

BROODING OVER WIFE'S DEATH, TRIES SUICIDE

George Jaffe Cuts Throat With Razor; Wife Died of Flu; Seven Children Also Afflicted.

Brooding over the death of his wife, which required the sending of his seven children to homes, is said by friends to be the cause for an attempt made on his life by George Jaffe, 3015 T street, Wednesday afternoon.

Since his home life was broken by the influenza, Jaffe has been living at the home of his sister. He was shaving yesterday when his sister left the house for a moment. She returned to find him near death with his throat cut. He was taken to the South Side hospital, where his injuries were attended by Dr. R. E. Shindel. He is in a serious condition, but is expected to recover.

The seven children were all stricken with influenza, and after all had been nursed back to health the mother was taken sick and weakened by her long vigil with the children, she died six weeks ago. The children were sent to homes for care. Since that time Jaffe has constantly been worried over the death of his wife and the absence of his children.

At Least 1,000 Omaha Families Are Eager to Provide for Little Girl

There are at least 1,000 homes in Omaha where a little 4-year-old girl would be a welcome guest, judging by the number of requests the welfare board received for such a little girl in response to an appeal published in the papers Wednesday.

"It seemed as though everybody wanted to have a little fairy in their home," said Miss Bess Monsky of the welfare board. "We counted 23 telephone calls on the subject in one hour, and they are still coming in."

The little girl was placed in a nice private home Wednesday afternoon by her father.

A number of those who were disappointed left their names and addresses and telephone numbers with the welfare board with the injunction to be sure and call them up if any more little girls are looking for homes.

One Hundred and Costs for Having Booze in Possession

The first "booze" arrest made in Omaha by Gus Hyers, chief of the state constabulary, resulted in a fine of J. W. Donald, $100 and costs for the possession of liquor in police court yesterday.

McDonald was arrested at the Union station as he alighted from a Kansas City train Saturday night. Two grips containing 46 pints of whisky was the evidence in the case. McDonald will appeal his case to the district court.

Asks Big Damages from Being Hit by Street Car

John F. Mercer has brought a damage action against the street railway company for $60,750.

He alleges that on August 5, 1918, he was struck by a street car at Tenth and Pierce streets and that the accident was due to carelessness of the company's employes.

Mercer states that he suffered permanent injuries.

Why Shorter Hours Pay

Dr. Shepherd, manager of the Bailey Dental Co., tells why this organization works such short hours and doesn't open offices on Sunday.

He says it's detail in the work that makes a dental operation successful, that lack of detail causes failure. If a dentist puts in long hours at the chair, his nerves are not in as good a condition as if he worked short hours at the chair and devoted more time to recreation away from business.

He believes that eight hours' work, eight hours' sleep and eight hours for recreation and pleasure, makes a dentist do better work. And adds that specialists will not work like ordinary dentists; that the more skilled the help, the less hours they will work, because their worth is figured by their skill and not by the length of their working day.

CUT YOUR SHOE BILLS WITH NEOLIN SOLES

"The answer to the problem of shoe wear lies in the use of Neolin Soles," says H. L. Evans of Steubenville, Ohio.

"For five months," says Mr. Evans, "I have been wearing the same pair of Neolin-soled shoes at my work at the La Belle Iron Works and they are good for two months more wear. As my work takes me to all parts of the mill daily where I have to walk over cinders, slag, etc., it is simply out of the question to buy anything else to take the place of Neolin Soles."

You too—and your whole family—will find Neolin-soled shoes wear long and so save money. You can get them in the styles you like at almost any good shoe store. And any repairman will re-sole your worn shoes with Neolin Soles—scientifically made to be durable, comfortable and waterproof. They are made by The Goodwear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Hosiery—guaranteed to outwear any other hosiery.

Near East Relief Aid Committee Asks for Donations by Check

An appeal to save Douglas county from the stain of failure to go over the top in the drive for relief in the Near East was issued yesterday by the local committee in the form of a call to donate checks, direct to State Treasurer John C. Wharton, 818 Omaha National Bank building.

"While some of our teams are doing splendidly, we realize it will be impossible for us to see everybody in Omaha," said Chairman Sykes of the Omaha campaign committee. "We hear repeatedly of people, some of them prominent, who have not contributed because they are awaiting the solicitors. Some of these people will give large contributions. Their help is needed at once if Omaha is to go over the top this week. We urge them to send their checks direct."

"Omaha is now not more than half way to its goal of $53,000, according to returns at hand. Not half of the people in the city have been solicited."

Organizations of various kinds can give; they can put on special events and raise money for this cause. All such contributions are heartily solicited.

Wood Lake Defense Body Sends Check for Relief Fund

Lack of advertising is hampering the work of raising the $53,000 for the Armenian relief in Douglas county, is the belief of Miss Cassie Kiley, one of the captains of the campaign.

Miss Kiley has just received a check for $83 from the Wood Lake Neb., Council of Defense to help in the drive along. The people in that part of the state were in ignorance of the drive, it is stated. No literature concerning the drive had previously been sent to them.

SOLDIERS SELL BOOKS TELLING OF 'OVER THERE'

Sale of Books to Swell Recreation Fund to Show the Boys a Good Time.

The boys of the 127th Field artillery are so glad to be back home that they want to see some of the town and have some fun at home before they have to go back to work. They didn't save any great amount of money out of their soldier's pay and many of them would ordinarily have to go right back to work.

To prevent this condition of affairs, when the men came back to Omaha Jack Barry "beat drill" one morning in Camp Dodge and went to the Y. M. C. A. and wrote a short story of their experiences "over there." His companions thought so well of his efforts that they have had the story published in book form and it will be on sale when you get down town this morning.

Entitled "Over There."

When you meet one of the boys from "over there" and he offers you one of the books, dig down and buy it. The book is entitled "Over There" and contains a short story of the real experiences of the 127th field artillery in France and in going home. Just remember that these boys are the lads that offered their lives for you and they are trying to make up a "recreation" fund so they may enjoy themselves for a short time before they return to their several vocations.

The writer of the book, Jack Barry, gave up a profitable grocery business to join the old Fourth Nebraska and get into the fight for world freedom and many others among the "outfit" gave up good positions to go "get" the Hunns. They offered all they had, their very lives, and a few expected to return to this grand old place at all. Now they have come back, whole and strong, they want to enjoy that good health they still have, when they didn't expect to ever be able to have such fun again. They ask you, the people of Omaha, to help them have that fun.

Dig in and Buy.

You can do that, and still get the worth of your money by investing in one of these little books. You won't miss the little bit it will cost you, but every one of those little bits will help the boys build their "recreation fund." The volume will please you. It is very nicely arranged. The story is short and sweet, to those especially that have husbands, sons or sweethearts over the water. In this story they may read of some of their own relatives' or friends' experiences.

It's great, and buying one of the books is little enough to show your appreciation of the sacrifice these lads offered to make for you and yours.

Miss Cecile Hanna, York.

Bill room clerk, H. C. Eulis Lincoln.

Seattle Unions Are to Vote on Calling General Strike

Seattle, Jan. 23.—All labor organizations in Seattle affiliated with the Central Labor council will be asked at once to take a referendum vote on the question of whether or not to call a general strike in sympathy with the 35,000 metal trades workers now out in Washington ship yards. The labor council voted to ask the referendum after delegates from the Metal Trades council requested the general endorsement of their strike by organized labor.

Trained Supervisors for the Public Playgrounds

Use of the school grounds for supervised play in some of the more congested districts of the city has been requested by Park Commissioner Falconer and Recreation Director Isaacson. "We propose to put a trained supervisor on each playground," said Mr. Isaacson.

FATHER AND HIS 3 SONS SERVED IN THREE WARS

Youngest Boy Drove Ambulance in France 18 Months; Oldest Son Spanish-American, Father Civil War.

There are few families in this country that can boast of so high a record of service to their country as the Goldsberry family, 846 Georgia avenue.

The father, Adamson N. Goldsberry, is a veteran of the Civil War. He was a member of the famous Thirty-fifth Iowa infantry which aided in the capture of Vicksburg, which distinguished itself in the campaign following the capture of the stronghold.

The honor of the family was maintained by Garrison B. Goldsberry in the Spanish-American war and in the Philippine campaign. For four and a half years he served in the Fifteenth United States cavalry.

When the great world war came it remained for 18-year-old Oliver Goldsberry to maintain the high traditions of his family. He enlisted in June 1917, and has already spent over 18 months in France driving a supply car.

In a letter to his father he recounts some of his experiences.

"I have not been guilty of doing anything for several weeks, in fact ever since the armistice was signed."

"I have been at Montauban for over a week and have had nothing to do but eat, sleep and keep clean. Talking about keeping clean it certainly feels strange to be able to read a letter or write one, or to do anything without having to stop, reach down your shirt and capture one or more dead little cooties. They certainly are ambitious little devils."

"I have not killed four or five Hunns single handed and neither have I ever been cited for gallantry in action. The only thing I have done in this war is to drive my car for 18 months over roads old Fritz was tearing up with shell fire and yet I have done nothing more than my duty."

Special Rates Continue.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Special rates on foodstuffs to drought and storm-ridden sections of the south-west were ordered extended today by the railroad administration from January 25 to March 1.

What It Showed

Last Week the Leading Newspapers of Omaha and Lincoln Published the Financial Statement of Home Builders, a Financial and Building Corporation of Large Resources. In Some Respects the Statement Was Remarkable.

It showed that Home Builders, Inc., of Omaha, had enjoyed constant growth since its organization in 1911. During the last five years the percentage of growth was 825%.

It showed that Home Builders has done its full share in the work of promoting the material growth of Omaha; that it had been busy throughout the war period in the construction of buildings, which, directly or indirectly, were used in furtherance of war activities. One large contract covered a building for the U. S. government.

It showed that Home Builders, during 1918, maintained its average annual increase in assets, despite the war, the total at the end of the year being $1,156,113.31.

It showed that Home Builders owns mortgages on improved Omaha Real Estate, amounting to $892,208.28; surplus fund, $72,753.65; reserve fund, $18,487.28; cash resources, $52,946.75.

It showed a constant growth in popular confidence in Home Builders' Shares as a safe investment for surplus funds. These shares are secured by mortgages upon newly-improved Omaha Real Estate, as Home Builders never financed a building erected outside of Omaha.

Home Builders' preferred shares yield 6%, payable semiannually, are tax free in Nebraska and exempt from the normal federal income tax. Par value, $1—they may be had in any number up to $5,000, by mail or in person. They are equivalent to a 7% investment when the investor pays the taxes.

The number of investors in Home Builders' shares is constantly growing. They represent 22 states. They order shares by mail with the same facility enjoyed by those who call at the office.

Funds thus received by Home Builders' are advanced to owners in Omaha who borrow for the purpose of improving their properties which are pledged to secure the loans. Mortgages covering these loans yield a large annual revenue.

Home Builders advances money only in cases where it constructs the buildings and receives a builder's profit.

Home Builders supplies an active public demand. Work in hand will cost half a million dollars.

Home Builders' shares are safe and profitable. Ask for our literature.
