

U. S. DOUGHBOYS "PUT ONE OVER" ON LLOYD GEORGE

British Premier Dodges One Motion Picture Machine While Another is Shooting Many Poses.

By JAY JEROME WILLIAMS. Staff Correspondent of Universal Service.

(Special Cable Dispatch.) Paris, Jan. 23.—The peace conference has been under way only a few days but Lloyd George has had one "put over on him." It happened in this manner:

Two American doughboys attached to the signal corps had been assigned for historical purposes to take moving pictures of the statesmen as they were departing from the Quai D'Orsay.

Today the little British premier came out of the door in double quick time. He looked as though nothing could stop him and the photographers threw up their hands in despair. As a last chance, however, one of them placed himself directly in the prime minister's way and said:

"Mr. Lloyd George, just a minute. Look at that camera over there. I took that away from a German officer at the front. I had to kill him to do it."

"Is that so?" asked the British premier, swinging around and giving the camera a quizzical look. In the meantime the other accomplice in the scheme ground away photographing the English statesman in a choice lot of poses and using 40 feet of film.

"All right," the second soldier announced. "We've got him in every pose under the sun."

Lloyd George turned quickly to the first doughboy and said: "Young man, you certainly put one over on me."

PRESIDENT MADE GOOD PROMISES TO ALL RUSSIA

Peace Congress Adopts Wilson Declaration That World Will Extend Hand of Friendship to Russians.

By JAMES J. MONTAGUE. (Special Cable Dispatch.) Paris, Jan. 23.—President Wilson has made good his promise to stand by the Russian people. The adoption of his proposal by the peace conference today is proof of the sincerity of his often repeated declaration that the world should extend the hand of friendship to the Russian people and assist them in working out their salvation.

This new policy indicates that the first hurdle in the Russian problem has been taken and points to the ultimate withdrawal of the allies and American troops from Russia.

Meet on Princes Island.
Of course, this depends upon the manner in which the proposal of the associated powers is received by the different Russian factions. With the internal conditions of Russia in a terrible chaotic state, it is believed that rather than face a continuation of starvation, bloodshed and strife throughout the winter, the Russian factions will sink their differences to the extent of meeting the representatives of the great powers in conference. Such a meeting is proposed to be held on Princes Island in the Sea of Marmora, February 15.

Recognition of the right of the Russians to determine the settlement of their own internal affairs is taken as an indication that all the powers are agreed upon the Wilsonian principle of the right of peoples to determine their own fate.

Recognize Finland.
As for Finland, it is expected that that nation is soon to be recognized by the allies and the United States.

In the event that the leaders of the different factions in Russia agree an effort will be made to bring about a truce in the strife-torn Muscovite realm. Success of that plan would mean that peace would again come to the world, for Russia is today the last battlefield.

Identifies Himself.
Wichita, Kan., Jan. 23.—Lt. Robert Hamilton, 921 Grant avenue, Denver, who had been in a hospital here since last Friday night in a semi-conscious condition, last night recovered sufficiently to identify himself. He was rendered unconscious by a fall to the pavement, en route to a rest camp.

It is not a question of giving these people three meals a day such as you enjoy, but of giving them sufficient to sustain life—just life, so that in a little while they may be rehabilitated, to become a nation to whom money can be lent that they will repay in due time with interest.
