Rourke said as a final attempt to secure a franchise for Omaha he tried to arrange a consolidation of the St. Paul and Minneapolis teams but the owners would not agree. All expect to see the biggest season in history in the minor leagues and were unwilling to sell.

"Pa" is optimistic about the outlook for the Western next season.

With Oklahoma City and Tulsa in the league he looks for better ball than ever. The southern clubs are planning to hold their franchise per-first class grounds and expect to spend about $40,000 apiece to enter and rivalry should be keen.

While in the east arrangements were made with "Bill Bailey" Veeck

by "Pa" to have the Chicago Cubs stop off for a series of games on their return from the Pacific coast where they will do their spring

PLATTE VALLEY HAMPSHIRE BRED SOW SALE,

NORTH BEND, NEB.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1919.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I am announcing my first Platte Val-ley Brod Sow Hampshire sale. I wish to express my appreciation to the friends and customers who have patronized his in the past five years through shall or-ders. It is my intention to consign a class of stock that will please and satis-ty the purchaser, produce big litters and be a credit to the breed. The Hampshire box is a great rustler.

Shesp—Receipts were light, 26 leads estimated at £,000 head. Yesterday's extreme close was faily stendy with the best lime of the day tops reaching $15.95. While the market was a little draggy today, and nurchases confined to few sales, prices looked fully steady with yesterday's general market. Heat sales being reported from $15.50@15.65 with handy weight hambs quotable at $16.00. Sheep are generally steady.

Quotations on sheep: Lambs, good to choice, $15.00@15.75; jamb feeders, $15.00@15.75; yearlings, good to choice, $12.00@15.75; be a credit to the breed.

The Hampshire has is a great runtler. With good aifalfa pasture they will not need much corn to carry them through the summer. Then in the fall turn them into a corn field with aifalfa pasture to run in and you will grow pork cheaply and of the best possible kind, which the Hampshires have proven at the 1815 international show. With all these things in mind, I take pleasure in thanking you in advance for giving attention to this, my first public sale, and for your attendance and purchases. Send for catalogue to John Joseph McGuire and wf. to Ellaseth Benash, s. w. cor. 60th and Mami sta. 50x128.
