"Pop" Geers in Disguise! STATE LEAGUE Uses Pipe Camouflage

Noted Turf Driver Abandons Inseparable Cigar While He is Training Stable on Memphis Track.

By H. K. WHITTED.

Mystery is lurking around the track at Memphis, Tenn., these days; deep, mysters which no one seems able to solve. The accompanying photograph will give the reason: Pop Geers has taken to smoking a pipe. Many theories have been advanced as to why he has forsaken cigars, but "The Grand Old Man" smiles and refuses to enlighten the curious.

Working or loafing, his cigar was always with him, and some enterprising turf writers have gone so far as to intimate that he slept with one in his mouth. Many of his hardest races have been won with a cigar clamped solidly in his teeth Birthday Yesterday.

Mr. Geers passed his 69th birthday yesterday, January, 25. While perhaps not the oldest driver in the driver on the Grand Circuit and indications now are that he will be on pand when the bell rings at North Randall next year, with as good in not better stable than he had the he country has been in morimashes than he, and early in 191 he news that he had been killed when his mount ran into a track has row at Columbus, caused the turi world to mourn his death for a day or so, until the news was repudiated Only those who are personally ac-quainted with "The Grand Old Man" can understand just how that name

Race fans who have been looking forward to a harness meeting or series of meetings in Omaha this year are dommed to disappointment, for the Omaha Driving club has announced that no attempt will made to put on a meeting this summer. Three years ago, when the lub was revived, great things were promised. An early June meeting was held that year, and another in the Great Western circuit later in the summer. Last year an early meeting was held, but no late meet ing was attempted. With Lincoln out of the Iowa-Nebraska-South Dakota circuit, it was hoped that Omaha and the Capitol City could get together and form some sort of a circuit, taking in possibly Nebraska City, Beatrice and Grand Island, but evidently Omaha people do no grow past have lost the promoters money.

Nebraska Circuit May Be Re-Organized After Going Three Years Without the National Pastime.

A reorganization of the Nebraska State league is being agitated by base ball fans in Beatrice, A strong sentiment has developed in with favor in many of the cities. Following a meeting in Beatrice plans were made to call a meeting of interested individuals in other cities in the state to try and complete arrangements. Fremont, Nor-folk, Hastings, Columbus, Grand Island and possibly Fairbury are mentioned as cities in which fran-

CENTRAL HIGH 36, SIOUX CITY 17.

Local Floor: Keen Eye

Playing an easy game Central High's basket ball team trounced the Sioux City High five, 36 to 17, last night on the Young Men's Christian association floor. The game was the first of Central's home schedule and the only one in which Coach Mulligan has been able to start all five of his first team players,

Although honors for piling up counters were pretty evenly divid-ed, Logan and Konecky played the best game for Central. Paynter and Burnham also showed up well in shooting baskets. Clements, who made his initial appearance last night, played a fair game, but was outclassed by his mates. At no time did the visitors have prospects of victory. The local flippers took the lead early in the game, increasing it as the Sioux City defense seemed to weaken. The first half ended 22 to 7. During the first 10 minutes of the second ate boxing bouts will be staged duhalf, the Soo flippers made but one field goal. Taking a sudden spurt later in the game, they boosted their tally to 17.

The presence of Paynter and Clements in the lineup forced Coach Mulligan to rearrange his men. Logan was shifted from center to guard, replacing Swoboda, while Paynter played in the pivot position. Clements was given a trial at forward in place of Mangold. With victory assured the first string was taken out and the subs given a chance at the Iowa cage crew, Lineup and summaries:
